Mourners Suggest Memorial For Rep. Miller At Seashore

RAIN POSTPONES WORLD SERIES

Yankee infielder Clete Boyer looks up at Yankee Stadium today in New York as rain put off the World Series fifth game until tomorrow. It will be played in New York with Jack Sanford pitching for the San Francisco Giants, and Ralph Terry for the Yanks. On Thursday there will be a day of travel. The sixth game will be played in San Francisco Friday and the seventh, if necessary, Saturday at San Francisco. Today's game was called off after a delay of 71 minutes. It was the first Series postponement since Oct. 4, 1956 when the second game of the New York Yankees-Brooklyn Dodger Series was washed out in Brooklyn. The present series is even with two games each for the Yankees and Giants. (AP Wirephoto)

Memorial Services Tomorrow

Memorial service for Rep. Clem Miller of Corte Madera, killed Sunday in an airplane crash in Humboldt County, will be held at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow in Bethlehem Chapel of the National Cathedral, Washington, D.C.

Graveside service will be held for the congressman in Marin County at 2 p.m. Saturday, but exact location of the services has not as yet been decided. It most likely will be adjoining Point Reyes.

Dr. Theodore A. Gill, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, will officiate at the service. Pall bearers will be members of the California congressional delegation, who will fly to Marin.

Grief Is Expressed At His Tragic Death

The possibility of naming the Point Reyes National Seashore in honor of Rep. Clem Miller was raised today as federal and state officials expressed their grief at the Corte Madera congressman's tragic death in an airplane crash.

Friends of Miller discussed possibility of establishing a memorial to him at the national seashore. Miller sponsored the House bill for creation of the park and was considered largely responsible for its passage. Possibility of naming the park in his honor was mentioned by Muriel Appenzeller, Democratic headquarters manager in San Rafael.

The Sierra Club, in telegrams to congressional leaders today signed by its president, Edgar Wayburn, urged appropriation of five million dollars to start national seashore land acquisition before Congress adjourns "as a memorial to the late Rep. Clem Miller."

The bodies of Miller, his pilot and the pilot's 13-year-old son were carried down from steep Chaparral Mountain east of Eureka late yesterday by Humboldt County sheriff's deputies.

The twin-engine Piper Apache, piloted by George Head, 41, of San Rafael, crashed into the mountainside side Sunday afternoon after apparently becoming lost in a storm. Miller was on his way from Santa Rosa to Crescent Ciyt for a campaign appearance at a dinner meeting.

Don Clausen, the Del Norte "flying supervisor" who is Republican candidate for Miller's seat in the House, flew into Crescent City just 15 minutes after Miller's plane was due.

"Parts of the plane were scattered over a wide area in dense forest," Sheriff William Pederson said today. "We found the bodies among the wreckage and spent nearly five hours bringing them down the mountain. It was very rugged and muddy country."

TO MORTUARY

Deputies arrived in Arcata with the crash victims yesterday at 4:30 p.m. The bodies were taken to Paul's Mortuary there.

The crash was to be investigated today by Civil Aeronautics Board officials from San Francisco. Pederson said his deputies would guide them to the crash site, about 30 miles northeast of Eureka on the Wiggins Ranch.

Wreckage of the plane was discovered by rancher Lloyd Gillespie yesterday while an extensive air and sea search was under way from Arcata to the Oregon border.

TO WASHINGTON

William Grader, field representative for Miller, flew ot Washington, D. C., today with Miller's oldest daughter, Amy, 16, who has been attending school in Arizona.

Mrs. Miller and the four daughters sat in the visitors' gallery of the House today as the business of that branch of Congress was suspended and congressmen spoke in praise of the departed member.

Nearly all the members who spoke today singled out the Point Reyes Seashore Park as Miller's greatest achievement during his four years in Congress, the Associated Press reported.

"It is a living monument to him," said Rep. J. T. Rutherford (D-Tex.), chairman of the subcommittee that handled the bill, that authorized the

Meredith Blasts Army For Negro Treatment; Aims Barb At NAACP

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — James H. Meredith, Negro student attending the University of Mississippi under federal guard, today criticized the Army and, by implacation, the officials of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

In an interview he sought, Meredith complained the Army had inflicted "a dishonor and a disgrace" on Negro soldiers by segregating troops brought to Oxford.

His other complaint was against what he called "this inflammatory claim" by some people that he had been "picked, selected or chosen by them to integrate the University of Mississippi."

The president of the Mississippi NAACP, Aaron Henry, was reported earlier as saying Meredith was selected from a list of candidates for the desegregation move. Meredith denied this.

"If it were true, I must admit that I would think their (student) opposition would be in some ways justified," Meredith said.

Meredith said, "I consider it of utmost importance that the persons who claim to be the Negro leaders would be individuals of unquestioned integrity and not make irresponsible statements to gain personal ends."

As for the military, Meredith said that during his first two days on the campus, "the military units looked like American units."

"Since that time the units have been re-segregated. Negros have been purged from their positions in the ranks," he said.

Meredith said that he complained to "the proper authorities" Thursday, and that the next day he was told the situation would be corrected.

Yesterday, he said, "Negro soldiers were indeed seen again among the soldiers. The ones I saw, however, were on a garbage detail truck and unarmed. The white members of the detail were armed. This condition constitutes a dishonor and a disgrace to the hundreds of thousands of Negros who wear the uniforms of our military services."

Asked whether he thinks the University has failed to discipline students who heckled him, Meredith replied:

"I don't know if the university is disciplining hecklers or not, and I am not seeking to find out."

Army Secretary Cyrus R. Vance ordered the withdrawal of another 5,900 regular troops who were moved into the Memphis, Tenn., and Columbus, Miss., areas during the crisis.

The troops are in addition to 5,400 who were ordered to begin moving back to home bases from the same areas at midnight last night. The new pullout was ordered to begin at midnight.

Neither order affected the

Civic Center Policy: Available To Public

Supervisor Peter Behr moved that the administration building be made available to any public group at any time. The other three supervisors present at once joined in 4-0 vote of support.

"People have been quite upset in thinking they are going to be barred," observed Chairman Walter R. Castro. He said major interest seemed to center on having the county library open at night.

Other supervisors indicated they'd been receiving phone and personal calls of complaint since Administrator Alan Bruce last week suggested discouragement of night meetings in the building. Supervisor George Ludy declared, "we've been severely criticized for not making the building available."

Bruce hastened to say that last week's statement had represented only a preliminary draft and that condensation by the press had made it seem more severe than intended. "We didn't mean to give an impression this was not a public building," he said.

"This year's library budget," he continued, "provides that the library be open Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. If the board so desires we can work with Mrs. (Virginia) Keating (county librarian) to have the library open evenings.

"There would have to be some increase in staff, but some staggering of hours of existing staff would be possible. We had planned to bring this in for the next budget but we can attempt it this year unless we run into an insoluble tax problem."

Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell suggested that his office work with the administrator and Mrs. Keating to "review the situation and see what can be squeezed out."

Supervisor Walliam D. Fusselman, arriving later, read a letter explaining his decision to "withdraw from the proceedings" of next Saturday's civic center dedication.

Sometimes, he said, things

Ex-Marine Goes On Trial For Slaying

Ex-Marine Claude Hilton Bradley, 22, of San Rafael went on trial for his life today, accused of the strangulation killing of Mrs. Carole Leona Frederick in her San Rafael apartment last June 3.

Selection of a jury started this morning before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety and defense lawyer Berwyn A. Rice quizzed each prospective juror closely as each was called to the jury box.

Mrs. Frederick, 29, estranged wife of a former San Rafael policeman, was found dead in her bedroom at 45 Woodland Avenue on the morning of June 3. Her three children slept through the night, unaware that their mother was dead.

Bradley, father of two, lived at 36 Woodland Avenue and knew the Frederick family. Bradley told investigators he did visit Mrs. Frederick that night, but he denies the murder charge.

Mountain Lion Is Reported

A large mountain lion is prowling the hills in Homestead Valley, a housewife reported to the sheriff at 10:30 a.m. today.

Sally Schiller of 22 Madrone Park Circle told Deputy Sheriff Theodore V. Hughes she was walking her dog near her home when she spotted a large mountain lion in the brush about 30 yards away. She said the animal snarled, then slunk away, looking back several times before disappearing into the timber.

CAUCUS THURSDAY BY DEMO LEADERS

Leaders of the First Congressional District will meet in caucus at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in Ukiah, to decide what steps to take following the death of Rep. Clem Miller of Corte Madera in Sunday's airplane crash.

Miller's Republican opponent, Dan Clausen of Crescent City, is withdrawing from campaigning temporarily out of respect to the late congressman.

Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Mill Valley and Norman Williamson of Ukiah, co-chairmen of the First District caucus, called the meeting in Ukiah's 101 Motel. The caucas is composed of Democratic county chairmen and other club and party leaders in the six counties of the district.

Peter Allen Smith, Marin County chairman, said "an emissary" would contact Mrs. Katharine Miller, the congressman's widow, to see if she would be available as a write-in candidate to succeed her husband. He would not say who the emissary would be.

A write-in campaign is one of the two choices the Democrats of the district face. The other is to work for Miller's election in spite of his death. His name will appear on the ballot Nov. 6 and if he polls the most votes, Gov. Edmund G. Brown will be required to call a special election to fill the vacancy.

The special election would be non-partisan with the victory going to the candidate polling the highest number of votes regardless of whether he had a majority. Any number of candidates could file for the office in such an election.

Robert Hill of Eureka, Clausen's First District chairman, announced Clausen's cancellation of all public appearances "for at least 10 days." After that time, Hill said, "Clausen will make appearances when it is deemed important to acquaint the voters with his qualifications for the office."

Clausen, who flew his own plane in the search for Miller's missing plane, "is distraught by the development and does not wish to continue his campaign in the same degree to which he has pursued it," Hill said.

"We are all greatly shocked and saddened by Mr. Miller's most untimely death," Hill declared, "and extend our deepest condolences to his family and to the Democratic Party for their great loss."

Police Issue Explosives Complaint

San Rafael police and fire departments issued a complaint today against the foreman of a construction company doing work at Marin Bay for failure to store dynamite in a magazine.

Two boys fore apart two sticks of the explosive Sunday.

Richard S. Mondot of the J. W. Lee Construction Co. was cited under the Fire Prevention Code to appear in Marin County Municipal Court.

The boys, police said, took out 10 sticks of dynamite from two open 50-pound cases left by construction workers who had been clearing sites for building of homes. Four other cases were unopened.

One of the sticks was torn apart and strewn over the area by the youths, aged 11 and 12, and another stick was broken in two.

Miller's Last D.C. Message

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Clem Miller (D-Calif.) in his "final Washington Letter of 1962," appraised the current session of Congress as one of "solid achievement in moderate, progressive, essential legislation."

His weekly "Washington letter" was mailed by his office yesterday.

"By the time you read this," the letter said, "I hope to be home in the district and in the midst of my annual fall tour. If you want to get in touch with your congressman for any reason, I can be contacted through my district office in Santa Rosa."

"This has been a long and strenuous session.

"There were disappointments. Some important measures were lost; others did not reach the House floor for consideration. There is much unfinished business for the 88th Congress, which will convene next January.

"But when the record of this Congress is reviewed, I believe it will be judged one of solid achievement in moderate, progressive, essential legislation.

Angelican Head Won't Go To Rome

LONDON (UPI)—The Archbishop of Canterbury, leader of the 26-million-member Angelican Church, does not plan to attend the Ecumenical Council in Rome even if it lasts for many months, it was reported today.

The archbishop was said to believe nothing concrete could be gained by his presence.

The Church of England will be represented by an observer.

Soblen Death Mystery Deepens

LONDON (UPI)—A coroner's inquest was told today that fugitive spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen's death was caused "in part" by a rare drug he obtained by apparently unknown means.

The drug was identified as a quick-acting barbiturate called "lotusate," described as being similar to seconal.

A Scotland Yard officer testified that despite exhaustive investigation there was no evidence Soblen had been helped by anyone in obtaining and secreting the drug.

Free Smokes Out?

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy indicated today it may follow the Air Force's lead in refusing to allow cigarette manufacturers to present gift cigarettes to men in its hospitals.

The Air Force said last Saturday that its surgeon general has declined offers for free distribution of cigarettes in Air Force hospitals "because of the recent evidence which suggests further relation between cigarette smoking and lung cancer, other pulmonary diseases and with certain cardiovascular diseases."

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN*.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Get BRONITIN—available at all drug stores without prescription.

YEMAN REBELS GET SUPPORT FROM UAR

ADEN (AP) — Troops and planes of the United Arab Republic are bolstering the revolutionary regime in Yemen amid signs of an approaching fight with forces seeking to restore the monarchy.

Royalists claimed their forces were advancing in a two-pronged drive to surround the revolutionary capital of Sana. They said they encountered negligible resistance. There was no confirmation of the report.

Western correspondents on a weekend visit to Yemen saw ample evidence of expanding UAR military assistance to the revolutionary regime.

UAR troops and planes guarded Sana's airport. Squads of UAR officers and instructors were seen outside the massive government building and more were unloading from a UAR ship at the Soviet-built port of Hodeida, 100 miles away.

"We do not care if there is a threat," the rebel premier, Col. Abdullah Sallal, 40, told the newsmen. "We can depend on ourselves and our friends."

The UAR Middle East News Agency said 10,000 volunteers are being armed in Yemen's three key cities—Sana, Taizz and Hodeida.

Sallal said the rebel regime has the backing of the Yemen army of 20,000, including the National Guard, and sufficient Soviet and Czechoslovak arms purchased by the monarchy to withstand attack.

The army has T-34 tanks and other heavy equipment. The fledgling air force has Soviet MIG-17 fighters and Ilyushin 10 bombers, with more on the way. Yemeni pilots are still training in Italy and Cairo, and virtually every plane has a Soviet bloc crew. A squadron of World War II Russian Yaks is awaiting repairs.

The report of the royalist advance came from the Yemeni legation in Washington, which has remained loyal to the monarchy. The legation said it received a message from Prince Saif Al Islam al Hassan in Yemen that his troops soon would surround Sana and the rest of the area in rebel hands.

Hassan, who headed the Yemeni United Nations delegation, is believed supported by several warrior Yemeni tribes, as well as by King Saud of neighboring Saudi Arabia. Hassan laid claim to the throne after the rebels said they had slain his nephew-king, Imam Mohammad Al-Badr.

Saudi Arabia Sunday denied a Cairo broadcast that Saudi troops had invaded Yemen and clashed with rebel supporters near the northern border. It called the report ridiculous.

Uganda Becomes Nation

KAMPALA, Uganda (UPI) — Uganda, a mountainous land of pygmies and seven-foot Batutsis, became the 33rd African state today to take the uncertain step to independence.

Whatever problems lie ahead, Uganda's people greeted their statehood with a cheer and a blaze of fireworks that made the midnight moment of independence as bright as day.

LIGHTS OUT

In Kampala, independence was marked with a ceremony that has been traditional in former British colonies around the world.

At the stroke of midnight, the lights and music faded.

A single spotlight picked out two men in the center of the stadium—British Gov. Sir Walter Coutts and Uganda's first premier Milton Obote, dapper in evening clothes and walking stick.

Forty thousand Ugandans in the stadium watched while the two men shook hands and 68 years of British colonial rule ended.

Then cheers broke out as the spotlight shifted to the flagpole where a Uganda rifles officers slowly ran up the new nation's black-yellow-red national flag for the first time.

RACIAL HARMONY

Obote inherits from the British a tradition of racial harmony rare in Africa but a disturbing friction between the African tribes themselves.

There are only 10,000 whites and 85,000 Asians among the 6.6 million persons in Uganda.

Traffic Problem On Novato Agenda

The ever-present problem of traffic on Center Road will come again before the Novato City Council at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the community building.

Changing of the traffic flow and the enforcement of one way traffic comes up before the council periodically. Tomorrow night, it is up for a report from the council's traffic committee.

The Novato Garden Club will propose an ordinance to regulate street tree plantings.

Other items on the agenda include the swimming pool bond issue, the urban thoroughfare project for abridge over Warner Creek on south Novato Boulevard, and a request for roadside weed spraying by the county.

JAMES B. DONOVAN
Expects agreement

Hopes High For Cuban Prisoners

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro and negotiator James B. Donovan appeared set to complete an agreement today for the release of 1,113 Cuban prisoners seized in the April 1961 invasion.

MEDICINE, FOOD

Castro's government originally asked $62 million dollars in cash for all the prisoners taken in the Bay of Pigs invasion. About 60 already have been freed. Donovan, a New York attorney negotiating for the families of the prisoners, has said he would offer Castro medicine and food instead of a cash ransom.

The U.S. government may be called on to chip in with some surplus food products, but officials in Washington said there have been no final arrangements on this. Cuban exiles in Miami say the bulk of the food and drug supplies would be contributed by the U.S. public, by relief agencies and by families of the prisoners.

Responsible sources said Donovan has arranged with Pan American World Airways for transportation to take all the prisoners from Havana to Miami before the weekend.

U-2 NEGOTIATION

Relatives and friends of the prisoners in Havana, certain that an agreement already has been reached, have been showering Donovan with gifts and praise. Donovan, who negotiated the swap of U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers for Soviet spy Rudolf Abel last year, has refused to accept a fee in the Cuban case, informants said.

Drive In Congress To Quit Is Slowed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress' snail-pace drive for adjournment slowed down today to almost a complete halt.

There was no business at all on the House docket because of the death of Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera) who was killed in an airplane mishap.

Neither was there anything of consequence on the calendar of the Senate, which sent the annual foreign aid appropriation bill to the president yesterday.

There was a possibility that the Senate might seize upon a relatively minor House-passed bill as the vehicle for a four-month extension of unemployment compensation payments to workers who have used up their benefits. The House Ways and Means Committee has refused to approve a separate bill authorizing the extension.

No progress was in sight for several appropriation bills which must be acted on before adjournment, nor was there any sign of White House action on another bill holding up the go-home signal. It calls for a tax break for self-employed people who set up their own retirement programs. The bill becomes law at midnight tomorrow if President John F. Kennedy does not act on it.

If he should veto the measure, backers of the bill hope to try to override the veto or attach the pension program as a rider to a 500-million-dollar supplemental money bill which has been stalled in the Senate. As things now stand, the Senate won't act on the supplemental bill before Friday at the earliest.

The House Rules Committee today called a huddle to try to budget a four-billion-dollar measure authorizing hundreds of water control projects which must be financed in future years. The bill has passed both houses in widely different form and can't reach a compromise committee without approval of the rules group and the House itself.

When Congress will finally quit is a subject of varying guesses. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he was "reconciled to staying here indefinitely."

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), key figure in a hassle over the annual Agriculture Department money bill, said he was willing "to stay here until December 23" if necessary.

When Romans made Ephesus capital of their Asia province, the city's only rivals were Constantinople, Alexandria and Antioch.

New Bruce Assistant Has Good Reason To Celebrate

By RANDALL GOULD

John F. Barrows yesterday completed celebration of his 32nd birthday by starting work as new assistant administrator for Marin County.

"I couldn't pick a better place and way to observe the occasion," he smiled. "We've been hoping to come to Marin for some time."

The "we" includes his wife, Cynthia, as well as two daughters, still a little junior to vote on family decisions — Sally, 2, and Ann who was born in late August, three days before Barrows had his first interview in seeking the assistant administratorship.

All are now moved from their former San Diego home to a new residence at 3 Coleman Drive, San Rafael.

The family is eastern in origin, Barrows coming from Jamestown, N.Y., and his wife from West Virginia. Service as a lieutenant (J.G.) in the Navy brought Barrows to California and he started west with his new wife immediately after they were married.

He was assistant administrative analyst for the City of San Diego for two years from August of 1958, then became associate administrative analyst for the following two years.

He was graduated from Allegheny College in Pennsylvania in 1952, having majored in political science and public administration. He received his master's degree in 1953 from Syracuse University, N.Y., and served in the Navy from 1953 to 1956. He was a senatorial legislative assistant in Washington from January, 1957, to June, 1958.

"Marin County naturally has operations different from others I have seen," he said. "What I have learned elsewhere won't necessarily apply directly here. Certainly I have no preconceived ideas of what 'the best way' is but I see a great challenge here, and I hope I may be able to contribute something.

"The need to keep an eye out for economies is found everywhere, and is true at all levels of government.

"Any such office as that of the administrator is responsible for looking at the whole picture, and framing recommendations on the needs of the whole county. In that it naturally differs from the views of department heads, in that they are responsible for their specific jobs."

Administrator Alan Bruce started Barrows off on such tasks as familiarizing himself with the budget and other basic material.

He also conducted a discussion of jobs Barrows might tackle. When interrupted, they had filled four legal-pad sheets with ideas.

All-Time Record Sale Of Autos Hikes Tax Gains

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — An all-time record sales high for new car dealers during the April-June quarter of 1962 boosted California's retail sales to $6,455,567,000, up nearly 10 per cent from the second-quarter record set in 1961.

Marin county, sharing in the retail sales increase, reported taxable transactions of $46,424,000 for the quarter. This produced $1,392,720 in the state's 3 per cent sales tax. It represented a gain of 10 per cent from the second quarter of 1961.

The state board of equalization said new car dealer sales totaled $817.5 million during the April-June quarter, up 7.3 per cent from the record set in the first quarter of this year and 23 per cent higher than last year's second-quarter level.

Sales of used car dealers kept pace with the new ones, with nearly $100 million sold by them. Sales in the two classes of car dealers accounted for one-seventh of all taxable retail sales in the quarter.

San Marin Water Plan Before Board

A water agreement for the first unit of 96 homes in the San Marin subdivision will come before the North Marin County water board at an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. today in the district office.

This first unit of the subdivision on the Freitas C Ranch will be served by a 12-inch line from the Novato Boulevard main, according to Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager. The next units will be served from the Russian River aqueduct off Highway 101, Gilbert said.

Girl To Graduate

Donna B. Hicks of San Rafael was among 96 candidates approved for graduation from University of Nevada at Reno by the board of regents at its latest meeting.

$200,000 Shop Center Is Planned

Plans to build a $200,000 10-store shopping center next to the new Safeway Store on B Street at First Street, San Rafael, have been announced by Robert S. Miller, San Rafael contractor.

Miller said he plans to tear down the old Tip Top Market, which he recently leased from Mr. and Mrs. Casimiro Cardellini, to construct a new building on the site. Architect is Gordon A. Phillips of San Rafael.

A parking lot for approximately 60 cars will be provided in front of the stores, according to Miller. Completion of the center, which is planned to harmonize with the Safeway store, is expected next spring.

The leasing agent for the stores will be Coldwell, Banker and Co. of San Rafael, according to real estate agent Timothy O'Leary of that firm, who handled the negotiations. O'Leary said no lease has yet been signed.

Coroner Sets Inquest In Jail Death Monday

An inquest will be held next Monday to get testimony on the death of a merchant seaman, who was jailed as a drunk and died less than four hours later in the hospital.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton announced he would select a coroner's jury of 12 to hear the testimony. The inquest is set for 2 p.m. Monday in the supervisors' chamber of the court house.

John Robert Maulonis, 58, of San Francisco, merchant seaman and part-time bartender, was found unconscious at the home of a friend, Estella May House, at 25 West Crescent Drive, San Rafael, last Thursday morning.

Mrs. House called police at 3:20 a.m. Police called the county physician on duty that night, then took Maulonis to San Rafael General Hospital to have the physician, Dr. Richard W. Wolk, examine him.

The doctor said the man showed all the symptoms of being in a drunken stupor. He released Maulonis to the county jail, where the man was put in an isolation cell about 4:45 a.m.

At 7:38 a.m., Mrs. House reported to police she had found a suicide note left by Maulonis. Police rushed him back to the hospital, but Maulonis died about 8:30 a.m.

Among those scheduled to testify at the inquest are Mrs. House, Dr. Wolk, San Rafael police officers and jail bailiffs who were on duty on the morning of Maulonis's death.

Five-Year Railroad Dispute Ends

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An arbitration board ruled today that the Chicago and North Western Railway may eliminate telegraphy jobs it considers obsolete with 90 days notice to the union.

The arbitration ruling ends a five-year dispute between the railway and the Order of Railway Telegraphers (ORT) regarding job security. It may set a pattern for settling other "feather-bedding" disputes now pending in the railroad industry.

Four questions concerning job security were submitted to arbitration on Sept. 28 after the union agreed to end a 30-day strike that has shut down the nation's third largest rail network and brought economic hardship to parts of the middle west.

The ruling was made by Sylvester Garrett, chief arbitrator for U.S. Steel Corp., the neutral member of the board.

ORT president G. E. Leighty and railway board chairman Ben Heineman, also members of the board, could not reach agreement and left the decision up to Garrett.

Heineman concurred however in Garrett's ruling on all four points. Leighty concurred in only one, the 90-day notice provision.

No Fees At Park

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California State Park Commission has discontinued seasonal fees at Folsom Lake State Park. Only two applications had been made in the last year.

JOKE BY YOUNG GOP

'Phony Exchange Students' Pull Wool Over JFK's Eyes

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—The tale was told today of how three teen-agers outwitted the secret service, deceived Sen. Hubert Humphrey conned President John F. Kennedy and crashed a $500-a-couple cocktail party.

The gate crashers during President Kennedy's visit to Minneapolis Saturday night were Bill Waters, Roger Magnuson and Daniel Nortstadt. All are 17-year-old students at Harding High School in neighboring St. Paul and Bill happens to be president of a Young Republican club.

They proceeded up the stairs to the 13th floor landing, where secret service men screened all visitors to the top floor.

Casually mentioning Sen. Humphrey's name in their best broken English, the boys were escorted to a room to await the arrival of the presidential party from Minneapolis-St.Paul International Airport.

When the party arrived, the boys were met by Sen. Eugene McCarthy (D-Minn.) McCarthy was skeptical and the boys confessed they were phonies. They begged the senator to go along with the gag. He promised not to spoil the plot, the boys said today.

Humphrey then arrived and was convinced by the fake accents. He ushered the boys in to see Kennedy, who shook hands with each and said "welcome to our country."

As a final triumph, the boys wrangled an invitation from the presidential party to a cocktail party. They got in free, even though grownups had to pay $500 per couple.

OXFORD

approximately 7,000 regular troops who are stationed with 3,000 Mississippi National Guardsmen in Oxford.

Yesterday at Oxford a flying rock and a crowd of jeering students renewed tensions on the campus after Meredith's second week as a student had begun in comparative calm.

The incident occurred at the university cafeteria last night after Meredith arrived for dinner. No one was hurt but some broken glass sprinkled on the 20-year-old Negro's table.

Meredith's day went quietly until dinner.

At lunch, only one lone cry of "hi, Blackie" broke the silence outside the cafeteria. Inside, some 100 students appeared to pay little attention to Meredith.

Marshalls hustled Meredith out a back door.

The students then turned their attention to an auto which federal officials had been using and let the air out of its tire. One official yelled that the car was federal property.

Boos and catcalls rang out.

"What's the matter, white trash?" one student yelled. "You lost your nigger?"

Subdivision Approved In Novato

The Novato Planning Commission last night approved a Development Co. on 20 acres between Lynwood Park and Highway 101.

It also approved rezoning from limited agricultural to multiple family on the area 3,700 feet south of the first subdivision, requested by the same company. This will give apartment zoning on the area on the west of Highway 101 south of Lynwood Park to the Crossroads Shopping Center.

St. Raphael's Bells To Ring For Council

Bells at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael will ring for 10 minutes starting at noon Thursday to mark the opening in Rome of the 21st ecumenical council of the Roman Catholic Church.

Pope John XXIII has requested Catholic churches throughout the world to ring their bells on Thursday so church members may be reminded of the council, do penance and pray for its members, according to Father Petroni of St. Raphael's Church.

Youth's Ankle Broken In Game

Donald Rudnick, a senior at San Rafael High School, was reported today recovering at Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco from surgery for a broken heel bone suffered in a soccer game at school last Thursday.

Principal Alfred N. Thomson said Rudnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Rudnick of 103 Greenfield Avenue, was accidentally kicked by another student in a physical education class when both attempted to kick the soccer ball.

Rudnick's doctor said he would be able to leave the hospital in a few days but would have to stay out of school for six to eight weeks. In addition to fracturing the heel bone, he dislocated his right ankle.

Quentin [illegible]s Still Looking For Knives

San Quentin prison officials still have found none of the 16 boning knives which were stolen a week ago from an office closet.

"We've looked everywhere," said Associate Warden Dale B. Frady today.

park. "Without his unflinching, unswerving support there would have been no bill."

Rep. John F. Baldwin Jr. (R-Martinez), whose district adjoins Miller's, said Miller's fight for the seashore park was a model of service to the people of his district and the nation.

Speaker John McCormack said Miller was "undoubtedly a man of this century . . . He came here with no other purpose than to work."

Rep. Charles S. Gubser (R-Santa Clara), said "we have lost a man who got things done the right way, the fair way, the honest way."

President John F. Kennedy sent his condolences to Mrs. Miller and declared:

"Congressman Miller is a personal loss to me and to the American people. He was a progressive legislator, strongly dedicated to his district. He spoke with great eloquence for the needs of our people, particularly in the fields of conservation."

Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), a co-sponsor of the Point Reyes bill, told the Senate that Miller's death means a "tragic loss to Congress, to the State of California and this country."

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.), GOP whip, joined Engle in expressing his sorrow.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), a close friend of Miller, said California and the nation "have lost a good American."

In Sacramento, Gov. Edmund G. Brown expressed "shock and the sense of personal loss" at Miller's death. "The great beauty of Point Reyes National Seashore, which Clem was responsible for establishment will be an ageless monument to a fine and selfless man."

Miller's book, "Member of the House," an account of the experiences of a young congressman, went on sale yesterday in San Rafael bookstores.

Peter Allen Smith, Marin Democratic Central Committee chairman, said today Miller was an "extremely able and dedicated representative of his constituents in Marin and the first district . . . The Point Reyes National Seashore will remain a monument to his convictions and ideals."

The bodies of Miller's pilot, a retired air force major and experienced World War II bomber pilot, and his son, Ronald, were to be taken to Palo Alto for funeral services.

Engle Pressing For Point Reyes Funds

Special to the I-J

WASHINGTON — An appropriation to begin buying land for Point Reyes National Seashore, project close to the heart of the late Rep. Clem Miller, was reported favorably last night by the Senate appropriations committee.

Sen. Clair M. Engle (D-Calif.), who sponsored legislation in the Senate for creating the park, said today he would press for passage of the appropriation by the Senate before adjournment of Congress.

Marin Supervisors Pay Miller Honor

Marin County supervisors today honored the memory of Rep. Clem Miller of Corte Madera, killed in an airplane accident Sunday, by voting on motion of Supervisor Peter Behr that adjournment at the close of the day would commemorate Miller.

An expression of sympathy was ordered sent by the county clerk to Mrs. Miller.

Instead she asked memorial contributions be made to acquire land for the Point Reyes Seashore through Nature Conservancy, president of which is George L. Fairfax Man Dies; Found On Sidewalk

Donald Charles Gartin, 33, was pronounced dead on arrival at San Rafael General Hospital at 4:40 a.m. today after being found lying on the sidewalk in front of 709 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, at 3:50 a.m. by police.

Sgt. George Alberigi and Officer Michael Berney discovered Gartin while on patrol in the area. Alberigi said he detected a faint heart beat in Gartin, who was rushed to the hospital by United Ambulance.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton said Gartin left his home at 65 Wood Lane, Fairfax, about 6:15 p.m. yesterday with six capsules in his pocket he had filled with powder from his garden supplies. Two empty capsules were found in his pocket.

Gartin was owner of the IDC Lawn Co., 1822 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, which was closed by the Marin County sheriff's office Sept. 26 at the request of Victor N. Zachariah of Fairfax, owner of the building, according to Leland Brown, assistant chief deputy in the sheriff's office. Brown said Gartin had already shut down the store by that date.

Gartin appeared in the San Rafael Municipal Court Oct. 3 for a preliminary hearing on charges of passing two bad checks amounting to $53. Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce Bales said Gartin had already made restitution on the checks at the time of the hearing. However, he was bound over to answer charges on the checks this week.

Keaton said Gartin had spoken of taking his life several times and had attempted to take it three times. An autopsy was to be performed today.

Gartin leaves his wife, Gloria, and three children, Steven, 13, Gerald, 3, and David, 6 months. He leaves also his mother, Virginia Sanguinetti, and his father, Victor Gartin.

pile up to "an affront to one's self-respect" so that "tolerance is worn thin to the breaking point." In this instance, he said, his "sincere comment" that each supervisor should get a civic center key instead of just one for the chairman had led to a "denouncement" in the Independent-Journal "Reporter's Notebook" which in turn was followed by personal reflections in press releases from the "administrator-recommended dedication committee."

Though the committee office had sent out a cancellation of its description of himself as "chief foot-dragger," said Fusselman, he felt withdrawal to be the only course open to him.

Probable Cause Of Death Told

Mrs. Alice Thelma Bannatyne, 47, who was found dead in a Fairfax apartment Aug. 21, died of probable ingestion, cirrhosis of the liver and pulmonary congestion, according to a completed coroner's report.

Mrs. Bannatyne was found in the apartment of Walter Strahan, 1902 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, by Strahan when he returned from work. An empty bottle for a pain killing drug, codeine, was found under a bed next to Mrs. Bannatyne's body.

People can't help being carried away by the 1963 Dodge. Who can blame them? Dodge looks like an expensive car. But it's priced down with other low-price cars. And inside there's room galore! The roofline sweeps straight back instead of sloping off. That means ample headroom in back, not just in front. There's more legroom and footroom, too. The seats are chair-high, whether you choose a model with sofa style, buckets or fold-down center arm rest in front. Little wonder, people get carried away . . . especially now that every 1963 Dodge is backed by a new five-year/50,000-mile warranty*! See your Dodge Dealer and drive the '63 Dodge.

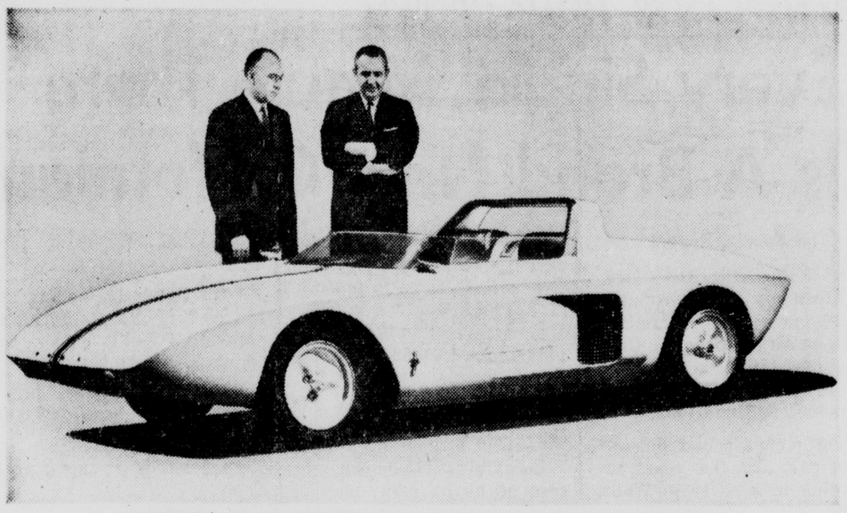

*Your Authorized Dodge Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first; on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts; torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings—provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Dodge Certified Car Care schedules. Marin-Sonoma Unified Schools Under Study

A proposed unified school district including parts of west Marin and Sonoma County will be considered Friday morning by the State Board of Education at a three-day meeting in Oceanside.

The plan would join three Marin elementary districts and four in Sonoma with Tomale Joint Union High School District.

Despite the number of districts involved, the unification would bring together a total enrollment which is expected to be fewer than 1,000 even in 1965. Last year it was 733.

Roy Parks of Tomales, a trustee of the Tomales High School District, is to present arguments favoring the unification. Mrs. David Baty of Point Reyes Station will argue against the plan.

Point Reyes Station and Inverness residents have opposed the plan, preferring to join a unified district with the Tamalpais High School District. Edwin L. Blackmore, county co-ordinator of rural education and assistant secretary to the county committee on school district organization, said the county committee's position is that the people of the districts involved should be permitted to vote on the issue.

Approval by the state board is required before the plan may be submitted to voters.

If the state board agrees to the election, said Blackmore, the vote could be held in about 60 days and unification—if passed—would take effect next July 1.

The plan would join with Tomales district the Point Reyes School District, West Marin Union School District and Tomales Bay District of Marin County, together with Sonoma's American Valley, Bloomfield, Bodega Bay and Watson elementary districts.

Omitted from the unified district would be the Potter district in Sonoma, which has been annexed to Harmony Union School District and would become part of another unification plan.

Elks Offer $110,000 To Scholars

Marin County high school seniors or college students may apply through the San Rafael Lodge No. 1108 to compete for 142 scholarships, totaling $110,000, which are being offered by the Elks National Foundation in its 1963 "Most Valuable Student Competition."

Carl S. Clark, exalted ruler of the local lodge, said the grants range from $700 to $1,500, with separate awards for boys and girls.

Applicants should secure the endorsement of the San Rafael lodge and have applications ready to file by Feb. 21, 1963.

The San Rafael lodge has in the past awarded two scholarships of its own, giving $250 each to a boy and a girl from Marin. Clark said the amounts and number of local awards may be increased this year.

Applicants for the national scholarships must have scholastic ratings of 90 per cent or better and be in the top 5 per cent of their class.

Information on scholarships may be obtained from John C. Clahan, chairman.

Apartment Zone Plea Before Hub Council

San Anselmo City Council may have a short meeting tonight, if the brief agenda is any indication.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. in the city hall. The agenda lists a half dozen items, including a public hearing on R. E. Nolan's request to rezone property between 1202 and 1212 Sir Francis Drake Biulevard. Nolan wants to put apartments on the land, which is now zoned for one-family residential.

Councilmen will hear a report on the "up-grading" of the miscellaneous employees (not police or fire) retirement plan. City Clerk Anita Gannon said someone from the state may appear to explain the retirement plan. "Up-grading" the retirement plan will probably require more contribution by the employees and the city.

Richard W. Campbell wants the city's Yellow Cab franchise transferred to him. Clarence Smith has the franchise, but he has been ill, and Campbell wants to take over.

Inter-School Head Told At Redwood

A Redwood High School senior, John Osborn, will serve as president of the Inter-School Relations Assn. for the 1962-63 school year.

Other officers are Sandy Michael, Novato High, vice president; Barbara Johnson, San Rafael High, secretary; Tom Gaff, Terra Linda High, treasurer, and Paula Houser, Drake High, public relations.

The IRA will encourage friendly relations among member schools, discuss and solve problems arising between schools, promote better co-operation between student councils, and act as an advisory group to the Marin County Athletic League, Osborn said.

Class Officers Elected In Runoff

A run-off was required for all offices because none of the candidates received a majority of votes from the 50 per cent of the students who voted in the first eletcion.

Vote totals were not announced.

Man Arrested On Liquor Charge

A retired San Francisco basketball coach, who now lives in Forest Knolls, was jailed Sunday on a charge of providing liquor to young boys.

Thomas Foxe DeNike, 69, who lives alone on Morales Avenue in Forest Knolls, was booked on suspicion of contributing to the delinquency of Minors. Freed on $525 bail, he is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow afternoon.

A 14-year-old boy, who was arrested for being drunk in Lagunitas Saturday night, told Sheriff's Sgt. Kenneth Irving and Deputy Robert Bertrand that DeNike had given him the liquor.

Sergeant Irving said DeNike acknowledged he gave some wine to two boys visiting him Saturday evening.

Milk Products, Eggs, Fish Have Value As Substitute For Meats

Is the 10-year high in meat prices crimping your food budget? Then select alternate foods of high protein value to stretch it, rather than the starchy extenders.

Dry non-fat powdered milk mixed in your hamburgers serves you better than breadcrumbs. Beans and cheese used with a little meat make good supplements. In the cheeses, the naturals like cheddar give you the most nutrition per pound. Eggs and fish also lend themselves to combinations for hearty main courses.

THIS WEEK is Fire Prevention Week. One of the best ways to observe it is by tidying up the basement and making sure inflammables aren't close to heaters and furnaces. A fire-resistant barrier around the heating plant isn't a bad idea. Wood building members close by often become tinder dry and susceptible to flash fire on cold nights when the heat is on almost continuously.

Indian War Vets Hold Reunion

The dwindling ranks of men in blue who fought the Indians on America's frontiers formed again today in San Francisco for the 31st national reunion of the Indian War Veterans and its Ladies' Corps.

Edward E. Snider of 99 Wood Lane, Fairfax, who will retire as national commander during the two-day gathering, said the organization is now composed mainly of survivors of Indian war veterans. He said there are now only six or seven men still alive who fought the Indians.

Snider is a survivor of an Indian war veteran. His father fought in the Ute campaign of 1906 in Montana and Wyoming. His late wife's father also was an Indian fighter, and famed Gen. Philip Sheridan, frontier and Civil War officer, was her uncle.

Mrs. Minnie Saunders of 428 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, widow of a cavalryman in the Ute campaign, is national commander of the Ladies' Corps. Mrs. Saunders, now 96 years old, spent the early years of her marriage at frontier army posts and once had her hair pulled (not removed, however) by Chief Sitting Bull.

The United Indian War Veterans, which proclaims itself the oldest group of this nation's war veterans, meets each year to campaign for better pensions for the few remaining former Indian fighters and their widows.

The host encampment of the reunion is Camp Custer No. 4 of San Francisco, one of only two camps in California.

There are only 29 Indian War pensioners in the United States.

The reunion convened in the War Memorial Building in San Francisco.

Oroville Dam Power Plant Test Completed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Controlled tests in miniature, with water by the ounce substituted for water by the ton, have been employed to prove the design for the key water outlet system of the Oroville Dam power plant.

The laboratory tests were recently completed by the California Department of Water Resources and the Bureau of Reclamation of the U.S. Department of Interior.

Testing of the proposed system was done by means of a model constructed by the federal agency in its Design and Research Center in Denver, Colo.

The one-inch to 55-inch scale model of the giant powerplant's six-turbine draft tubes, two half mile-long tailrace tunnels and the tunnels' outlet was tested with the latest instruments to determine whether the actual system would work correctly and efficiently.

Red Killer-Spy Tells Practice With Poison

KARLSRUHE, Germany (UPI) —A confessed Soviet killer-spy told a supreme court today he practiced marksmanship with a poison-pellet pistol, using towels for targets, to prepare for his assassination missions.

Bogdan Nikolayevich Stashinskiy, 31, an admitted agent of the Soviet Ministry for State Security, is accused of killing two exiled Ukrainian nationalist leaders in separate assaults in Munich, West Germany, in 1957 and 1959.

He has confessed spraying lethal potassium cyanide pellets into the races of Prof. Lev Rebet and Stefan Bandera. He faces a possible sentence of life imprisonment.

Stashinskiy testified today that a Soviet agent named Sergey gave him the poison spraygun in East Berlin in 1957, along with a photo of Rebet with which he identified his victim.

After Sergey checked him out on the Russian-made weapon, he said, he practiced firing it at towels in his East Berlin apartment. He always took antidote tablets before firing the gun, he said.

Stashinskiy described the poison pistol as an aluminum tube resembling a water faucet. When the trigger was pulled, he said, the cyanide capsule was exploded, spraying the lethal fluid through the nozzle.

He said his superiors told him the fluid left no trace, and that splinters of the capsule imbedded in the victim's body probably would be too small to be detected.

TRANSPLANTS, HOME-GROWN

Every Single Minute There Is A Brand New Californian

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — New Californians — transplants and home-grown — were created at a rate of better than one every minute of every hours of every day between mid-1961 and mid-1962.

The state's actual population gain for the year, according to a study in Wells Fargo Bank's current business review, was 641,000.

This boils down to growth at rates of 53,417 a month, 1,756 a day, 73 an hour, and, to be exact, 1.21666 a minute.

Transplants for the year totaled 363,000, arriving by land, sea or air in clusters of just about a thousand a day.

Local production, the excess of births over deaths, contributed 278,000 to the total.

With things happening as fast as they are, California's population isn't easy to count.

That was at 12 noon, precisely.

Trunk Murderess Winnie Judd Makes 7th Escape From Hospital

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Trunk murderess Winnie Ruth Judd, notorious "Tiger Woman" of the 1930s, last night escaped from the Arizona State Mental Hospital for the seventh time since her confinement in 1932.

Hospital superintendent Samuel Wick said the 57-year-old woman, originally sentenced to death for the murder of her two roommates during an argument, escaped from the hospital through a door which was left unlocked accidentally.

Miss Judd, whose last escape came in 1953 when she remained free for only 48 hours, was last seen at 9:30 p.m., according to Wick and was discovered missing at 11 p.m.

"All law enforcement agencies have been notified of the escape," said Wick. "However, we do not consider the patient dangerous."

Miss Judd was convicted of murdering Hedvig Samuelson and Agnes Ann Leroi in a jealous rage 30 years ago. She admitted dismembering their bodies and sending them to Los Angeles in trunks.

The once beautiful blonde Winnie was sentenced to be hanged, but 72 hours before her scheduled execution she was ruled insane and committed to the hospital.

She first escaped in 1939. In 1947 she escaped a third time and remained free 12 hours. Her fourth escape came in 1951 when she forced open a window screen and dropped down a cloth rope from the room of her aged mother, then also confined to the hospital.

She tried to escape again in February, 1953 and made her sixth bid for freedom in November of the same year.

Merchants Plan Exec Committees

Francisco Boulevard merchants decided yesterday to form an executive committee which in turn would name committees to work on highway problems, special promotions, lighting and transportation for the area.

The executive committee will meet Wednesday noon at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, 507 Francisco Boulevard. It will work along with the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce in promoting the area.

The group has named itself and the area, Francisco Boulevard — Gateway to San Rafael.

First Sewers Are Approved For 96 San Marin Homes

Plans for sewer connections for the first unit of 96 houses in San Marin, the 4,200-home development on the Freitas C ranch, were approved last night by the Novato Sanitary District board.

The sewers will be connected to the Trumbull Avenue line, said Albert H. Tresch, district manager.

The board called for bids for Nov. 14 on changing the sewers at Bolling Drive for the Highway 101 interchange. The engineer's estimate for the job is $4,100, Tresch said. The board approved an agreement with the state Division of Highways for repayment of the cost.

The Novato Sanitary District board also:

1. Approved annexation of two lots on Center Road near Dutch Court, belonging to Russell Sharp and James E. Meisch.

2. Set for Nov. 14 a hearing on annexation of property owned by Dora Young on Wilson Avenue.

3. Set Nov. 14 as the next meeting date because the regular meeting night (Nov. 12) is a holiday.

Ike Urges GOP To Get Going For Nixon

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower endorsed Richard M. Nixon "100 per cent" last night, Nixon felt "victory in the air," and thousands of cheering Republicans in four cities dropped $560,000 into the GOP coffers.

Eisenhower spoke in San Francisco's Cow Palace to 2,750 persons who had paid $100 a plate for cold cuts and a piece of chocolate cake. Then Nixon, speaking to another 2,000 in the Hollywood Palladium, responded in sight and sound of those in San Francisco and similar dinners in San Bernardino and Bakersfield hooked together by closed circuit television.

Eisenhower and Nixon had been together earlier. They met in Los Angeles, flew to San Francisco for a motorcade through the city which was witnessed by an estimated 120,000 persons. Then Nixon returned to the south.

At the Cow Palace, Eisenhower in a booming, healthy voice, took a few quick jabs at Gov. Edmund G. Brown, reviewed his long, close association with Nixon, and said, "I can personally vouch for his ability, his sense of duty, his sharpness of mind and his wealth of wisdom."

He urged the Republicans to "get up, get out and get going" so that they would not make the "same mistake" that "I made" in 1960 in "not working harder for Dick Nixon."

The Republican gubernatorial candidate answered that Eisenhower should take the message back east "that we're on the march and we're going to win."

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan, completing 20 years in his post, "reversed a practice of a lifetime" to appear with Eisenhower and "make a political speech." Jordan, recalling he had predicted Nixon's 1960 victory in California by 35,000 votes when the actual victory had been 35,683, made another prediction — that Nixon would win by 240,000 votes in November.

Three Marinites sat at the head tables, but the Cow Palace had hundreds of others from the county present. Just to Eisenhower's right, separated from the former president by Caspar Weinberger, state central committee chairman, sat Mrs. Lee Sherry of San Anselmo, Northern California women's vice chairman.

Behind the general sat Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael and Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael. Master of Ceremonies Arch Monson Jr. called upon Republicans to give McCarthy "a lot more Republicans to lead" in Sacramento.

Four counties of the 50 above the Tehachapi Mountains were singled out for specific mention in the success of the Eisenhower dinner ticket sales. Marin and its finance chairman, Walter Keichkefer of Kent Woodlands, were specifically mentioned at the head of the list.

Besides the tables full of Marinites, however, there also was a generous sprinkling of both Young Republicans and Teen-Aged Republicans from the Marin organizations. These young people acted as ushers in seeing that the crowd found their tables.

Allies Doing Nothing But Protest Ambulance Refusal In East Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — The Western Allies apparently have decided to do nothing except protest the refusal of East German guards to let a British army ambulance go to the aid of a man shot just over the Berlin wall. The Soviets refused to accept the protest yesterday.

The East German action was clearly a blow to Western prestige in Berlin.

Western officials were reluctant to predict what further action might be taken. From their remarks, it seemed unlikely that anything would be done.

Some acknowledged that the East Germans could cite their successful blocking of the ambulance Saturday as a precedent for stopping other Western military traffic in East Berlin. But they pointed out that this had not happened yet.

They also pointed out that the East Germans could halt all Western traffic unless the Allies gave it armed escort. The Allies did that with some military vehicles last October when the East Germans began stopping Allied cars. The East Germans backed down after the Russians and the Americans each rushed tanks up to the wall.

One West Berlin newspaper suggested that a Western military ambulance patrol East Berlin streets at all times, to be directed by radio to any point on the wall at which an East German refugee was shot trying to escape to the West.

Mayor Willy Brandt's Socialist party said Soviet vehicles should be banned from West Berlin in retaliation for the East German action.

There was no indication, however, of any such Allied plans. One reason apparently was reluctance to rock the boat while talks on Berlin were still in progress in New York.

The Allies, in their protest, charged that interference with the ambulance was a violation of their war-won occupation rights in all of Berlin. The Russians, refusing to accept the protest, gave their usual comment that the matter was one for East Germany's Communist regime. The Allies refuse to deal with the satellite 'government, which they do not recognize.

East German guards apparently killed two East Germans trying to swim the Spree River to the West last night. The mother of one of the man trying to escape saw the shooting from the western bank and collapsed.

East German guards also fired on a West Berlin police car that had rushed to the scene. The West Berlin police returned the fire. No one was reported hit.

Extortion Try Nets Probation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 51-year-old San Francisco airline mechanic who once threatened to blow up Harrah's Club at Reno was placed on three years probation today by U.S. Dist. Judge A. J. Zirpoli.

"I can't understand why I did it," Wilbur I. Trout said of his attempt to extort $12,000 from William Harrah, owner of the gambling club.

"From your record I can't understand it either," Judge Zirpoli said. "That's why I am putting you on probation on condition that you stay out of gambling clubs even for purposes of entertainment other than gambling."

Trout said he is taking psychiatric treatments, has been going to night school and has a promise of re-employment.

Trout previously said he had no reason to attempt extortion because "I had no financial worries."

Mill Valley School Trustees Decide Against Purchase

Negotiations had been started with Goheen Enterprises, land owners, for the land to provide for a junior high school site.

Trustees said they will consider acquisition of a separate parcel of land in Tennessee Valley south of the present elementary school. This land is also owned by Goheen Enterprises.

Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson said the state bureau of school planning and architect Eugene E. Crawford recommended against the Tamalpais Valley land, the lower portion might be bisected by shoreline highway rerouting.

San Jose Schools Bond Sale Passes

Preliminary plans for a six-room addition to the San Jose intermediate school were reviewed last night by trustees of San Jose elementary district.

The board them authorized sale of $150,000 in bonds to cover the cost of the addition. However, it did not set a time for calling for the bids, awaiting the final plans.

The Marin County Planning Commission recommended a 32-acre site west of Highway 101 and south of Hamilton Air Force main gate for a high school. The commission wrote that the site would be good for the district if it stayed in the San Rafael High School District or if it unified with Novato.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. offered $3,600 for an easement over the northern end of the intermediate school site for a high-line from Bodega Bay. The board asked $4,000 for the easement.

The San Jose board also:

1. Accepted the drainage control job at the intermediate school as completed by the A. B. Siri, Inc.

2. Recommended copyrighting the phases of the Cuisenaire rod mathematic matter developed by the district.

3. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Helen Milstein as a third grade teacher and Mrs. Ann Avilla as a school lunch supervisor.

4. Hired Mrs. Victoria Larson and Mrs. Eilleen Johnston as third grade teachers for Meadow Park and Lynwood schools, respectively, and Alan Robinson as janitor.

5. Declared Friday as a holiday for school children, with teachers to attend a testing program.

6. Authorized Harold O. Bertram, teacher at Lynwood School, to apply to be an exchange teacher with England. If accepted, Bertram would teach one year in England with England sending a teacher to Lynwood.

ISLAND SONGSTRESS—Cora Beloy will sing with Walt Tolleson's orchestra Saturday night for the second annual Hawaiian Beaux Arts Ball at San Rafael's Bermuda Palms Motel. It precedes the cosmetologists' hair styling show set for 11 a.m. Sunday, also at Bermuda Palms.

Sausalito Integration Is On Tap

The future of integration in the Sausalito School District is to be discussed by trustees at their Oct. 22 meeting.

Trustees John S. Wellington and Stanley Wolfe told the board last night that it must be aware of possible integration problems and the best way to do this is to discuss the subject. The board announced that all interested parties are invited to attend their meetings.

A delegation of six parents questioned the board as to why there are 30 pupils in one fourth grade class at Richardson Bay School and 36 in another, while fourth grade classes at Bayside School have class totals of 23, 24 and 17.

Supt. Marcus F. Davis said classes at Bayside are smaller because many families have moved from the South Marin forts.

"We're considering moving some of the pupils from Bayside to Richardson Bay, and perhaps also moving a teacher," he said.

The board gave permission for teachers to use the Richardson Bay School at 3:30 p.m. Nov. 7 for the organizational meeting of a Sausalito Chapter of the Marin County Federation of Teachers.

It agreed to enter into a screening program under the Children's Hospital of Los Angeles, designed to screen out potential mentally retarded children.

Davis requested to see a structural engineer to determine costs and the feasibility of having Manzanita School remodeled.

The board asked that a letter be written Mill Valley school district trustees advising them they are in agreement with the possibility of changing the Tennessee Valley boundary line.

CYCLIST SUCCUMBS IN ROAD ACCIDENT

Dale Marion Askim, 21-year-old Novato grocery clerk, died late yesterday in Marin General Hospital without regaining consciousness after a motorcycle-auto accident Sunday on Highway 101.

Askim succumbed to head injuries suffered when his southbound motorcycle struck the rear of a car driven by Michael McGovern of Daly City about two miles north of Novato at 4:30 p.m. Sunday. The impact almost overturned the automobile. Askim was thrown off his cycle.

His death was the 20th in Marin County traffic this year, compared to 11 at this time last year.

The California Highway Patrol said circumstances of the accident were still under investigation.

Askim was born in Hibbing, Minn., and the family moved to California when he was two years old. He attended schools in Lake County. For the past two years he was employed as a clark at Rayburn's Food Market in Novato. He was a member of the Retail Clerk's Union.

Surviving are his wife Barbara, whom he married in 1958; a year-old daughter Lynette, at the family home at 1080 Simmons Lane, Novato; his father, Almer O. Askim of Petaluma, three sisters, Mrs. T. H. Bergala of Novato, Mrs. Ray Pedroli of San Rafael and Mrs. Joseph Granger of Minnesota; and three brothers, Caryl Askim of Petaluma, and Charles and Bruce Askim of Novato.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday at the Redwood Funeral Home in Novato. Burial will be in Cypress Hill Cemetery in Petaluma.

Execution Stay Granted Slayer

Charley Luther Pike, 29, sentenced to die Oct. 24 in the gas chamber at San Quentin for killing a policeman in Los Angeles, was granted a two-month stay of execution yesterday by U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

The stay is good until Dec. 23 or until his appeal to the Supreme Court is denied. A petition for a writ of certiorari, or review, was filed by Pike's attorney, Thurman Arnold Jr.

Pike is in Los Angeles this week as a witness in the retrial of the penalty for David Charles Bickley, sentenced to die for a holdup slaying in Los Angeles.

3 Mill Valley Stores Looted During Night

Three Mill Valley stores, within a two-block area, were looted of $55 in bills and small change last night, police reported today.

Doors appeared to have been pried open with a pry bar—the same method used in a series of burglaries in September at business houses. Police Chief Dan Terzich today would not conjecture as to whether last night's break-ins were by the same thieves as those last month.

Ken Evans, owner of Marin Floor Covering at 19 Sunnyside Avenue, told officers that approximately $55 was taken from the cash register drawer and a petty cash drawer. He discovered the rear door of his store pried open at 8 p.m. About $15-to-$20 was in bills, Evans said, and the rest in change. One metal file had been ransacked in the office but nothing else in the store touched, he reported.

Sometime between 6:15 and 7:10 p.m., Fred W. Peters Jr. told police, someone forced the rear door of Bennett's at 19 Throckmorton Avenue. The store is back-to-back with Marin Floor Covering. Peters, a store partner, said there was evidence that someone had been in the shop but nothing was missing.

An inventory was being taken today at Montgomery Ward and Co. at Miller and Sunnyside avenues to determine whether anything was missing. Mrs. Harriet Bathgate, manager, told officers that sometime during the night someone had jimmied a side door.

Top U.S. Military Aide Says Tide Is Turning In Viet Nam

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — The top American military commander in Southeast Asia says that the tide is turning against Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, chief of the U.S. forces in Viet Nam, expressed this opinion in a report yesterday to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The two met in Pearl Harbor with Pacific military and diplomatic leaders to discuss America's growing involvement in Asia. Harkins said U.S. military assistance is beginning to pay off.

"The Communist Viet Cong has been slowed and there is growing effectiveness" against insurgents, he said.

This optimistic word was relayed by a source close to McNamara who attended the meeting which was held behind locked and guarded doors.

McNamara flew back to Washington at the end of the day-long conference after issuing a statement saying he shared Harkin's confidence and was "much encouraged."

Greenbrae Recreation Postponed

Kentfield School District trustees last night postponed decision on a request to include Greenbrae school in the Larkspur-Corte Madera recreation program.

Instead, trustees decided to consider organizing a recreation plan within the district for all four of its schools.

The proposal by Larkspur-Corte Madera Recreation Director William Gordon was backed by William G. Fleckles, president of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn.

Trustees suggested Gordon talk with his committee and learn whether funds appropriated for Greenbrae school recreation could be transferred to the school district.

The board approved hiring Roy Henry Swaney for part-time recreation duties at Greenbrae School and Kenneth Holyome and Jonathan M. Hole for recreation duties at Adaline E. Kent School, and discussed hiring a woman recreation instructor at Kent School.

The Kentfield School trustees also:

1. Approved hiring Mrs. Aida Louise Burke, former substitute teacher, as third grade teacher at Greenbrae School, succeeding Mrs. Kathryn Muddgt, resigned, at $4,900 a year; Mrs. Betty Bowers, former San Francisco schools secretary-library clerk, to succeed Mrs. Helen Land, resigned, as secretary to the principal at Kent School, at $355 a month; Duane Valder as part-time night custodian at Greenbrae School.

2. Received copies of new studies on school district organization from the county committee on school district organization, and agreed to review them at a special meeting at 7:45 p.m. Monday in the Greenbrae School multi-use room.

Absentee Voting Instructions Told

County Clerk George H. Gnoss announced that absentee voting booths opened up this week at his office in the county courthouse and will remain open until Oct. 30.

Absentee ballots mailed back to the county clerk must reach him by Nov. 3.

Exec Jailed For False Bomb Report

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Gerald R. Andlinger, 31, planning director for International Telephone and Telegraph Co., was free on $500 bail today after his arrest for jokingly mentioning a bomb at International Airport.

Andlinger, of Greenwith, Conn., appeared before U.S. Commissioner Donald Sonstine yesterday after spending the night in jail. The FBI said he was asked by a Trans World Airlines ticket agent if he would like his brief case carried to the plane.

"No, I'll carry it on. This one has a bomb in it," Andlinger replied, according to the ticket agent.

The businessman told the commissioner his statement "wasn't meant to be taken seriously," and he was freed on bail pending formal charges of making a false bomb report.

For every thousand persons in the country, Sweden now has 160 cars, 365 telephones and 137 television sets.

Man Is Injured In Crash, Girl Cited

A Tiburon Peninsula man was hurt and a San Francisco girl student was cited as result of a car crash during lane changes on Highway 101 last night.

Albert B. Henderson of W-118, Hilarita Housing Project, told the California Highway Patrol he was southbound in the center lane just south of the Corte Madera overpass at 6:10 p.m. when a station wagon in the right lane swerved and struck his small import. His car rolled over.

Henderson was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut right wrist and arm bruises. Lynne Marie Lanctot, 16-year-old student, driver of the wagon, was cited on a charge of causing an accident by unsafe lane change.

Burglar Breaks Into Market

A burglar broke into the Shoreline Market office in Tamalpais Valley and got away with more than $1,000 in cash, Manager William Ellis reported to the sheriff today.

Deputy Sheriff Boyd Burnham found no damage to the outer door, although a hole had been punched through the sheetrock wall of the inner office. The thief had apparently reached in through the hole to open the office door. The officer said the thief might have remained inside the store when the market closed yesterday.

What a new kick you'll get out of going places in this one! And what a solvent feeling you'll get as the savings on upkeep mount! There's a full line of models to pick from, including three wagons. Sure, we've kept Chevy II's basic simplicity. Kept its liveliness and roominess and easy loading ways. Kept its crisp looks, too (with a bit of freshening here and there). The changes we've made weren't for change's sake, you see—but for yours. Just for a sample: the brakes are self-adjusting. The new Delcotron generator gives you more electrical reserve power and helps your battery reach a vigorous old age. The Body by Fisher beauty lasts longer, too; air pushes rain and wash water down through the rocker panels (where most rust begins!) in a clever new flush-and-dry system. The ride is smoother and quieter because of a large number of small improvements we've made. And things are a lot plushier inside. Now you've read this far, haven't you? Isn't that pretty good evidence that Chevy II is made for you? The clincher will come when you take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. Clem Miller's Tragic Death Is Real Loss To All Of Us

The untimely death of Rep. Clem Miller comes as a blow to all of the people of Marin County, indeed to all in the First Congressional District.

Tragedy becomes personal to most Americans when the victim is a public official. They have campaigned for or against him; have voted for or against him for a variety of reasons. But even if he wasn't their candidate, he still was their representative.

In Clem Miller's case he was even more. He was a Marin resident and was raising his daughters here before the voters sent him to Washington. At first unsuccessful, on his second try he won a seat in the House of Representatives. He was re-elected and was campaigning for his third term when his plane went down in Sunday's storm.

Miller was an out-spoken and hard working proponent of the so-called "liberal" philosophy of government. He was sensitive to human problems and felt that federal government should do much to alleviate them.

He also was concerned with the situation in his district. Less than three weeks ago he happily accepted the designation "pork barrel liberalist" from Democratic leader Roger Kent in recognition of specific projects Miller had been able to bring to his district.

Without doubt the most impressive and important of these is the new Point Reyes Seashore, for which he worked hard and long. He lived long enough to see the park authorized, but not long enough to see the first federal appropriation or acquisition of the first piece of property to make the park a reality. But it will happen and will be a continuing memorial to his service to the public.

We of the Independent-Journal, who have not supported Clem Miller's candidacy and opposed some of his political positions, sincerely regret his tragic passing. He had become an articulate, effective advocate of his philosophy. His voice had become louder in Capitol halls. He represented the people of the district in the way he believed best for them and the way he believed they wanted to be represented.

It is particularly untimely that his death should occur at just this time, a time when the general election is too near at hand to place another name for his on the ballot. Ponderous democracy sometimes seems temporarily unfair.

And we sorrow with Clem Miller's gentle widow, Katharine, and with their five daughters. They have our deep sympathy and our most heart-felt thanks for all they have gone through in being a part of our great system of government. We hope they will return to live amongst us once more.

Golden-Crown Sparrow Returns

The shy, little golden crown sparrow has returned to Marin from his summer home in British Columbia. Our county's bird-lovers expect him the last week in September and he was right on schedule.

This little fellow with the big voice is Marin's favorite song bird. His three note, minor-key song is unforgettable, but he is a bit on the bashful side and more often heard than seen. His habit of singing in the rain causes many people to call him the rain bird.

These petite songsters can easily be recognized by their crowns of golden orange. They will be around until next April. If you don't know them, listen for them when it rains.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Tie Between Politician, Reporter Made Up Of Variety Of Things

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

A person in politics and one writing about it come together so often and in so many fields that they develop a tie which is unlike anything else I know. It is not friendship (although I have many, many friends in politics too). It is more of an understanding based on recognition of what each is attempting to do. When this tie is broken so tragically as it has just been with Rep. Clem Miller, it leaves a real sense of loss.

I've gone through three campaigns with Clem; this was the fourth. At first he was a gangling, nervous, bumbling type of speaker, unlikely material for a successful politician, but having an attraction of his own, particularly to women.

He learned a lot in that first unsuccessful congressional campaign in 1956. I recall a dinner party immediately after it. He was disheartened but not dejected. He would have changed his campaign were he given the chance to do it again, he said. But the changes he detailed were superficial, aimed at effect to gain votes.

That was a much different man than the Clem Miller who stood before a huge crowd less than three weeks ago in the Meadow Club and spoke right from the shoulder with force and authority, putting forward his point of view and letting the votes fall where they may.

I HAVE A telegram from him which starts, "Conferred with President at White House today" on plans for what eventually became the President's bill to establish the U. S. Disarmament Agency For Peace and Security. He became a co-sponsor.

A letter from him worries about the fate of redeveloping Marin City and urges local action to bring about a better situation.

I RECALL A TRIP we took together in 1958, driving to Napa to join Adlai Stevenson on a bus swing through Napa, Sonoma and Marin Counties in Stevenson's second try to defeat Dwight Eisenhower. Clem was silent that trip, unsure of the relationship between us and worried about his own campaign for Hubert Scudder's vacant seat.

But a year and a half later in Fresno at a California Democratic Council convention, we sat down together and had a heart-to-heart discussion in an effort to understand each other and to try to clarify for him "the difficulty (as he put it) which I experience as an amateur in distinguishing a newsworthy item." He never became expert, but he learned how to make news in his speeches.

HE "DEPLORED" the indifference of officials in Marin County to activities in Washington which had direct effect on the county. But he never perfected a way to keep them from being indifferent.

He faced an inner battle with himself on redistricting the First District, and I doubt he could have found a happy solution.

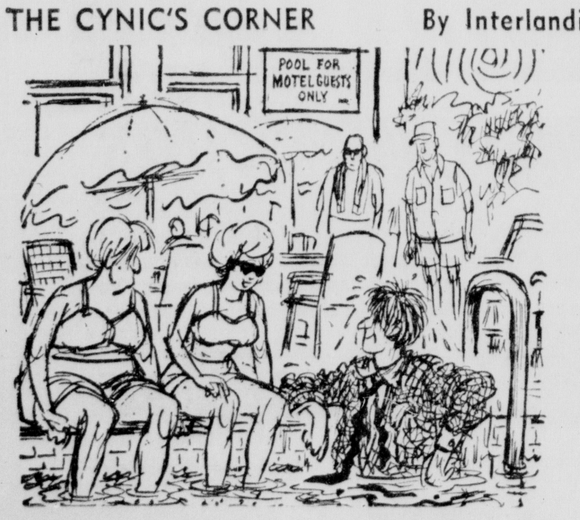

One nickname which irked him was "Spendin' Clem," but he faced it headon. It came about when the Congressional Quarterly summarized 29 so-called "economy" roll calls. Clem was found to be one of 24 congressmen who had voted 100 per cent opposed to limitation of federal spending, CQ said.

Clem answered: "I am prepared to defend every one of those measures and my vote thereon as a responsible act of the congressman from the First District." But it never ceased to irk him.

THERE ARE many other remembrances, some of them not happy ones.

But somehow the unhappy ones are disintegrating already and where Clem stood is now only a feeling of loss.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The authority of law, backed by force, has made justice possible in Mississippi. The authority of law, backed by force, ought to make possible justice among nations.

As citizens of a city, a county, a state, and a federation of states, we could not go about our daily business as peacefully as we do unless we had courts to administer justice and officers of the law to enforce it. But we grant any nation the right to settle its disputes with aggression.

We must outlaw war. Nations must settle their disputes by negotiation or by submitting them to an international court, backed by an international police force. No nation, no matter how just it believes its cause, should have the right to snuff out thousands, perhaps millions, of lives. And that is what nuclear war can do—in less than 15 minutes.

When many more nations have nuclear striking power, will we be able to allow the law of the jungle to exist among nations? We must replace it, while we can, with the rule of law.

Perhaps both parties to the cold war might be willing to end the spiraling arms race if there was a third force in the world to fill the vacuum and grant them a greater measure of security.

Housing Criticism Two Years Late

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The opinions of Real Estate Board President Edwin C. Ward are some two years late and we certainly could have used his interest back in critical periods. His interest and support would have been invaluable during the numerous public hearings, if he had only attended. He could have helped us overcome the delays and demands of FHA and deal with politics at the highest level in Washington, D.C., that we had to battle with.

In view of his lack of interest during the past critical periods, his request for a Grand Jury probe is actually a petition for his own proper education. Many of us remember how real estate members and past presidents appeared before clubs and organizations to encourage the yes vote for the redevelopment of Marin City.

Remembering their support, I, a real estate broker and member of the Real Estate Board, accepted the appointment of the supervisors as commissioner of the Fifth District. I accepted in the interest of modernizing the Gateway to Marin and have fought strongly to keep the tremendous job of redevelopment always at the level of construction cost analysis.

President Ward's attack on the product of his organization's own creation, begins to open the record as to whether their primary interest in support of the "yes" vote was to prevent decentralization.

Grand Jury probes are always healthy for the people. I believe the jury will learn as I have, that Marin City provides natural platforms for the aspirations of Doodlers interested in personal fame at the expense of those forced to do a tremendous job within limitations and principles of redevelopment dictated from Washington, D.C., itself.

Redwoods Won't Grow By Creek

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Long and valiantly this writer has withstood the temptation to respond to the letters printed on your editorial page, but the idea of planting redwood trees along the Corte Madera Creek voiced by one John H. Geiger has uncorked me at last.

Like, does Mr. Geiger and his sponsor know that the Corte Madera Creek is a salt water canal with possible 5% of fresh water averaged between summer and winter? Will redwood trees tolerate a salt marsh soil? Acacia and eucalyptus trees can manage this environment, but I've never seen redwood anywhere near salt water. However, this is the least of the problems.

Most of the land along the Corte Madera Creek lies within recorded subdivisions whose lots are privately owned with some boundaries in conflict with state surveys. Mr. Geiger seems to think, if at all, that all he has to do to get this scheme on the road is to secure the support of some clubs and then go merrily about planting trees on various privately owned lands, presumably without consulting the owners thereof.

I suggest that if Mr. Geiger has a thing about planting trees and improving the appearance of Marin County in general, he begin by seeding the tops of various hills in the county which have been graded down to provide fill for more housing tracts. After getting the consent of the owners, that is.

Come to think of it, why not stop this grading and save the trees which are already there to say nothing of Mr. Geiger's 10 bucks which he has ready to donate.

After prolonged study, a bridge expert has come up with a brand new bid calculated to be "a solace to the uneasy bidder, a reviver of interest to the poor devil who is a consistent holder of miserable cards, and a deterrent to an overbearing opponent. I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By THERON NEWELL

Add To List Of Special Weeks: Newell's Baby Visitors Week

Last week when I wrote about various national weeks, there was one week that I had not figured on. That is Newell's Baby Week.

Our apartment, which usually knows only the company of adults and dogs, resounded to the coos and cries of tiny babies.

It all started off when friends of ours from Santa Rosa spent an afternoon with us, bringing with them their three-week-old daughter. She started life as a big baby and seemed to be getting bigger with each bottle of formula.

Then other friends stopped by for a few moments en route home from the hospital with their new infant daughter.

Throughout the first part of the week, the couple across the court were getting ready to move to their new home in Oregon. Their four-week-old son spent quite a few hours in our apartment where there was more quiet and less confusion.

The end of the week brought a two-day visit by a great-nephew from Minneapolis. He was just three months old, but already showing definite signs of becoming full-back material.

So, even after 20 years of marriage without any children, I can definitely state that babies come in a variety of sizes and personalities.

ALONG WITH missing the couple and their baby from across the court, we will also miss the friendly Boxer dog that called both apartments her home. After she became acquainted with us, she always paid us several visits daily, not only for handouts, which we usually provided, but also to entertain us by going through her bag of tricks on our living room floor.

NOVATO FIRE CHIEF George Cavallero has scheduled two public showings of the film on the tragic fire last year in Bel Air, in Los Angeles, during Fire Prevention Week this week.

Cavallero said there is a big lesson for North Marin in the film, because of the similarity of the terrain, vegetation and homes being built in both areas.

"It could happen here," Cavallero said.

"What we're trying to do is to prevent it," he added, as a kind of plea for everyone to come see this free show at the Novato Community Building Thursday night.

Along with this film, Cavallero has prepared a display of newspaper pictures of burned houses after fires. At first they look like the houses that one has just seen burned in the Bel Air fire.

That is where the surprise comes in. They are pictures cut from the Independent-Journal during the past year of fires right here in Marin County.

SINCE MISSISSIPPI MESS

JFK Has Less Chance Of Second Term Now

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy is not today the sure-bet for re-election to a second term that he appeared to be before the battle of Oxford, Miss.

The political impact of James H. Meredith's effort to register at the University of Mississippi is likely to be very great. First opportunity for angry Southerners to obtain revenge on their own Democratic Party will come in next month's congressional elections, a cut off your own nose proposition.

More Republicans are seeking state and national office this year in the one-time Solid South than in any previous election. Republican congressional candidates in the South may expect to benefit and perhaps they will.

BUT COOL-MINDED Southerners may hesitate before voting out of office a congressional Democrat, however much they may resent the use of federal force in Mississippi in support of integration of the university. Southern Democrats are orphans within their own party. Their only enforceable claim to influence in national politics is based on their congressional committee chairmanships.

These chairmanships are held by Southerners out of all proportion to the number of Southerners in Congress. That situation is created by the congressional seniority system and the Southern custom of putting their men in office and keeping them there.

THE CHAIRMANSHIPS are a bulwark against the two-party system in the South. If Southern voters began replacing congressional Democrats with Republicans, years would elapse before the newcomers would be eligible for chairmanships under the seniority system.

These chairmanships would be relatively secure, however, if Southerners passed the 1962 opportunity to vote revenge and conserved their anger for the 1964 presidential election.

Southern Democrats could support the Republican ticket in 1964 to punish the Kennedy brothers. More likely they will put up their own third party presidential nominee as a Jeffersonian Democrat or some such. The objective would be to throw the election to the U. S. House of Representatives.

IF THE REGULAR party tickets split the vote outside the South, no candidate would have a majority of the electoral college and the House would choose among the top three.

Then the South would be in the saddle again. When the House chooses a president, each state has one vote, only. The South might expect to hold a balance of power in such a choice—and to make a satisfactory deal with the winner.

Parking Ban To Start In Fairfax

Fairfax's all-night parking ban will go into effect tomorrow.

Until Nov. 11, police will issue only warning tickets to those violating the ban. But for the month following, enforcement will be without exceptions, according to decisions of the Fairfax City Council last night.

The council introduced an amendment to the ordinance providing for a $1-a-month fee for six-month permits in "hardship cases." Such permits can be granted by the police chief only on recommendation of the variance board, composed of three members of the town planning commission. However, the ordinance, without an urgency clause, would not be effective until Dec. 13 if passed on second reading Nov. 13.

The council approved a plan for revocable permits issued for two years for construction of carports which would encroach on city streets. The permits will be issued by the council on the variance board's recommendation.

Building Inspector Rolfe M. Ockenden, a member of the variance board, asked the council for a definition of a hardship. Mayor W. E. Radtke answered only, "We will have to work this ordinance out."

Fairfax Council Returns Plan On Redwoods To Park Group

The Fairfax City Council last night sent the plan to cut down four redwood trees in Bolinas Park back to the recreation and park commission for further study.

The council's action was taken after City Clerk Alice Leonesio said she had received a total of 593 signatures, contained in a petition circulated by the Ross Valley 4-H Club and in individual letters, opposing the plan. She said she had received one letter in favor of the plan.

However, about eight persons at the council meeting raised their hands when asked by the council if there was anyone in the audience in favor of Commissioner Frank Salvisberg's plan to beautify the park.

Salvisberg charged that "a considerable number of people signed the petition before knowing the facts." Councilman Freeman Blake pointed out that the petition did not state the number of redwoods to be cut down and could have been misleading under the heading "Save the redwoods."

Commissioner Helen Younclaus, who was one of two dissenters in the 3-2 vote of the recreation commission to cut the trees, said 4-H Club members had been thoroughly briefed on the precise plan before circulating the petition.

According to the plan, the trees would be cut down so that grass could be planted near Bolinas Avenue and Elsie Lane. A terrace, paths and benches would also be provided.

William Kapanos, who teaches landscape gardening at the College of Marin, said the removal of four trees would not allow enough sun to grow a lawn. He said, "I see no particular need to cut down the trees."

Kapanos, who had been asked by persons opposing the plan to attend the meeting, admitted, "I haven't carefully scrutinized the plan and the park."

Salvisberg told the council that his plan "was to get the dust bowl cleaned up for people's use, not the squirrels."

There are 244 students at the Strawberry Point School. Among the new 80 there are five from Hong Kong, three from China, two from Canada, and one each from Japan, Jordan, Korea, Mexico and the Philippines.

"Significant in the figures is a decline in the number of students seeking certificates offered to those lacking a four-year liberal arts degree," said Dr. Harold K. Graves, president.

Fairfax Acts To Legislate Against Odor

The Fairfax City Council will attempt to legislate against an odor.

Mayor W. E. Radtke last night directed City Atty. Wallace S. Myers to prepare an ordinance governing keeping of cats and dogs, after the council voted for some control of pets as result of a petition complaining of "malodorous condition" at the residence of E. A. Larock at 17 Fir Trail.

Larock allegedly has about 40 cats.

Councilman Freeman Blake said he had visited the property as a result of the petition and "words don't describe the smell."

Police Chief James Orr said he had gone twice to the house but had been denied entrance by Larock.

Councilmen did not specify what should be in the ordinance, other than that it should be for control of cats and dogs. Attorney Myers was asked to consult the county health department and study similar ordinances of other cities. He is to present a proposed ordinance on Nov. 13.

The Fairfax City Council also:

1. Decided to send a letter, after City Engineer Albert M. Siemer's inspection, to San Rafael Associates Inc. requesting improvements on the site of apartment construction above Park Road which will prevent silt running down onto residents back yards.

2. Authorized spending up to $675 for Christmas decorations to match contributions by the Lions Club and Fairfax merchants.

3. Requested Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to install a street light at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Olema Road and update the city's master lighting plan.

4. Gave the Fairfax Garbage Disposal Co. one month to improve its billing system before considering a new billing system for garbage service. City Attorney Myers was to continue preparing civil suits against residents with delinquent garbage collection bills.

5. Approved the proposal for a one-cent increase in the state gasoline tax for construction of county and city roads.

6. Instructed Myers and Street Supt. Charles M. Thornton to confer on how Williams Construction of San Rafael could be forced to adhere to an Oct. 1 completion date on installation of drainage facilities on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

7. Continued to the Nov. 13 meeting a decision on how to abate a nuisance, consisting of an old structure at 30 Taylor Drive which would cost $700 to demolish.

8. Appointed Peter Arrigoni Jr. of Oak Tree Lane to the park and recreation commission.

9. Adjourned to Nov. 13 at 8 p.m.

Ben Bella Pledges Anti-Colonialism Support In First Address To U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Algerian Premier Ahmed Ben Bella pledged unconditional support today to African nationalists in their struggles in Angola, Rhodesia, South Africa and South West Africa.

He made no mention of the situation between the United States and Cuba, which he is scheduled to visit after talks with President John F. Kennedy in Washington next week. But he did support the seating of Communist China in the United Nations.

The Algerian leader, whose country became the 109th U.N. member yesterday, told the General Assembly his government stood with the Arab League countries against Israel on the problem of more than a million Arab refugees of the 1948 Palestine War.

Except for that, Ben Bella restated the determination of the Algiers regime to remain non-aligned in world politics.

"The Algerian Republic arose from a liberation struggle that surpassed the national framework to be used, henceforth, as a reference by all peoples still under colonial domination," Ben Bella said.

"Our experience has made us understand the natural solidarity that binds together these peoples. The liquidation of colonialization in its classical form —or disguised — will be the credo of our political and diplomatic action.

"Be it Angola, Rhodesia, South Africa or South West Africa, Algeria shall bring them unconditional support in order to hasten their liberation—definitive and total.

Ben Bella signed an agreement yesterday with President Sekou Toure of Guinea in which both African leaders pledged full support to countries still under colonialism. Toure was scheduled to address the assembly this afternoon—the third chief of state to do so this year.

Newsmen Battle To Get In As Edith Piaf Wed

PARIS (UPI) — Torch singer Edith Piaf, France's "Sparrow of the Streets," married a former Greek barber behind closed doors in a local mayor's office today while a strong force of police battled outside with enraged cameramen.

The battle began when police pushed everyone out of the building. One newsreel cameraman said he was severely manhandled.

The photographers and newsmen then began arguing hotly with the police and at least one photographer who shot a picture of the incident had his film taken away by the police.

Many of the spectators immediately claimed that because the doors were closed, the marriage was not valid under French law.

Miss Piaf, 46, married her protege, Theo Lamboukas, only half her age, who is known on the stage as Theo Sarapo.

The civil ceremony was to be followed by a religious ceremony in the Greek Orthodox Church nearby.

Mayor's office sources said even if the marriage was technically invalid because it was held behind closed doors, another ceremony would be necessary only if a formal protest was filed.

Legion In Closest Campaign For Commander In 14 years

LAS VEGAS (AP) — The 44th Annual American Legion Convention settled down to some old-fashioned backroom politicking today in its closest national commander election in 14 years.

Two Southerners are scrapping for the top office — James Powers of Macon, Ga., and Joseph Matthews of Fort Worth, Tex.

Powers has been actively seeking the job for the past two or three years and preparing himself for the big run this year. He is the candidate of the informal but powerful selection committee within the Legion.

Not since 1948 has this committee's choice been seriously challenged. Matthews is doing it.

He, too, has been after the commander spot for more than a year, traveling the country widely.

Informed sources say he'll take large blocks of votes in Pennsylvania, Kansas, Texas and California. But in the final analysis, say the same sources, Powers will win by a 2-1 majority in the voting Thursday of the 3,015 delegates.

Teaching Rods To Be Discussed

Copyrighting several types of rods for teaching arithmetic will be discussed by the San Jose Elementary School District board at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the district office.

The district was instrumental in development of this type of instruction, according to Supt. Ralph Giovanniello.

Sale of bonds to finance an addition to the San Jose intermediate school and acceptance of the drainage project of that school will also be considered by the board.

Hiller 'n' Haller---Yanks Find 'em Tough To Swaller

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Poetry corner:

First it was Haller.
Then it was Hiller.
One started the pallor,
The last was the killer.

The jingle boys of the San Francisco Giants—catcher Tom Haller and second baseman Charles (Chuck) Hiller — often this season have been the object, source and sometime butt of the jinglers. Even Danny Kaye has a comic song about them.

But you can take it from the New York Yankees, there's very little humorous about the manner in which these two similarly named young gents flogged the Bronx Bombers with their own home run weapon yesterday to square the World Series.

Haller, not Hiller, smote a second inning home run with a man on which gave the Giants a 2-0 lead.

Hiller, not Haller, walloped the first National League grand slam in Series history — the Yankees owning six of the seven previously written into the record books—to stow away a 7-3 victory.

You might expect it from Haller, if not from Hiller. Haller is a six foot, four inch 195-pounder out of Lockport, Ill., who was a University of Illinois quarterback on the same grid team with the great Bobby Mitchell. He already had walloped 18 home runs this year so another wasn't to be considered too remote a possibility.

But while you could look for such heroics from Haller, it seemed unlikely from Hiller when he trudged to the plate with the sacks full of Giants in the seventh inning. For Hiller, not Haller, had massaged only three home runs during this entire wacky baseball season in which the Giants collared the Los Angeles Dodgers, beat them out of the National League gonfalon in a three-game playoff and as of today were no worse than in a flat-footed tie at two games each with the mighty Yankees.

Hiller and Haller both started as regulars with the Giants last year and it was Haller, not Hiller, who on his first time at bat in the major leagues struck a home run. But eventually both of them were sent down to the farm.

Hiller, not Haller, is built on a smaller scale than his teammate. The second baseman, who hails from Johnsburg, Ill., a town of about 1,000 people, is five feet, 10 inches tall and goes but 170 pounds. He studied business administration at St. Thomas, Minn., College and admits to arriving "very late" in the majors. Hiller was 26 when he stuck while Haller was 25.

"It's all very confusing," says Hiller of his relations with Haller. "We get mixed up a lot. People call me Tom Hiller and call him Chuck Haller when really it's Chuck Hiller and Tom Haller, as you probably know. Then I get mail addressed to Tom Haller and he gets mail addressed to Chuck Hiller, and it's really for one or the other of us, although sometimes we're not too sure, at that."

Hiller, not Haller, was obtained by the Giants from the Cleveland chain. The Indians had signed Hiller, not Haller, because Haller was signed by the Giants, for a "very small bonus."

"Actually nobody wanted me very much, said Hiller, and after his grand slam, that included the Yankees.

As the boys in the poetry corner figured it out:

Whether it's Hiller
Or whether it's Haller,
Take it from the Yanks,
They're tough pills to swaller.

Parade Is Planned To Welcome Team

The San Francisco Giants will receive a hero's welcome when they return home to face the New York Yankees in Candlestick Park.

Acting Mayor Harold Dobbs has planned a parade in open cars up Market Street to city hall, where each Giant will be introduced from the balcony. The parade is tentatively scheduled for 8:30 p.m. the day the team returns.

Dobbs urged that fans greet the Giants downtown rather than at International Airport, the scene of mass confusion last week when a mob of 50,000 greeted the Giants returning from playoffs in Los Angeles.

The Giants have one more game in New York. Yesterday a grand slam home run by Chuck Hiller gave San Francisco a 7-3 win over New York and evened the World Series at 2-2.

The team deserves a tremendous welcome home so they'll know we're with them for the final games at Candlestick," Dobbs said yesterday.

INJURY, SLUMP

Marichal, Cepeda Dejected Players

NEW YORK (AP)—Juan Marichal stood guardedly protecting his injured finger, his back jammed against a wall in the San Francisco dressing room. Orlando Cepeda dressed hurriedly and privately in his cubicle, and after straightening his tie once more, started to leave.

It was a victory celebration for the Giants after Monday's 7-3 triumph over the Yankees in the fourth game of the World Series, but you couldn't tell it by the two most dejected ball players on either team.

"I don't think I pitch again in the series," said Marichal, holding up the index finger on his pitching hand and showing a blue and purple finger nail where he had been hit while attempting a squeeze bunt.

Marichal, already battered about both legs from earlier injuries, got the squeeze sign with the Giants leading 2-0 in the fifth inning. There were men on first and third and two strikes on the Giants' hurler.

"Whitey Ford threw one bad, inside low," said Marichal, a 24-year-old right-hander from the Dominican Republic. "I could not let it go by because (Tom) Haller was coming from third. The ball hit my finger, not the bat. I knew I was out because I swung at third strike."

Marichal, who had been working on a shutout, had to leave the game.

"I'm very tired," said the hulking first baseman who has failed to get a hit in 12 tries. "I like to get some hits, but we win. That's the reason we here, so I not so unhappy."

Did he do anything to try and break out of his slump?

"Swing the bat," he said, "keep swinging, keep swinging."

Good Turnout In Last Race Of Yacht Season

By ALFRED MATSON

Despite a couple of counter attractions of great portent, the World Series and 49er-Baltimore football game, a goodly fleet of yachts saw action in the final race of the season Sunday, the St. Francis Y.C.'s handicap division regatta.

Yet it may be assumed that few of the participants were not equipped with radios and the distracting news from New York might have dampened the ardor of many of the skippers and crews.

There is little question that, at least, one skipper wished he had stayed home, comfortably ensconced in front of his TV set. And that sailing buff is Dunlap Smith of Tiburon; his Thunderbird class sloop was dismasted, an unhappy circumstance that was doubly so as it was a repeat disaster of the last race, but two weeks prior.

The weather was clear and a brisk breeze prevailed within the bay but, for the boats in Cruising Club "A," "B" and "C," which had to beat out the Golden Gate to channel buoy No. 1, the wind lightened perceptibly and it proved slow work, rounding that weather mark. On the run in, those who chose the north shore benefited by stronger breezes and moved into commanding positions.

In Cruising Club "A," Tim Moseley's Orient emerged the victor but was hard pressed by Wally Nickell's Santana which finished, on corrected time, only one minute, 18 seconds astern. Baruna was third, followed by Athene. The other entry, Orion, did not finish.

In both "B" and "C" a couple cliff-hanging finishes developed. In "B," Dean Morrison's Chrysopyle eked out a three-second win over Bob White's Kandu with Chris Kiskaddon's Spirit in the third spot.

It was a battle down to the wire in "C" division with well nigh a blanket finish for the first four boats, Bill Trask's Hoyden, Bob Potter's Touche, Malcolm Deweese's Baby Grand and Ted Stephen's Debit, which finished in that order. In finishing third, it must have given Dewees complete satisfaction, as his season long nemesis, and builder of his Dasher class sloop, Hank Easom, wound up fifth in Serenade.

Prep Game Changed To Afternoon

Friday's Marin Athletic League football game between San Rafael and Novato high schools at San Rafael, originally scheduled to start at 8 p.m., has been moved up to a 4 p.m. starting time, it was announced today.

San Rafael Athletic Director Angelo Colombo explained, "The league tends to favor afternoon games instead of night and we thought we'd like to try it out."

He added, there are fewer problems for authorities at day games. "We've had our problems at nights, especially with over-enthusiastic alumni. And as a result we've had to hire extra police to patrol the stadium."

The varsity game Friday will start at 4 p.m. and the junior varsity at 6 o'clock.

Other games in the league this weekend are on Saturday. Tamalpais vs. Redwood, 2 o'clock, at Kentfield, and Drake at Terra Linda at 1:30.

Series Sidelights

NEW YORK (AP)—Series sidelights:

Marshall Bridges of the Yanks, who served up the grand slam homer to Chuck Hiller, has only one decision against the Giants—a victory in relief on Sept. 10, 1960. Hiller wasn't with the San Francisco team at that time. Bridges' over-all National League mark with St. Louis and Cincinnati before he joined the Yankees was 12-6.

THE HOME RUN the left-handed Hiller hit was only the fifth off Bridges this year. During the regular campaign, the Yankee southpaw yielded homers to Dick McAuliffe of Detroit, Floyd Robinson of the Chicago White Sox and Albie Pearson — all left-handed hitters—and Ed Sadowski of the Los Angeles Angels.

AFTER 12 years in the major leagues, Bob Nieman finally got into his first World Series game and didn't even get an opportunity to swing a bat. He was walked intentionally batting for Ed Bailey in the seventh inning.

EACH SERIES team has struck out 23 times. Willie Mays of the Giants and Tom Tresh and Mickey Mantle of the Yanks have fanned the most times, four apiece.

THE SEVENTH inning has been the most productive one so far with nine runs scored in that frame—five by the Giants and four by the Yanks. The ninth inning is next with five runs.

Although Whitey Ford was not involved in yesterday's decision, the Yankee lefty extended four of his own pitching records. They were: most games pitched—18; most games started—18; innings pitched—124 and strikeouts—79.

YANK MANAGER Ralph Houk is becoming more and more impressed by the Giants, especially since they tied the series at two games each. "Our scouts felt the Giants would be tougher than the Dodgers," Houk said. "So far the Giants have done nothing to change the report."

BILL STAFFORD, who won Sunday's game for the Yanks, still is hobbling from the crack he got on the left shin by a batted ball in the eighth inning. He's in doubt if he'll be able to start again. "Hurts worse now than it did when I got hit," he said sadly. "The pain has gone up to the knee and down the side of the leg."

WHEN DON LARSEN pitched a perfect World Series game against the Brooklyn Dodgers just six years ago as a member of the Yanks, Yogi Berra, his catcher, raced out to the mound and jumped all over him at the end of the game. Monday, as a Giant, Larsen faced Berra when he came in to pitch in the sixth inning. "I kept remembering Yogi jumping on top of me six years ago," Larsen said, "the only other thing I could think of was trying to keep Yogi from hitting that short porch (the right field stands)."

P.S. Yogi walked.

World Series Boat Service Available

Round-trip water transportation to Candlestick Park from the south end of the Ferry Building, San Francisco, and from Oakland's Jack London Square for tomorrow's World Series game (and Friday's, too, if there is a game), was announced today by the Harbor Tug and Barge Co.

The red-and-white 400-passenger sightseeing boats Harbor King and Harbor Queen will leave both places at 10:15 a.m. for the trip to Candlestick Park, and will return one-half hour after the game. Cost is $3 round-trip, and reservations must be made in advance.

Davidson May Be Okay For Action In Oakland Game

OAKLAND (AP)—Quarterback Cotton Davidson is expected to be ready for action when the winless Oakland Raiders host the Denver Broncos Sunday.

The signal caller suffered stretched ligaments in his right shoulder Friday night when his American Football League club dropped a 44-7 decision to Denver for its fourth consecutive loss.

"We need a victory because even our good football players are starting to wonder about the team," assistant coach Ollie Spencer said Monday.

"We've got fine players in most spots and we just have to overcome the costly mistakes that have been giving the other teams those big leads," he added.

Hiller, Haller Prove Good Hitters Can Belt Any Kind Of Pitching

CONNOLLY

Tom Haller and Chuck Hiller, rookie lefthanded hitters, became World Series heroes because they were allowed to remain in the lineup, even against lefthanded pitching.

Now if the other half of the Giant experiment can resolve itself, Willie McCovey may be allowed to face southpaw pitching and prove, like Haller and Hiller, good hitters can hit any kind of pitching.

Haller's two-run homer in the second inning of the fourth game of the series not only sent the Giants into the lead but perhaps added $10,000 to his paycheck in 1963.

ONLY McCOVEY, who hit a tape measure homer in the second game, seems to have been shackled against southpaws. I'm sure Manager Alvin Dark will reinstate "Lovey Dovey" the first chance he gets and complete a cycle in the Giant youth movement that can carry on for years.

McCovey's worth, if he isn't allowed freedom against lefty pitching, is sliced in half. And so would the value of Haller and Hiller if they were benched every time a southpaw worked.

The Giant youth movement got its biggest lift yesterday when the rookies delivered, outshadowing the great Willie Mays, Felipe Alou and the fast fading Orlando Cepeda.

One lefthanded pitcher in the National League, Warren Spahn, marvels when he hears McCovey is weak against southpaws. Spahn will testify that McCovey, if given the opportunity, will clobber tape measure drives, as far and as long against the lefties, as he does against the righties.

There is one distressing feature of the rookie homers. It makes the 61 home run record of Roger Maris shrink to the size of a comma. When kids in their virgin years as regulars can pump line drives in there, what is so great about the Maris record? But they say a home run is what fans want to see, so as long as the paying customers like it, you can bet it will remain.

Coming from behind as the Giants did again yesterday pulls the shades down on the invincible Yankees. You have just to look at them in a slump to realize that good pitching can do a lot of things but without runs, good pitching is wasted.

To these old eyes the turning point against the Giants yesterday was when Moose Skowron, with a triple and a single to his credit and runners on, and a base open, was pitched to. If ever there was a time to fill 'em up and play back for the double play, it was in this particular instance. But the Giant skipper, playing long odds, took a chance and the Yanks evened it up.

The next chance came for Alvin, which he played perfectly, was in allowing Hiller to hit with the bags loaded. And for that kindly gesture we all can overlook the other questionable move.

Completes Duty

Army Sp. 4 John R. Richards, son of Col. William S. Richards of 118 Linden Lane, San Rafael, recently completed a three-month tour of duty with the U. S. Army Range unit in the Hebrides Islands, Scotland.

MEADOW CLUB'S SILVA WINS PGA OPENER

MODESTO (UPI) — The annual Northern California PGA Tournament started yesterday with 57 pros fighting for honors in the first two rounds.

Highlight of the second half saw George Buzzini Jr. of the host Del Rio Golf and Country Club down John Zontek at the 20th hole.

THE TAMING OF A WILDCAT

Wally Lourdeaux (white jersey) of Marin Catholic Wildcats caught a pass good for a 20-yard gain in first quarter of Saturday night's game with the Tamalpais Indians but was finally brought to a screeching halt by Tam's Warren Domino with an assist by Don Johnston (42). Cal Really Bad Off At QB Post

When the 1962 football season began, California's greatest strength appeared to be quarterback depth and quality.

But now two-thirds of this asset—Randy Gold and Craig Morton—are gone, and Coach Marv Levy has a problem.

Morton, a sophomore touted as an eventual all-everything, hasn't played because of a bad knee and is still limping around on crutches.

Gold, a senior plagued for three years by injuries, is out for the season because of torn knee ligaments received Saturday against Pittsburgh.

"That really hurts our defense," said Levy yesterday to Northern California football writers in San Francisco. "Now we'll have to have Larry Balliett (the remaining third of the quarterback strength) out a lot when we're on defense so he can run the offense. We'll go with a sophomore on defense."

The sophomore is Jim Walter, who, with little game experience, must also back up Balliett on offense. Gold normally ran the offense, with Balliett serving as an excellent pass defender.

Levy said Duke, with a devastating passing attack, would severely test his defenders this week. "Against Florida last week they completed 12 in a row at one-point-seven on the same pattern."

STANFORD PROBLEM

Stanford's Jack Curtice spent his time talking about Washington State end Hugh Campbell, whom the Indians face Saturday at Spokane, Wash.

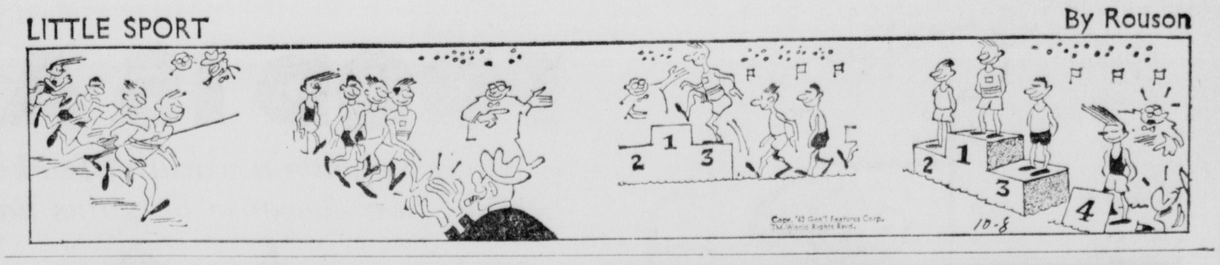

"No other human being can run as slow as Hugh Campbell," said Curtice. "My problem is this. Do I put two men on him and embarrass them both or just one and embarrass only one?"

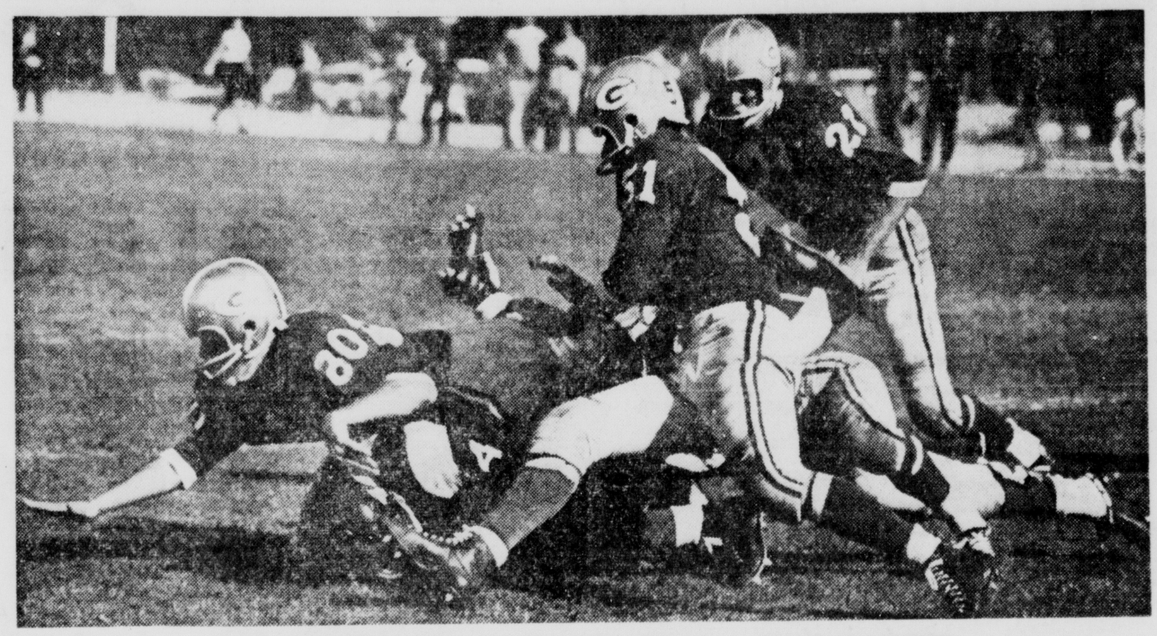

"I just don't know how that boy does it. That skalawag fascinates me." Campbell has led the nation in pass receiving for two seasons. Last week Stanford had its problems with Vern Burke of Oregon State, who is trying to unseat Campbell as the national leader, and lost 27-0.

Bob Titchenal, whose San Jose club lost 14-0 at Oregon, said the Ducks have a tremendous line—but he wasn't too impressed with highly-rated halfback Mel Renfro.

Johnny Johnson of San Jose and Frank Patitucci of Stanford, each outstanding in losing causes, were named Bay Area back and lineman of the week respectively.

Now Hickey Is Happy With 49ers

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers is slowly climbing back off that limb he found himself on two weeks ago.

The 49er mentor had repeatedly called the 1952 squad the best he has had in his tenure as head coach. The team then lost its first two games in ignominious fashion. But the Prospectors downed Minnesota Sept. 29, 21-7.

Today Hickey said that "this is the team I've been telling you about" after viewing films of the 49ers' 21-13 triumph of Baltimore Sunday. The score was misleading, for except for three costly fumbles, it could have been 42-13.

Hickey said "we just took the Colts head on and knocked them down."

The coach was also cheered by the injury report. Ed Pine, Ted Connolly, Clyde Conner and Jim Johnson were banged up in the Baltimore game, but all but Johnson are sure to be ready to go for Sunday's game at Chicago and Johnson probably will be in there too.

Bobby Gaiters missed the game with a charley horse, but was also expected to be ready for the Bears.

Hour Telecast Of Grand Prix Slated

A live and direct one-hour telecast of the 200-mile Riverside Grand Prix sports car races will be seen Sunday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. on KRON-TV, San Francisco, it was announced today.

49ers Look Impressive In Colt Victory; Show Variety

RANDOL

Nobody knows just where the San Francisco 49ers are going, but at least they are heading in the right direction. Sunday's win over the Baltimore Colts 21 to 13 made it two in a row and evens the score for the season.

If you are looking for variety, the 49ers can give it to you. Every week it's a different team. In losing to Chicago, the Niners looked awful. In losing to Detroit they looked good. In beating the Minnesota Vikings there was little to brag about. And against the Colts the 49ers played their best game of the year.

WITH A COUPLE of exceptions, the humbling of the once mighty Baltimore club was a "picture book" win. Always at his best against the Colts, J. D. Smith exploited a weakness in the middle of the Colt line and ran like a souped up claimer in the third at Tanforan.

John Brodie, who couldn't hit for missing last week, riddled the Baltimore defense with 15 completions out of 19 attempts. Bernie Casey caught passes wherever they were thrown. The offensive line had charge, and the defense was rugged.

Wild Bill Kilmer had another great day, although his untimely fumble robbed the 49ers of a sure touchdown. Kilmer runs like a frightened antelope, and his arms have to balance the eccentric patterns of his feet. Result: fumbles.

PUTTING EVERYTHING together, give Coach Red Hickey and his assistants due credit for tying up the loose ends. It is not often that a coach can plan a game and see his plans executed the way he drew them on paper or the chalkboard.

And, as I keep yammering, consider the classic example of professional defense failing to adjust to surprise. On two separate occasions Kilmer was dropped into the quarterback spot with Brodie on the sidelines. Both times he rolled out for long gainers. Both times the Colt defense was caught looking.

Hickey still has not exploited the tremendous possibilities of Kilmer's talents, mostly because he has been too far ahead or too far behind. When the defense begin to look for the Kilmer rollout and begin to stack the ends, Bill will be able to pass over their heads to his choice of two or three receivers. Surprise again.

WITHOUT BOBBY Gaiters on offense and Jim Ridlon on defense, the 49ers filled the gaps. Brodie was on target because his protection was the best of the year. All signs point to a big revenge effort against the Chicago Bears next week, with all the stops pulled out. And don't pooh-pooh the idea.

The complete failure of ex-49er R. C. Owens to hurt his old club must have been real satisfaction to the front office. It is no secret that the brass felt that the Colts had let down the rest of the league when they signed the Ooper after he had played out his option in San Francisco.

You can not give the 49ers a rave notice as yet, but the improvement is noticeable. Everybody loves a winner.

'Bama No. 1 Grid Power

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Defending national champion Alabama shot back into the No. 1 position in the weekly Associated Press college football poll today while Ohio State tumbled all the way down to No. 10.

The Crimson Tide, replaced by Ohio State a week ago, compiled 445 points to outdistance Texas, in the No. 2 spot, and Penn State, which moved up to No. 3 Texas had 422 points and Penn State 321.

The points are compiled on a basis of 10 for a first place, 9 for a second and so on. A nation-wide panel of sports writers and sportscasters voted.

Texas, which crushed Tulane last week, 35-8, actually was the only club to give Alabama a run for its money. The Crimson Tide compiled 23 first-place votes to 20 for Texas. Alabama had a tough time beating Vanderbilt, 17-7, Penn State turned back Rice, 18-7.

Following the top three came Southern California, No. 4; Mississippi, No. 5; Louisiana State, No. 6; Washington, No. 7; Arkansas, No. 8; Purdue, No. 9 and Ohio State, No. 10.

The Buckeyes, beaten by UCLA, 9-7, dropped nine places.

Warriors Beaten, But Chamberlain Hits 51

OLYMPIA, Wash. (UPI)—The Los Angeles Lakers scored a 129-111 exhibition game victory over the San Francisco Warriors last night despite 51 points by the losers' Wilt Chamberlain.

It was the first professional cage contest in the city's history.

Starlight Dancers Organized

Mrs. Bari Frohlich of San Rafael, director of the Junior Cotillion of Marin, announces the formation of a new dance group for high school students to be called the "Starlighters."

All students who have been members of the Junior Cotillion, the Dixie Junior Promenade or the St. Anselm's dance classes are eligible for membership in the Starlighters.

The 1962-63 series of dances will include four orchestra dances at the Masonic Hall in San Rafael and a dinner dance at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club. There will be no instruction given at these dances as all of the members will have had previous training in social dancing.

On Nov. 3, the "kick-off" dance will begin the series. The Christmas dance will feature a waltz contest and large trophies will be awarded to the winning couple.

The Starlighters are planning a Masquerade dance in February. Prizes will be given for the best costumes. A Coronation ball will be the theme of the April dance. Again prizes will be awarded to the boy and girl elected king and queen.

A dinner dance at the Peacock Gap Country Club will terminate the Starlighters' season.

Pa Not Free Agent In Food Selection

NEW YORK (UPI) — A survey by a baby food manufacturer shows that father may bring home the bacon but it's mother who tells him what and how much to buy.

The results of a survey on baby food buying were revealed at the 20th annual Newspaper Food Editors Conference.

Ninety-six per cent of the mothers questioned said that they alone decided what brands, varieties and quantities of baby food to buy, and did much of the shopping alone 88 per cent of the time. The study showed that 11 per cent of the fathers shopped alone but only one per cent of them were free agents in selecting brands, varieties and quantities.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D
Guidance Counselor

Five Year Old Is Independent But He Admires His Parents

Do you have a five-year-old? I envy you. Five-year-olds are not placid, but they are fun.

Your boy is big stuff around the neighborhood. He's been there longer than the three and four-year-olds. He knows which folks can be depended upon for a cookie, and which neighbors are apt to scold him. He knows where the best throwing rocks are found, and which fences have holes in them. He isn't afraid to cook a meal, or do the laundry, or climb to the top of a shaky ladder. He understands about trees, swings, teeter-totters and slides. His confidence is sublime; his judgment is weak. No wonder five-year-olds are forever falling and getting hurt.

Probably your little boy is scrappy. He'll argue with his brother over anything, no matter how petty. He comes to blows with his buddies every now and then. Recently, I broke up a fist fight between two five-year-olds who were fighting over Santa Claus. Was Santa real or was he fake? The little guys were going at it hammer and tongs.

The other side of the picture is the way your five-year-old loves and admires you. Daddy is the greatest man ever born. His knowledge has no limits. He can do all things. Mama is the quintessence of perfection. She could even lick the other mamas on the block, if she wanted to.

School will help your five-year-old. In kindergarten he'll learn more about obedience. He'll develop surprising habits of generosity. He'll settle down. Suddenly a phase of his childhood will be over. When that time comes you'll miss your rambunctious young'n. Enjoy him while you can.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My daughter has taught herself to read. She is four. Now she wants to go to the library and get children's books. Should we take her? Do many children learn this way?"—Mrs. W.B.

(A) Perhaps one in two hundred teaches herself to read at age four. Don't push your girl, but don't hold her back. Take her to the library. Have the woman in charge of the children's section help her get the right books.

Marin Women

Hose Hues Are Exotic

The oddest hosiery shades yet will be shimmering on the legs of women this winter, particularly women with heavy legs.

One new hue is an exotic blend of black and red. Another is a mixture of brown and green. And still another is a brown and black combination. The dark shades are slimming in appearance.

What kind of stockings do you wear under the new shoe boots?

Copy Of Classics

Women who ride to the hounds are leaving their impression on any occasion sportswear. From hacking jacket to hunt coat to high boots and to frontier pants, the mark on fall sportswear is a copy of the classics. Other signs of the horsey-set's influence: stock shirts, rat catchers, ascot and scarf ties.

A Favorite For Suburban Living— The Beret Comes Cropping Up On Masculine Pates World Over

You see it on men in buses, on the street. Numerous sports car drivers are addicted to it. So are the country squire types and the dashing collegiate set. Even businessmen.

A number of stores which never stocked the Basque shepherd's standard headgear have added it to their cap departments. Other stores which have carried it for 25 years report a steady surge in its popularity.

Suburban living has created more freedom of dress. Sports car chauffeurs like the beret for its practicality, especially with the car top down. The increase in international travel has affected men's headwear styles. Men have had more "exposure" to the French beret through travel, although one well-traveled male said the only beret he saw in Paris on a recent trip "were on American tourists."

Research into origin of the beret indicates it may have been a part of masculine apparel of ancient Greece. Early Greek and Roman travelers are believed to have introduced the beret to the Basque country. Today, France is the principal source of the beret. The Scots have another variation called the tam o'shanter.

Who is the beret type?

One store buyer said: "We get a lot of middleaged men with receding hairlines and portly figures who consider the beret the most becoming thing for a round face."

But it's selling all ages, from campus to country club set. (UPI)

Pressure Gauge

No one can prophesy the future of fashion because "no one can prophesy the future of the world." So says James Laver, curator emeritus of the Victoria and Albert Museum, London. "I am one of those who believe that the two things cannot be separated," Laver continues.

"Furthermore, I am unable to accept the 'hard-headed' opinion that fashions are dictated by half a dozen business men who sit in Paris and decide what women are going to do next," he said. "Fashion is much more profound than that —in fact, it is nothing less than the blood-pressure gauge of Western civilization."

Laver made his comments during a visit to the United States to receive an award from a Dallas store.

Salad Or Dessert

Spice a fruit gelatin mold with red cinnamon candies. Add ¼ cup candies to 1½ cups hot water and ¼ cup syrup from canned fruit cocktail. Add a package of lemon gelatin, stirring until dissolved. When partially set, stir in 1 cup drained canned fruit cocktail. Chill until firm and serve as dinner salad or refreshing dessert.

Svelte seamless hosiery in all popular weights is making real news this season as non-run stockings come into the stores. No-runs are not new in full-fashioned hosiery, but the seamless wonders are.

YOUR HOUSEHOLD

To Amuse A Sick Child Take Cap And Plant Seeds

To amuse a sick child, take a colorful cap from a shampoo or detergent container and plant a few seeds in regular soil. Enclose an eye dropper for watering the flower pot. Lentil seeds, used for soup, sprout quickly into vines.

To clean a driveway, sidewalk, patio or garage in a matter of minutes, scrub all surfaces with hot soap or detergent suds and a broom. Then use a garden hose to wash away loosened dirt, oil drip and leaves.

To show paintings to their best advantage, hang them on a wall painted white. In this ways the colors in the painting will not be affected by their background.

For easy to see earring boxes, save your plastic zipper containers and pill bottles. These are also handy containers to use in sewing boxes and bathroom medicine cabinets.

When cutting fabrics laminated to foam, place pattern on right side of fabric. When folded, with foam sides together, fabric is unlikely to slip, and requires relatively little pinning. No shrinking is needed.

Label raincoats, coats, hats and other gear Junior and Janie wear to school and parks. For small children especially, make the letters big enough to be seen from a distance. This method eases the "lost articles" problem for child, you and school hands.

Make a record of immunizations your kindergarten tot has had to date. Most schools expect this as a routine part of admission.

Geometric designs, fashioned of colored plastic tape, help a child to spot his boots when they're lined up with 25 other pairs in school. The toe or back of boot is a good place to stick the identifying design.

Include low-calorie snacks in the school lunch box if a youngster of yours has a weight problem. Celery, carrots, apples and such are better than candy and cakes for the youngster who wants to lose weight.

GUARD AGAINST VITAMIN DEFICIENCY IN THE BOTTLE!

Faulty processing, lack of proper controls and other causes can "rob" vitamins of from 20% to over 90% of their potency!

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

Respond In Opponent's Suit To Show Game-Going Hand

Today we continue our discussion of bids in the enemy's suit. You make such a bid surprisingly often in response to your partner's takeout double.

Pass	4 ♠	All Pass

Opening lead — ◇ 4

In today's hand North wants to get to game since he has 13 points in high cards opposite a takeout double.

Since North doesn't want to guess whether spades or hearts will make a better trump suit he bids the enemy's suit to thrust the choice back on South.

INTERFERENCE

Because of interference bidding the choice takes place at the level of game. North is quite satisfied with this because he has full values for game.

Occasionally a cue-bid of this kind is dropped below game. For example, if West had kept quiet North would have bid only two diamonds, and South would have bid only two spades.

North would bid four spades with the actual hand but would bid only three if his hand were slightly weaker. Then South, if his hand also were slightly weaker, might pass.

COURAGE NEEDED

Very seldom are both partners willing to stop at three of a major, and very seldom does the bidding give them this choice. As a practical matter, the cue-bid in response to a takeout double is almost invariably a force to game.

At four spades South will win ten or eleven tricks, declarer ruffs the second diamond, draws trumps and gives up dummy's queen of clubs to the king.

Dummy must ruff the diamond return, and declarer continues with the hearts.

MUST DECIDE

Eventually, declarer leads a low club from dummy and must decide whether to play the ace or finesse with the 10. At rubber bridge South should play the ace to make sure of his contract. At duplicate, South should finesse.

If North had to choose the game, he would probably bid hearts rather than spades.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Aspirin Can Be Real Headache If You Are One Who Reacts In Wrong Way

VAN DELLEN

Drug reactions are so variable it is difficult to answer the question, "What symptoms occur when there is a reaction to aspirin?" Physicians make a distinction between side effects, intolerance, or sensitivity to drugs. All are reactions but the cause and manifestations vary.

The more serious reactions stem from allergy. The individual is sensitive to aspirin and develops a rash, hives, swelling of the face, or a severe asthmatic attack after taking one tablet. Occasionally a person is so highly sensitive, shock ensues within a few minutes and, unless treated promptly, death occurs.

IN OTHER INSTANCES, the allergic reactions are somewhat different. Some develop fever or arthritis, with swollen, painful joints. In others, the white blood cells are destroyed, leaving the individual with little or no defense against infection. Reactions of this type may persist despite withdrawal of the medicine — less so with aspirin than with penicillin. Prompt relief usually follows the use of ephedrine, an antihistaminic, or one of the corticosteroids such as cortisone.

Toxic reactions to aspirin usually stem from overdosage and include nausea, vomiting, flushing of the skin, ringing of the ears, deafness, and drowsiness. Mental disturbances have been noted and some bleed from the stomach or from other organs.

ASPIRIN ALSO is the most common cause of accidental poisoning in children. The youngsters develop a severe acidosis and the condition is suspected when they become drowsy and breathe rapidly after taking aspirin (often chocolate-covered and mistaken for candy). The stomach must be pumped out and fluids are given by vein to combat the overacidity.

A few persons are unusually sensitive to the normal action of a drug and develop all the signs of toxicity even though only a small amount is taken. One aspirin, for example, makes them nauseated or leads to ringing of the ears. This is drug intolerance, or an idiosyncrasy; the individual says "I just can't take aspirin because it makes me ill."

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

SWOLLEN ANKLES

Mrs. V. writes: I'm heavy and my ankles swell after being on my feet all day. I like to sleep with my legs elevated on a cushion. Is this a safe thing to do?

REPLY

Yes, but it may not prevent swelling during the day. This symptom deserves investigation, even though the cause may never be found. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on edema of the legs.

NICKEL ALLOY

Mrs. L. writes: I had my rings reset from yellow to white gold and whenever I wear them my ring finger enlarges. Do you think I'm allergic to white gold?

REPLY

No, but you may be allergic to nickel, which is a constituent of white gold.

BONE DEAFNESS

Mrs. J. S. writes: Since otosclerosis is a progressive loss of hearing, how long does it take to get completely deaf?

REPLY

It varies with the individual and with each ear. Deafness may progress slowly or rapidly or become inactive.

INHERITED BALDNESS

H. C. D. writes: Is male baldness inherited through the mother?

REPLY

Deflation Is Bugaboo To Some Investors

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Deflation is the new bugaboo of a small but growing group of stock market and business observers.

A few months back a more vocal group was worrying about prices of goods and marked cheapening of the dollar.

Some of them still are, mainly because the prospects of an increasing treasury deficit could pressure monetary inflation.

But more are now talking about the prospect of deflation. That is, a drop in commodity prices and those of basic industrial products, and still weaker stock prices that might forecast, and nurture, a recession that could become world wide.

Just as the inflationary scare has yet to show any signs of materializing, so deflationary fears here and abroad may be only borrowing of trouble.

Weakness of stock markets in the United States, followed by declining markets in many other financial centers, has set the stage for the deflation specter. A bear market brings all sorts of pessimists out of the wings under the gaze of a disillusioned public.

More factual is a long period in which most commodity prices have remained below their former highs. Some industrial prices are being cut. Example: weakness in some steel product prices.

Farther afield, those who talk of a chance of deflation ahead base it on fears a new recession may be in the making for the United States next year. And they think this might involve other nations. Already England has been slowing down. Japan has been showing some internal trouble spots. West Germany's postwar boom has lost some of its shine.

Both U. S. government and corporate economists have been stressing that the inflationary boom that followed World War II apparently has ended.

But this doesn't mean that deflation is inevitable.

While commodity and industrial material prices have been weak, most retail prices haven't —as you doubtless know. All of the manufacturing, distribution and servicing costs that come between the prime producer and the consumer have gone on rising. And so have the costs of the multiplying personal services that play an ever greater role in your life.

So deflation is unlikely to show any time soon at the consumer level. At present it is a worry for the prime producers and for manufacturers faced with competition that seems to grow on all sides, both at home and from abroad. And it will be a worry for stock traders, since many of the biggest corporations are in the producing or processing fields.

The problem is whether they can keep their prices high enough to assure healthy profit margins.

'Killer' Shark Taken In Canal

A baby "killer" shark was hauled out of the San Rafael Canal Saturday by John Blake, 12, of Greenbrae, and his friend, David Beadling.

The boys were fishing in the canal when Blake felt a tug on his line and began reeling in. When they saw the shark, Beadling scooped it up with his fish net.

Blake, a seventh grade student at Kentfield School, Kentfield, said the shark had teeth, a dorsal fin and was identified as a killer shark by an adult fisherman in the area. The shark, which measured 20 inches, was put in a can of water and died later in the day.

Bank Bag Found, No Money In It

A bank bag stolen in burglary of the Alvarado Elementary School in Alameda County was found Saturday night in Corte Madera Creek, but with no money inside, Police Chief Howard Clark of Larkspur reported yesterday.

Chief Clark said John C. Thoelecke of 25 Alta Mira Court, Kentfield, found the bag in the creek behind Larkspur Firehouse 2 in Greenbrae. Inside were Bank of America savings books and envelopes for school lunchroom receipts.

The Alameda County sheriff's office reported the bag contained less than $10 in lunchroom receipts when it was stolen from the school in a burglary Oct. 1 or 2.

A continued Alcoholic Beverage Control Department hearing on accusations against the Bridgeway Inn, 621 Bridgeway, Sausalito, will begin at 10 a.m. Dec. 26 in the Labor Council Building, 701 Mission Avenue, San Refael.

The hearing, expected to last at least 10 days, will investigate charges of disorderly premises, lewd and indecent act and permitting minors on the premises. Glenn F. Hill is listed as the holder of the liquor license for Bridgeway Inn.

Larkspur Planners Due Apartment Plan

Architectural supervision for 10 apartments planned by the Jebb Development Co. in Assessment District 30 on Corte Madera Creek will be considered by the Larkspur Planning Commission meeting at 8 p.m. today in the city hall.

A condominium map for an apartment development by Heiman-McCall in Bon Air subdivision 4 will be reviewed. Commissioners will continue discussing a proposed new subdivision ordinance.

Your Independent-Journal is Your Market Place

In newspapers the news of better products and services is as important to today's modern family as that of current events or features concerning home and family, food and fashion, hobbies and health.

For newspapers are the medium by which most people shop. No other medium supplies the variety and detail of advertising by which one may compare prices and benefits and choose the comforts and conveniences that make for a full living standard.

There's much significance in this for local advertisers. For only in the newspaper can people of all age and income groups find the information and inspiration so necessary for good citizenship and for the enjoyment of a better way of life.

And because newspapers gain their friendship and regular readership, newspaper advertisers are provided the most productive medium of communication with customers.

RAIN POSTPONES WORLD SERIES

Yankee infielder Clete Boyer looks up at Yankee Stadium today in New York as rain put off the World Series fifth game until tomorrow. It will be played in New York with Jack Sanford pitching for the San Francisco Giants, and Ralph Terry for the Yanks. On Thursday there will be a day of travel. The sixth game will be played in San Francisco Friday and the seventh, if necessary, Saturday at San Francisco. Today's game was called off after a delay of 71 minutes. It was the first Series postponement since Oct. 4, 1956 when the second game of the New York Yankees-Brooklyn Dodger Series was washed out in Brooklyn. The present series is even with two games each for the Yankees and Giants. (AP Wirephoto)

Mourners Suggest Memorial For Rep. Miller At Seashore

Memorial Services Tomorrow

Memorial service for Rep. Clem Miller of Corte Madera, killed Sunday in an airplane crash in Humboldt County, will be held at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow in Bethlehem Chapel of the National Cathedral, Washington, D.C.

Graveside service will be held for the congressman in Marin County at 2 p.m. Saturday, but exact location of the services has not as yet been decided. It most likely will be adjoining Point Reyes.

Dr. Theodore A. Gill, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, will officiate at the service. Pall bearers will be members of the California congressional delegation, who will fly to Marin.

Grief Is Expressed At His Tragic Death

The possibility of naming the Point Reyes National Seashore in honor of Rep. Clem Miller was raised today as federal and state officials expressed their grief at the Corte Madera congressman's tragic death in an airplane crash.

Friends of Miller discussed possibility of establishing a memorial to him at the national seashore. Miller sponsored the House bill for creation of the park and was considered largely responsible for its passage. Possibility of naming the park in his honor was mentioned by Muriel Appenzeller, Democratic headquarters manager in San Rafael.

The Sierra Club, in telegrams to congressional leaders today signed by its president, Edgar Wayburn, urged appropriation of five million dollars to start national seashore land acquisition before Congress adjourns "as a memorial to the late Rep. Clem Miller."

The bodies of Miller, his pilot and the pilot's 13-year-old son were carried down from steep Chaparral Mountain east of Eureka late yesterday by Humboldt County sheriff's deputies.

The twin-engine Piper Apache, piloted by George Head, 41, of San Rafael, crashed into the mountainside side Sunday afternoon after apparently becoming lost in a storm. Miller was on his way from Santa Rosa to Crescent Ciyt for a campaign appearance at a dinner meeting.

Don Clausen, the Del Norte "flying supervisor" who is Republican candidate for Miller's seat in the House, flew into Crescent City just 15 minutes after Miller's plane was due.

"Parts of the plane were scattered over a wide area in dense forest," Sheriff William Pederson said today. "We found the bodies among the wreckage and spent nearly five hours bringing them down the mountain. It was very rugged and muddy country."

TO MORTUARY

Deputies arrived in Arcata with the crash victims yesterday at 4:30 p.m. The bodies were taken to Paul's Mortuary there.

The crash was to be investigated today by Civil Aeronautics Board officials from San Francisco. Pederson said his deputies would guide them to the crash site, about 30 miles northeast of Eureka on the Wiggins Ranch.

Wreckage of the plane was discovered by rancher Lloyd Gillespie yesterday while an extensive air and sea search was under way from Arcata to the Oregon border.

TO WASHINGTON

William Grader, field representative for Miller, flew ot Washington, D. C., today with Miller's oldest daughter, Amy, 16, who has been attending school in Arizona.

Mrs. Miller and the four daughters sat in the visitors' gallery of the House today as the business of that branch of Congress was suspended and congressmen spoke in praise of the departed member.

Nearly all the members who spoke today singled out the Point Reyes Seashore Park as Miller's greatest achievement during his four years in Congress, the Associated Press reported.

"It is a living monument to him," said Rep. J. T. Rutherford (D-Tex.), chairman of the subcommittee that handled the bill, that authorized the

Miller's Last D.C. Message

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Clem Miller (D-Calif.) in his "final Washington Letter of 1962," appraised the current session of Congress as one of "solid achievement in moderate, progressive, essential legislation."

His weekly "Washington letter" was mailed by his office yesterday.

"By the time you read this," the letter said, "I hope to be home in the district and in the midst of my annual fall tour. If you want to get in touch with your congressman for any reason, I can be contacted through my district office in Santa Rosa."

"This has been a long and strenuous session.

"There were disappointments. Some important measures were lost; others did not reach the House floor for consideration. There is much unfinished business for the 88th Congress, which will convene next January.

"But when the record of this Congress is reviewed, I believe it will be judged one of solid achievement in moderate, progressive, essential legislation.

Meredith Blasts Army For Negro Treatment; Aims Barb At NAACP

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — James H. Meredith, Negro student attending the University of Mississippi under federal guard, today criticized the Army and, by implacation, the officials of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

In an interview he sought, Meredith complained the Army had inflicted "a dishonor and a disgrace" on Negro soldiers by segregating troops brought to Oxford.

His other complaint was against what he called "this inflammatory claim" by some people that he had been "picked, selected or chosen by them to integrate the University of Mississippi."

The president of the Mississippi NAACP, Aaron Henry, was reported earlier as saying Meredith was selected from a list of candidates for the desegregation move. Meredith denied this.

"If it were true, I must admit that I would think their (student) opposition would be in some ways justified," Meredith said.

Meredith said, "I consider it of utmost importance that the persons who claim to be the Negro leaders would be individuals of unquestioned integrity and not make irresponsible statements to gain personal ends."

As for the military, Meredith said that during his first two days on the campus, "the military units looked like American units."

"Since that time the units have been re-segregated. Negros have been purged from their positions in the ranks," he said.

Meredith said that he complained to "the proper authorities" Thursday, and that the next day he was told the situation would be corrected.

Yesterday, he said, "Negro soldiers were indeed seen again among the soldiers. The ones I saw, however, were on a garbage detail truck and unarmed. The white members of the detail were armed. This condition constitutes a dishonor and a disgrace to the hundreds of thousands of Negros who wear the uniforms of our military services."

Asked whether he thinks the University has failed to discipline students who heckled him, Meredith replied:

"I don't know if the university is disciplining hecklers or not, and I am not seeking to find out."

Army Secretary Cyrus R. Vance ordered the withdrawal of another 5,900 regular troops who were moved into the Memphis, Tenn., and Columbus, Miss., areas during the crisis.

The troops are in addition to 5,400 who were ordered to begin moving back to home bases from the same areas at midnight last night. The new pullout was ordered to begin at midnight.

Neither order affected the

Civic Center Policy: Available To Public

Supervisor Peter Behr moved that the administration building be made available to any public group at any time. The other three supervisors present at once joined in 4-0 vote of support.

"People have been quite upset in thinking they are going to be barred," observed Chairman Walter R. Castro. He said major interest seemed to center on having the county library open at night.

Other supervisors indicated they'd been receiving phone and personal calls of complaint since Administrator Alan Bruce last week suggested discouragement of night meetings in the building. Supervisor George Ludy declared, "we've been severely criticized for not making the building available."

Bruce hastened to say that last week's statement had represented only a preliminary draft and that condensation by the press had made it seem more severe than intended. "We didn't mean to give an impression this was not a public building," he said.

"This year's library budget," he continued, "provides that the library be open Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. If the board so desires we can work with Mrs. (Virginia) Keating (county librarian) to have the library open evenings.

"There would have to be some increase in staff, but some staggering of hours of existing staff would be possible. We had planned to bring this in for the next budget but we can attempt it this year unless we run into an insoluble tax problem."

Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell suggested that his office work with the administrator and Mrs. Keating to "review the situation and see what can be squeezed out."

Supervisor Walliam D. Fusselman, arriving later, read a letter explaining his decision to "withdraw from the proceedings" of next Saturday's civic center dedication.

Sometimes, he said, things

Ex-Marine Goes On Trial For Slaying

Ex-Marine Claude Hilton Bradley, 22, of San Rafael went on trial for his life today, accused of the strangulation killing of Mrs. Carole Leona Frederick in her San Rafael apartment last June 3.

Selection of a jury started this morning before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety and defense lawyer Berwyn A. Rice quizzed each prospective juror closely as each was called to the jury box.

Mrs. Frederick, 29, estranged wife of a former San Rafael policeman, was found dead in her bedroom at 45 Woodland Avenue on the morning of June 3. Her three children slept through the night, unaware that their mother was dead.

Bradley, father of two, lived at 36 Woodland Avenue and knew the Frederick family. Bradley told investigators he did visit Mrs. Frederick that night, but he denies the murder charge.

Mountain Lion Is Reported

A large mountain lion is prowling the hills in Homestead Valley, a housewife reported to the sheriff at 10:30 a.m. today.

Sally Schiller of 22 Madrone Park Circle told Deputy Sheriff Theodore V. Hughes she was walking her dog near her home when she spotted a large mountain lion in the brush about 30 yards away. She said the animal snarled, then slunk away, looking back several times before disappearing into the timber.

CAUCUS THURSDAY BY DEMO LEADERS

Leaders of the First Congressional District will meet in caucus at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in Ukiah, to decide what steps to take following the death of Rep. Clem Miller of Corte Madera in Sunday's airplane crash.

Miller's Republican opponent, Dan Clausen of Crescent City, is withdrawing from campaigning temporarily out of respect to the late congressman.

Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Mill Valley and Norman Williamson of Ukiah, co-chairmen of the First District caucus, called the meeting in Ukiah's 101 Motel. The caucas is composed of Democratic county chairmen and other club and party leaders in the six counties of the district.

Peter Allen Smith, Marin County chairman, said "an emissary" would contact Mrs. Katharine Miller, the congressman's widow, to see if she would be available as a write-in candidate to succeed her husband. He would not say who the emissary would be.

A write-in campaign is one of the two choices the Democrats of the district face. The other is to work for Miller's election in spite of his death. His name will appear on the ballot Nov. 6 and if he polls the most votes, Gov. Edmund G. Brown will be required to call a special election to fill the vacancy.

The special election would be non-partisan with the victory going to the candidate polling the highest number of votes regardless of whether he had a majority. Any number of candidates could file for the office in such an election.

Robert Hill of Eureka, Clausen's First District chairman, announced Clausen's cancellation of all public appearances "for at least 10 days." After that time, Hill said, "Clausen will make appearances when it is deemed important to acquaint the voters with his qualifications for the office."

Clausen, who flew his own plane in the search for Miller's missing plane, "is distraught by the development and does not wish to continue his campaign in the same degree to which he has pursued it," Hill said.

"We are all greatly shocked and saddened by Mr. Miller's most untimely death," Hill declared, "and extend our deepest condolences to his family and to the Democratic Party for their great loss."

Police Issue Explosives Complaint

San Rafael police and fire departments issued a complaint today against the foreman of a construction company doing work at Marin Bay for failure to store dynamite in a magazine.

Two boys fore apart two sticks of the explosive Sunday.

Richard S. Mondot of the J. W. Lee Construction Co. was cited under the Fire Prevention Code to appear in Marin County Municipal Court.

The boys, police said, took out 10 sticks of dynamite from two open 50-pound cases left by construction workers who had been clearing sites for building of homes. Four other cases were unopened.

One of the sticks was torn apart and strewn over the area by the youths, aged 11 and 12, and another stick was broken in two.

LONDON (UPI)—The Archbishop of Canterbury, leader of the 26-million-member Angelican Church, does not plan to attend the Ecumenical Council in Rome even if it lasts for many months, it was reported today.

The archbishop was said to believe nothing concrete could be gained by his presence.

The Church of England will be represented by an observer.

Soblen Death Mystery Deepens

LONDON (UPI)—A coroner's inquest was told today that fugitive spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen's death was caused "in part" by a rare drug he obtained by apparently unknown means.

The drug was identified as a quick-acting barbiturate called "lotusate," described as being similar to seconal.

A Scotland Yard officer testified that despite exhaustive investigation there was no evidence Soblen had been helped by anyone in obtaining and secreting the drug.

Free Smokes Out?

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy indicated today it may follow the Air Force's lead in refusing to allow cigarette manufacturers to present gift cigarettes to men in its hospitals.

The Air Force said last Saturday that its surgeon general has declined offers for free distribution of cigarettes in Air Force hospitals "because of the recent evidence which suggests further relation between cigarette smoking and lung cancer, other pulmonary diseases and with certain cardiovascular diseases."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has sent to President John F. Kennedy a bill providing full-time Secret Service protection for the vice president.

The measure approved yesterday by the Senate also authorizes protection for vice presidents-elect and for a former president for a reasonable time after he leaves office if he requests it.

Kennedy had asked for the legislation last April.

Army 'Excesses'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting Office has accused the Army of buying $800,000 worth of Nike Hercules missile parts it didn't need, then ordering another 1.9 million dollars worth.

The watchdog agency told Congress yesterday the excesses could be blamed on what it called the Army's lack of effective supply controls.

Negro Seeks Office

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONTIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONTIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Get BRONTIN—available at all drug stores without prescription.

YEMAN REBELS GET SUPPORT FROM UAR

ADEN (AP) — Troops and planes of the United Arab Republic are bolstering the revolutionary regime in Yemen amid signs of an approaching fight with forces seeking to restore the monarchy.

Royalists claimed their forces were advancing in a two-pronged drive to surround the revolutionary capital of Sana. They said they encountered negligible resistance. There was no confirmation of the report.

Western correspondents on a weekend visit to Yemen saw ample evidence of expanding UAR military assistance to the revolutionary regime.

UAR troops and planes guarded Sana's airport. Squads of UAR officers and instructors were seen outside the massive government building and more were unloading from a UAR ship at the Soviet-built port of Hodeida, 100 miles away.

"We do not care if there is a threat," the rebel premier, Col. Abdullah Sallal, 40, told the newsmen. "We can depend on ourselves and our friends."

The UAR Middle East News Agency said 10,000 volunteers are being armed in Yemen's three key cities—Sana, Taizz and Hodeida.

Sallal said the rebel regime has the backing of the Yemen army of 20,000, including the National Guard, and sufficient Soviet and Czechoslovak arms purchased by the monarchy to withstand attack.

The army has T-34 tanks and other heavy equipment. The fledgling air force has Soviet MIG-17 fighters and Ilyushin 10 bombers, with more on the way. Yemeni pilots are still training in Italy and Cairo, and virtually every plane has a Soviet bloc crew. A squadron of World War II Russian Yaks is awaiting repairs.

The report of the royalist advance came from the Yemeni legation in Washington, which has remained loyal to the monarchy. The legation said it received a message from Prince Saif Al Islam al Hassan in Yemen that his troops soon would surround Sana and the rest of the area in rebel hands.

Hassan, who headed the Yemeni United Nations delegation, is believed supported by several warrior Yemeni tribes, as well as by King Saud of neighboring Saudi Arabia. Hassan laid claim to the throne after the rebels said they had slain his nephew-king, Imam Mohammad Al-Badr.

Saudi Arabia Sunday denied a Cairo broadcast that Saudi troops had invaded Yemen and clashed with rebel supporters near the northern border. It called the report ridiculous.

Uganda Becomes Nation

KAMPALA, Uganda (UPI) — Uganda, a mountainous land of pygmies and seven-foot Batutsis, became the 33rd African state today to take the uncertain step to independence.

Whatever problems lie ahead, Uganda's people greeted their statehood with a cheer and a blaze of fireworks that made the midnight moment of independence as bright as day.

LIGHTS OUT

In Kampala, independence was marked with a ceremony that has been traditional in former British colonies around the world.

At the stroke of midnight, the lights and music faded.

A single spotlight picked out two men in the center of the stadium—British Gov. Sir Walter Coutts and Uganda's first premier Milton Obote, dapper in evening clothes and walking stick.

Forty thousand Ugandans in the stadium watched while the two men shook hands and 68 years of British colonial rule ended.

Then cheers broke out as the spotlight shifted to the flagpole where a Uganda rifles officers slowly ran up the new nation's black-yellow-red national flag for the first time.

RACIAL HARMONY

Obote inherits from the British a tradition of racial harmony rare in Africa but a disturbing friction between the African tribes themselves.

There are only 10,000 whites and 85,000 Asians among the 6.6 million persons in Uganda.

Traffic Problem On Novato Agenda

The ever-present problem of traffic on Center Road will come again before the Novato City Council at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the community building.

Changing of the traffic flow and the enforcement of one way traffic comes up before the council periodically. Tomorrow night, it is up for a report from the council's traffic committee.

The Novato Garden Club will propose an ordinance to regulate street tree plantings.

Other items on the agenda include the swimming pool bond issue, the urban thoroughfare project for abridge over Warner Creek on south Novato Boulevard, and a request for roadside weed spraying by the county.

JAMES B. DONOVAN
Expects agreement

Hopes High For Cuban Prisoners

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro and negotiator James B. Donovan appeared set to complete an agreement today for the release of 1,113 Cuban prisoners seized in the April 1961 invasion.

MEDICINE, FOOD

Castro's government originally asked $62 million dollars in cash for all the prisoners taken in the Bay of Pigs invasion. About 60 already have been freed. Donovan, a New York attorney negotiating for the families of the prisoners, has said he would offer Castro medicine and food instead of a cash ransom.

The U.S. government may be called on to chip in with some surplus food products, but officials in Washington said there have been no final arrangements on this. Cuban exiles in Miami say the bulk of the food and drug supplies would be contributed by the U.S. public, by relief agencies and by families of the prisoners.

Responsible sources said Donovan has arranged with Pan American World Airways for transportation to take all the prisoners from Havana to Miami before the weekend.

U-2 NEGOTIATION

Relatives and friends of the prisoners in Havana, certain that an agreement already has been reached, have been showering Donovan with gifts and praise. Donovan, who negotiated the swap of U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers for Soviet spy Rudolf Abel last year, has refused to accept a fee in the Cuban case, informants said.

Drive In Congress To Quit Is Slowed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress' snail-pace drive for adjournment slowed down today to almost a complete halt.

There was no business at all on the House docket because of the death of Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera) who was killed in an airplane mishap.

Neither was there anything of consequence on the calendar of the Senate, which sent the annual foreign aid appropriation bill to the president yesterday.

There was a possibility that the Senate might seize upon a relatively minor House-passed bill as the vehicle for a four-month extension of unemployment compensation payments to workers who have used up their benefits. The House Ways and Means Committee has refused to approve a separate bill authorizing the extension.

No progress was in sight for several appropriation bills which must be acted on before adjournment, nor was there any sign of White House action on another bill holding up the go-home signal. It calls for a tax break for self-employed people who set up their own retirement programs. The bill becomes law at midnight tomorrow if President John F. Kennedy does not act on it.

If he should veto the measure, backers of the bill hope to try to override the veto or attach the pension program as a rider to a 500-million-dollar supplemental money bill which has been stalled in the Senate. As things now stand, the Senate won't act on the supplemental bill before Friday at the earliest.

The House Rules Committee today called a huddle to try to budget a four-billion-dollar measure authorizing hundreds of water control projects which must be financed in future years. The bill has passed both houses in widely different form and can't reach a compromise committee without approval of the rules group and the House itself.

When Congress will finally quit is a subject of varying guesses. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he was "reconciled to staying here indefinitely."

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), key figure in a hassle over the annual Agriculture Department money bill, said he was willing "to stay here until December 23" if necessary.

When Romans made Ephesus capital of their Asia province, the city's only rivals were Constantinople, Alexandria and Antioch.

New Bruce Assistant Has Good Reason To Celebrate

By RANDALL GOULD

John F. Barrows yesterday completed celebration of his 32nd birthday by starting work as new assistant administrator for Marin County.

"I couldn't pick a better place and way to observe the occasion," he smiled. "We've been hoping to come to Marin for some time."

The "we" includes his wife, Cynthia, as well as two daughters, still a little junior to vote on family decisions — Sally, 2, and Ann who was born in late August, three days before Barrows had his first interview in seeking the assistant administratorship.

All are now moved from their former San Diego home to a new residence at 3 Coleman Drive, San Rafael.

The family is eastern in origin. Barrows coming from Jamestown, N.Y., and his wife from West Virginia. Service as a lieutenant (J.G.) in the Navy brought Barrows to California and he started west with his new wife immediately after they were married.

He was assistant administrative analyst for the City of San Diego for two years from August of 1958, then became associate administrative analyst for the following two years.

He was graduated from Allegheny College in Pennsylvania in 1952, having majored in political science and public administration. He received his master's degree in 1953 from Syracuse University, N.Y., and served in the Navy from 1953 to 1956. He was a senatorial legislative assistant in Washington from January, 1957, to June, 1958.

"Marin County naturally has operations different from others I have seen," he said. "What I have learned elsewhere won't necessarily apply directly here. Certainly I have no preconceived ideas of what 'the best way' is but I see a great challenge here, and I hope I may be able to contribute something.

"The need to keep an eye out for economies is found everywhere, and is true at all levels of government.

"Any such office as that of the administrator is responsible for looking at the whole picture, and framing recommendations on the needs of the whole county. In that it naturally differs from the views of department heads, in that they are responsible for their specific jobs."

Administrator Alan Bruce started Barrows off on such tasks as familiarizing himself with the budget and other basic material.

He also conducted a discussion of jobs Barrows might tackle. When interrupted, they had filled four legal-pad sheets with ideas.

All-Time Record Sale Of Autos Hikes Tax Gains

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — An all-time record sales high for new car dealers during the April-June quarter of 1962 boosted California's retail sales to $6,455,567,000, up nearly 10 per cent from the second-quarter record set in 1961.

Marin county, sharing in the retail sales increase, reported taxable transactions of $46,424,000 for the quarter. This produced $1,392,720 in the state's 3 per cent sales tax. It represented a gain of 10 per cent from the second quarter of 1961.

The state board of equalization said new car dealer sales totaled $817.5 million during the April-June quarter, up 7.3 per cent from the record set in the first quarter of this year and 23 per cent higher than last year's second-quarter level.

Sales of used car dealers kept pace with the new ones, with nearly $100 million sold by them. Sales in the two classes of car dealers accounted for one-seventh of all taxable retail sales in the quarter.

San Marin Water Plan Before Board

A water agreement for the first unit of 96 homes in the San Marin subdivision will come before the North Marin County water board at an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. today in the district office.

This first unit of the subdivision on the Freitas C Ranch will be served by a 12-inch line from the Novato Boulevard main, according to Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager. The next units will be served from the Russian River aqueduct off Highway 101, Gilbert said.

Girl To Graduate

Donna B. Hicks of San Rafael was among 96 candidates approved for graduation from University of Nevada at Reno by the board of regents at its latest meeting.

$200,000 Shop Center Is Planned

Plans to build a $200,000 10-store shopping center next to the new Safeway Store on B Street at First Street, San Rafael, have been announced by Robert S. Miller, San Rafael contractor.

Miller said he plans to tear down the old Tip Top Market, which he recently leased from Mr. and Mrs. Casimiro Cardellini, to construct a new building on the site. Architect is Gordon A. Phillips of San Rafael.

A parking lot for approximately 60 cars will be provided in front of the stores, according to Miller. Completion of the center, which is planned to harmonize with the Safeway store, is expected next spring.

The leasing agent for the stores will be Coldwell, Banker and Co. of San Rafael, according to real estate agent Timothy O'Leary of that firm, who handled the negotiations. O'Leary said no lease has yet been signed.

Coroner Sets Inquest In Jail Death Monday

An inquest will be held next Monday to get testimony on the death of a merchant seaman, who was jailed as a drunk and died less than four hours later in the hospital.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton announced he would select a coroner's jury of 12 to hear the testimony. The inquest is set for 2 p.m. Monday in the supervisors' chamber of the court house.

John Robert Maulonis, 58, of San Francisco, merchant seaman and part-time bartender, was found unconscious at the home of a friend, Estella May House, at 25 West Crescent Drive, San Rafael, last Thursday morning.

Mrs. House called police at 3:20 a.m. Police called the county physician on duty that night, then took Maulonis to San Rafael General Hospital to have the physician, Dr. Richard W. Wolk, examine him.

The doctor said the man showed all the symptoms of being in a drunken stupor. He released Maulonis to the county jail, where the man was put in an isolation cell about 4:45 a.m.

At 7:38 a.m., Mrs. House reported to police she had found a suicide note left by Maulonis. Police rushed him back to the hospital, but Maulonis died about 8:30 a.m.

Among those scheduled to testify at the inquest are Mrs. House, Dr. Wolk, San Rafael police officers and jail bailiffs who were on duty on the morning of Maulonis's death.

Five-Year Railroad Dispute Ends

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An arbitration board ruled today that the Chicago and North Western Railway may eliminate telegraphy jobs it considers obsolete with 90 days notice to the union.

The arbitration ruling ends a five-year dispute between the railway and the Order of Railway Telegraphers (ORT) regarding job security. It may set a pattern for settling other "feather-bedding" disputes now pending in the railroad industry.

Four questions concerning job security were submitted to arbitration on Sept. 28 after the union agreed to end a 30-day strike that has shut down the nation's third largest rail network and brought economic hardship to parts of the middle west.

The ruling was made by Sylvester Garrett, chief arbitrator for U.S. Steel Corp., the neutral member of the board.

ORT president G. E. Leighty and railway board chairman Ben Heineman, also members of the board, could not reach agreement and left the decision up to Garrett.

Heineman concurred however in Garrett's ruling on all four points. Leighty concurred in only one, the 90-day notice provision.

JOKE BY YOUNG GOP

'Phony Exchange Students' Pull Wool Over JFK's Eyes

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—The tale was told today of how three teen-agers outwitted the secret service, deceived Sen. Hubert Humphrey conned President John F. Kennedy and crashed a $500-a-couple cocktail party.

The gate crashers during President Kennedy's visit to Minneapolis Saturday night were Bill Waters, Roger Magnuson and Daniel Nortstadt. All are 17-year-old students at Harding High School in neighboring St. Paul and Bill happens to be president of a Young Republican club.

They proceeded up the stairs to the 13th floor landing, where secret service men screened all visitors to the top floor.

Casually mentioning Sen. Humphrey's name in their best broken English, the boys were escorted to a room to await the arrival of the presidential party from Minneapolis-St.Paul International Airport.

When the party arrived, the boys were met by Sen. Eugene McCarthy (D-Minn.) McCarthy was skeptical and the boys confessed they were phonies. They begged the senator to go along with the gag. He promised not to spoil the plot, the boys said today.

Humphrey then arrived and was convinced by the fake accents. He ushered the boys in to see Kennedy, who shook hands with each and said "welcome to our country."

As a final triumph, the boys wrangled an invitation from the presidential party to a cocktail party. They got in free, even though grownups had to pay $500 per couple.

OXFORD

approximately 7,000 regular troops who are stationed with 3,000 Mississippi National Guardsmen in Oxford.

Yesterday at Oxford a flying rock and a crowd of jeering students renewed tensions on the campus after Meredith's second week as a student had begun in comparative calm.

The incident occurred at the university cafeteria last night after Meredith arrived for dinner. No one was hurt but some broken glass sprinkled on the 20-year-old Negro's table.

Meredith's day went quietly until dinner.

At lunch, only one lone cry of "hi, Blackie" broke the silence outside the cafeteria. Inside, some 100 students appeared to pay little attention to Meredith.

Marshalls hustled Meredith out a back door.

The students then turned their attention to an auto which federal officials had been using and let the air out of its tire. One official yelled that the car was federal property.

Boos and catcalls rang out.

"What's the matter, white trash?" one student yelled. "You lost your nigger?"

Subdivision Approved In Novato

The Novato Planning Commission last night approved a Development Co. on 20 acres between Lynwood Park and Highway 101.

It also approved rezoning from limited agricultural to multiple family on the area 3,700 feet south of the first subdivision, requested by the same company. This will give apartment zoning on the area on the west of Highway 101 south of Lynwood Park to the Crossroads Shopping Center.

St. Raphael's Bells To Ring For Council

Bells at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael will ring for 10 minutes starting at noon Thursday to mark the opening in Rome of the 21st ecumenical council of the Roman Catholic Church.

Pope John XXIII has requested Catholic churches throughout the world to ring their bells on Thursday so church members may be reminded of the council, do penance and pray for its members, according to Father Petroni of St. Raphael's Church.

Youth's Ankle Broken In Game

Donald Rudnick, a senior at San Rafael High School, was reported today recovering at Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco from surgery for a broken heel bone suffered in a soccer game at school last Thursday.

Principal Alfred N. Thomson said Rudnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Rudnick of 103 Greenfield Avenue, was accidentally kicked by another student in a physical education class when both attempted to kick the soccer ball.

Rudnick's doctor said he would be able to leave the hospital in a few days but would have to stay out of school for six to eight weeks. In addition to fracturing the heel bone, he dislocated his right ankle.

park. "Without his unflinching, unswerving support there would have been no bill."

Rep. John F. Baldwin Jr. (R-Martinez), whose district adjoins Miller's, said Miller's fight for the seashore park was a model of service to the people of his district and the nation.

Speaker John McCormack said Miller was "undoubtedly a man of this century . . . He came here with no other purpose than to work."

Rep. Charles S. Gubser (R-Santa Clara), said "we have lost a man who got things done the right way, the fair way, the honest way."

President John F. Kennedy sent his condolences to Mrs. Miller and declared:

"Congressman Miller is a personal loss to me and to the American people. He was a progressive legislator, strongly dedicated to his district. He spoke with great eloquence for the needs of our people, particularly in the fields of conservation."

Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), a co-sponsor of the Point Reyes bill, told the Senate that Miller's death means a "tragic loss to Congress, to the State of California and this country."

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.), GOP whip, joined Engle in expressing his sorrow.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), a close friend of Miller, said California and the nation "have lost a good American."

In Sacramento, Gov. Edmund G. Brown expressed "shock and the sense of personal loss" at Miller's death. "The great beauty of Point Reyes National Seashore, which Clem was responsible for establishment will be an ageless monument to a fine and selfless man."

Miller's book, "Member of the House," an account of the experiences of a young congressman, went on sale yesterday in San Rafael bookstores.

Peter Allen Smith, Marin Democratic Central Committee chairman, said today Miller was an "extremely able and dedicated representative of his constituents in Marin and the first district . . . The Point Reyes National Seashore will remain a monument to his convictions and ideals."

The bodies of Miller's pilot, a retired air force major and experienced World War II bomber pilot, and his son, Ronald, were to be taken to Palo Alto for funeral services.

Engle Pressing For Point Reyes Funds

Special to the I-J

WASHINGTON — An appropriation to begin buying land for Point Reyes National Seashore, project close to the heart of the late Rep. Clem Miller, was reported favorably last night by the Senate appropriations committee.

Sen. Clair M. Engle (D-Calif.), who sponsored legislation in the Senate for creating the park, said today he would press for passage of the appropriation by the Senate before adjournment of Congress.

Marin Supervisors Pay Miller Honor

Marin County supervisors today honored the memory of Rep. Clem Miller of Corte Madera, killed in an airplane accident Sunday, by voting on motion of Supervisor Peter Behr that adjournment at the close of the day would commemorate Miller.

An expression of sympathy was ordered sent by the county clerk to Mrs. Miller.

Fairfax Man Dies; Found On Sidewalk

Donald Charles Gartin, 33, was pronounced dead on arrival at San Rafael General Hospital at 4:40 a.m. today after being found lying on the sidewalk in front of 709 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, at 3:50 a.m. by police.

Sgt. George Alberigi and Officer Michael Berney discovered Gartin while on patrol in the area. Alberigi said he detected a faint heart beat in Gartin, who was rushed to the hospital by United Ambulance.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton said Gartin left his home at 65 Wood Lane, Fairfax, about 6:15 p.m. yesterday with six capsules in his pocket he had filled with powder from his garden supplies. Two empty capsules were found in his pocket.

Gartin was owner of the IDC Lawn Co., 1822 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, which was closed by the Marin County sheriff's office Sept. 26 at the request of Victor N. Zachariah of Fairfax, owner of the building, according to Leland Brown, assistant chief deputy in the sheriff's office. Brown said Gartin had already shut down the store by that date.

Gartin appeared in the San Rafael Municipal Court Oct. 3 for a preliminary hearing on charges of passing two bad checks amounting to $53. Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce Bales said Gartin had already made restitution on the checks at the time of the hearing. However, he was bound over to answer charges on the checks this week.

Keaton said Gartin had spoken of taking his life several times and had attempted to take it three times. An autopsy was to be performed today.

Gartin leaves his wife, Gloria, and three children, Steven, 13, Gerald, 3, and David, 6 months. He leaves also his mother, Virginia Sanguinetti, and his father, Victor Gartin.

Larkspur Residents Keeping Dogs Home

Four dogs were killed over the weekend by eating poison put out to kill yellowjackets, Police Chief Howard Clark said. No new dog death had been reported since yesterday.

pile up to "an affront to one's self-respect" so that "tolerance is worn thin to the breaking point." In this instance, he said, his "sincere comment" that each supervisor should get a civic center key instead of just one for the chairman had led to a "denouncement" in the Independent-Journal "Reporter's Notebook" which in turn was followed by personal reflections in press releases from the "administrator-recommended dedication committee."

Though the committee office had sent out a cancellation of its description of himself as "chief foot-dragger," said Fusselman, he felt withdrawal to be the only course open to him.

Probable Cause Of Death Told

Mrs. Alice Thelma Bannatyne, 47, who was found dead in a Fairfax apartment Aug. 21, died of probable ingestion, cirrhosis of the liver and pulmonary congestion, according to a completed coroner's report.

Mrs. Bannatyne was found in the apartment of Walter Strahan, 1902 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, by Strahan when he returned from work. An empty bottle for a pain killing drug, codeine, was found under a bed next to Mrs. Bannatyne's body.

The autopsy was performed by Dr. Calvin Plumhof, county autopsy surgeon; and the completed report was signed by Frank J. Keaton, coroner.

People can't help being carried away by the 1963 Dodge. Who can blame them? Dodge looks like an expensive car. But it's priced down with other low-price cars. And inside there's room galore! The roofline sweeps straight back instead of sloping off. That means ample headroom in back, not just in front. There's more legroom and footroom, too. The seats are chair-high, whether you choose a model with sofa style, buckets or fold-down center arm rest in front. Little wonder, people get carried away . . . especially now that every 1963 Dodge is backed by a new five-year/50,000-mile warranty*! See your Dodge Dealer and drive the '63 Dodge.

*Your Authorized Dodge Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first; on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts; torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings—provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Dodge Certified Car Care schedules. Factory approved remanufactured parts may be used for replacement.

Marin-Sonoma Unified Schools Under Study

A proposed unified school district including parts of west Marin and Sonoma County will be considered Friday morning by the State Board of Education at a three-day meeting in Oceanside.

The plan would join three Marin elementary districts and four in Sonoma with Tomale Joint Union High School District.

Despite the number of districts involved, the unification would bring together a total enrollment which is expected to be fewer than 1,000 even in 1965. Last year it was 733.

Roy Parks of Tomales, a trustee of the Tomales High School District, is to present arguments favoring the unification. Mrs. David Baty of Point Reyes Station will argue against the plan.

Point Reyes Station and Inverness residents have opposed the plan, preferring to join a unified district with the Tamalpais High School District. Edwin L. Blackmore, county co-ordinator of rural education and assistant secretary to the county committee on school district organization, said the county committee's position is that the people of the districts involved should be permitted to vote on the issue.

Approval by the state board is required before the plan may be submitted to voters.

If the state board agrees to the election, said Blackmore, the vote could be held in about 60 days and unification—if passed—would take effect next July 1.

The plan would join with Tomales district the Point Reyes School District, West Marin Union School District and Tomales Bay District of Marin County, together with Sonoma's American Valley, Bloomfield, Bodega Bay and Watson elementary districts.

Omitted from the unified district would be the Potter district in Sonoma, which has been annexed to Harmony Union School District and would become part of another unification plan.

Elks Offer $110,000 To Scholars

Marin County high school seniors or college students may apply through the San Rafael Lodge No. 1108 to compete for 142 scholarships, totaling $110,000, which are being offered by the Elks National Foundation in its 1963 "Most Valuable Student Competition."

Carl S. Clark, exalted ruler of the local lodge, said the grants range from $700 to $1,500, with separate awards for boys and girls.

Applicants should secure the endorsement of the San Rafael lodge and have applications ready to file by Feb. 21, 1963.

The San Rafael lodge has in the past awarded two scholarships of its own, giving $250 each to a boy and a girl from Marin. Clark said the amounts and number of local awards may be increased this year.

Applicants for the national scholarships must have scholastic ratings of 90 per cent or better and be in the top 5 per cent of their class.

Apartment Zone Plea Before Hub Council

San Anselmo City Council may have a short meeting tonight, if the brief agenda is any indication.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. in the city hall. The agenda lists a half dozen items, including a public hearing on R. E. Nolan's request to rezone property between 1202 and 1212 Sir Francis Drake Biulevard. Nolan wants to put apartments on the land, which is now zoned for one-family residential.

Councilmen will hear a report on the "up-grading" of the miscellaneous employees (not police or fire) retirement plan. City Clerk Anita Gannon said someone from the state may appear to explain the retirement plan. "Up-grading" the retirement plan will probably require more contribution by the employees and the city.

Richard W. Campbell wants the city's Yellow Cab franchise transferred to him. Clarence Smith has the franchise, but he has been ill, and Campbell wants to take over.

Other officers are Sandy Michael, Novato High, vice president; Barbara Johnson, San Rafael High, secretary; Tom Gaff, Terra Linda High, treasurer, and Paula Houser, Drake High, public relations.

The IRA will encourage friendly relations among member schools, discuss and solve problems arising between schools, promote better co-operation between student councils, and act as an advisory group to the Marin County Athletic League, Osborn said.

Class Officers Elected In Runoff

A run-off was required for all offices because none of the candidates received a majority of votes from the 50 per cent of the students who voted in the first eletcion.

Vote totals were not announced.

A 14-year-old boy, who was arrested for being drunk in Lagunitas Saturday night, told Sheriff's Sgt. Kenneth Irving and Deputy Robert Bertrand that DeNike had given him the liquor.

Sergeant Irving said DeNike acknowledged he gave some wine to two boys visiting him Saturday evening.

Milk Products, Eggs, Fish Have Value As Substitute For Meats

Is the 10-year high in meat prices crimping your food budget? Then select alternate foods of high protein value to stretch it, rather than the starchy extenders.

Dry non-fat powdered milk mixed in your hamburgers serves you better than breadcrumbs. Beans and cheese used with a little meat make good supplements. In the cheeses, the naturals like cheddar give you the most nutrition per pound. Eggs and fish also lend themselves to combinations for hearty main courses.

Indian War Vets Hold Reunion

The dwindling ranks of men in blue who fought the Indians on America's frontiers formed again today in San Francisco for the 31st national reunion of the Indian War Veterans and its Ladies' Corps.

Edward E. Snider of 99 Wood Lane, Fairfax, who will retire as national commander during the two-day gathering, said the organization is now composed mainly of survivors of Indian war veterans. He said there are now only six or seven men still alive who fought the Indians.

Snider is a survivor of an Indian war veteran. His father fought in the Ute campaign of 1906 in Montana and Wyoming. His late wife's father also was an Indian fighter, and famed Gen. Philip Sheridan, frontier and Civil War officer, was her uncle.

Mrs. Minnie Saunders of 428 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, widow of a cavalryman in the Ute campaign, is national commander of the Ladies' Corps. Mrs. Saunders, now 96 years old, spent the early years of her marriage at frontier army posts and once had her hair pulled (not removed, however) by Chief Sitting Bull.

The United Indian War Veterans, which proclaims itself the oldest group of this nation's war veterans, meets each year to campaign for better pensions for the few remaining former Indian fighters and their widows.

The host encampment of the reunion is Camp Custer No. 4 of San Francisco, one of only two camps in California.

There are only 29 Indian War pensioners in the United States.

The reunion convened in the War Memorial Building in San Francisco.

Oroville Dam Power Plant Test Completed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Controlled tests in miniature, with water by the ounce substituted for water by the ton, have been employed to prove the design for the key water outlet system of the Oroville Dam power plant.

The laboratory tests were recently completed by the California Department of Water Resources and the Bureau of Reclamation of the U.S. Department of Interior.

Testing of the proposed system was done by means of a model constructed by the federal agency in its Design and Research Center in Denver, Colo.

The one-inch to 55-inch scale model of the giant powerplant's six-turbine draft tubes, two half mile-long tailrace tunnels and the tunnels' outlet was tested with the latest instruments to determine whether the actual system would work correctly and efficiently.

NIXONETTES PROMOTING SPEECH

Ike Urges GOP To Get Going For Nixon

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower endorsed Richard M. Nixon "100 per cent" last night, Nixon felt "victory in the air," and thousands of cheering Republicans in four cities dropped $560,000 into the GOP coffers.

Eisenhower spoke in San Francisco's Cow Palace to 2,750 persons who had paid $100 a plate for cold cuts and a piece of chocolate cake. Then Nixon, speaking to another 2,000 in the Hollywood Palladium, responded in sight and sound of those in San Francisco and similar dinners in San Bernardino and Bakersfield hooked together by closed circuit television.

Eisenhower and Nixon had been together earlier. They met in Los Angeles, flew to San Francisco for a motorcade through the city which was witnessed by an estimated 120,000 persons. Then Nixon returned to the south.

At the Cow Palace, Eisenhower in a booming, healthy voice, took a few quick jabs at Gov. Edmund G. Brown, reviewed his long, close association with Nixon, and said, "I can personally vouch for his ability, his sense of duty, his sharpness of mind and his wealth of wisdom."

He urged the Republicans to "get up, get out and get going" so that they would not make the "same mistake" that "I made" in 1960 in "not working harder for Dick Nixon."

The Republican gubernatorial candidate answered that Eisenhower should take the message back east "that we're on the march and we're going to win."

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan, completing 20 years in his post, "reversed a practice of a lifetime" to appear with Eisenhower and "make a political speech." Jordan, recalling he had predicted Nixon's 1960 victory in California by 35,000 votes when the actual victory had been 35,683, made another prediction — that Nixon would win by 240,000 votes in November.

Three Marinites sat at the head tables, but the Cow Palace had hundreds of others from the county present. Just to Eisenhower's right, separated from the former president by Caspar Weinberger, state central committee chairman, sat Mrs. Lee Sherry of San Anselmo, Northern California women's vice chairman.

Behind the general sat Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael and Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael. Master of Ceremonies Arch Monson Jr. called upon Republicans to give McCarthy "a lot more Republicans to lead" in Sacramento.

Four counties of the 50 above the Tehachapi Mountains were singled out for specific mention in the success of the Eisenhower dinner ticket sales. Marin and its finance chairman, Walter Keichkefer of Kent Woodlands, were specifically mentioned at the head of the list.

Besides the tables full of Marinites, however, there also was a generous sprinkling of both Young Republicans and Teen-Aged Republicans from the Marin organizations. These young people acted as ushers in seeing that the crowd found their tables.

Allies Doing Nothing But Protest Ambulance Refusal In East Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — The Western Allies apparently have decided to do nothing except protest the refusal of East German guards to let a British army ambulance go to the aid of a man shot just over the Berlin wall. The Soviets refused to accept the protest yesterday.

The East German action was clearly a blow to Western prestige in Berlin.

Western officials were reluctant to predict what further action might be taken. From their remarks, it seemed unlikely that anything would be done.

Some acknowledged that the East Germans could cite their successful blocking of the ambulance Saturday as a precedent for stopping other Western military traffic in East Berlin. But they pointed out that this had not happened yet.

They also pointed out that the East Germans could halt all Western traffic unless the Allies gave it armed escort. The Allies did that with some military vehicles last October when the East Germans began stopping Allied cars. The East Germans backed down after the Russians and the Americans each rushed tanks up to the wall.

One West Berlin newspaper suggested that a Western military ambulance patrol East Berlin streets at all times, to be directed by radio to any point on the wall at which an East German refugee was shot trying to escape to the West.

Mayor Willy Brandt's Socialist party said Soviet vehicles should be banned from West Berlin in retaliation for the East German action.

There was no indication, however, of any such Allied plans. One reason apparently was reluctance to rock the boat while talks on Berlin were still in progress in New York.

The Allies, in their protest, charged that interference with the ambulance was a violation of their war-won occupation rights in all of Berlin. The Russians, refusing to accept the protest, gave their usual comment that the matter was one for East Germany's Communist regime. The Allies refuse to deal with the satellite government, which they do not recognize.

East German guards apparently killed two East Germans trying to swim the Spree River to the West last night. The mother of one of the man trying to escape saw the shooting from the western bank and collapsed.

East German guards also fired on a West Berlin police car that had rushed to the scene. The West Berlin police returned the fire. No one was reported hit.

Mill Valley School Trustees Decide Against Purchase

Negotiations had been started with Goheen Enterprises, land owners, for the land to provide for a junior high school site.

Trustees said they will consider acquisition of a separate parcel of land in Tennessee Valley south of the present elementary school. This land is also owned by Goheen Enterprises.

Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson said the state bureau of school planning and architect Eugene E. Crawford recommended against the Tamalpais Valley land, the lower portion might be bisected by shoreline highway rerouting.

Extortion Try Nets Probation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 51-year-old San Francisco airline mechanic who once threatened to blow up Harrah's Club at Reno was placed on three years probation today by U.S. Dist. Judge A. J. Zirpoli.

"I can't understand why I did it," Wilbur I. Trout said of his attempt to extort $12,000 from William Harrah, owner of the gambling club.

"From your record I can't understand it either," Judge Zirpoli said. "That's why I am putting you on probation on condition that you stay out of gambling clubs even for purposes of entertainment other than gambling."

Trout said he is taking psychiatric treatments, has been going to night school and has a promise of re-employment.

Trout previously said he had no reason to attempt extortion because "I had no financial worries."

Red Killer-Spy Tells Practice With Poison

KARLSRUHE, Germany (UPI) —A confessed Soviet killer-spy told a supreme court today he practiced marksmanship with a poison-pellet pistol, using towels for targets, to prepare for his assassination missions.

Bogdan Nikolayevich Stashinskiy, 31, an admitted agent of the Soviet Ministry for State Security, is accused of killing two exiled Ukrainian nationalist leaders in separate assaults in Munich, West Germany, in 1957 and 1959.

He has confessed spraying lethal potassium cyanide pellets into the races of Prof. Lev Rebet and Stefan Bandera. He faces a possible sentence of life imprisonment.

Stashinskiy testified today that a Soviet agent named Sergey gave him the poison spraygun in East Berlin in 1957, along with a photo of Rebet with which he identified his victim.

After Sergey checked him out on the Russian-made weapon, he said, he practiced firing it at towels in his East Berlin apartment. He always took antidote tablets before firing the gun, he said.

Stashinskiy described the poison pistol as an aluminum tube resembling a water faucet. When the trigger was pulled, he said, the cyanide capsule was exploded, spraying the lethal fluid through the nozzle.

He said his superiors told him the fluid left no trace, and that splinters of the capsule imbedded in the victim's body probably would be too small to be detected.

Drunken Driver Gets $193 Fine, Probation

Paul Ashy Filler Jr., 35, of 250 Corte Madera Avenue, Mill Valley, was fined $193 and put on six months probation yesterday for drunken driving.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Filler for driving while intoxicated along Highway 101 last Friday.

TRANSPLANTS, HOME-GROWN

Every Single Minute There Is A Brand New Californian

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — New Californians — transplants and home-grown — were created at a rate of better than one every minute of every hours of every day between mid-1961 and mid-1962.

The state's actual population gain for the year, according to a study in Wells Fargo Bank's current business review, was 641,000.

This boils down to growth at rates of 53,417 a month, 1,756 a day, 73 an hour, and, to be exact, 1.21666 a minute.

Transplants for the year totaled 363,000, arriving by land, sea or air in clusters of just about a thousand a day.

Local production, the excess of births over deaths, contributed 278,000 to the total.

With things happening as fast as they are, California's population isn't easy to count.

That was at 12 noon, precisely.

Trunk Murderess Winnie Judd Makes 7th Escape From Hospital

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Trunk murderess Winnie Ruth Judd, notorious "Tiger Woman" of the 1930s, last night escaped from the Arizona State Mental Hospital for the seventh time since her confinement in 1932.

Hospital superintendent Samuel Wick said the 57-year-old woman, originally sentenced to death for the murder of her two roommates during an argument, escaped from the hospital through a door which was left unlocked accidentally.

Miss Judd, whose last escape came in 1953 when she remained free for only 48 hours, was last seen at 9:30 p.m., according to Wick and was discovered missing at 11 p.m.

"All law enforcement agencies have been notified of the escape," said Wick. "However, we do not consider the patient dangerous."

Miss Judd was convicted of murdering Hedvig Samuelson and Agnes Ann Leroi in a jealous rage 30 years ago. She admitted dismembering their bodies and sending them to Los Angeles in trunks.

The once beautiful blonde Winnie was sentenced to be hanged, but 72 hours before her scheduled execution she was ruled insane and committed to the hospital.

She first escaped in 1939. In 1947 she escaped a third time and remained free 12 hours. Her fourth escape came in 1951 when she forced open a window screen and dropped down a cloth rope from the room of her aged mother, then also confined to the hospital.

She tried to escape again in February, 1953 and made her sixth bid for freedom in November of the same year.

Francisco Boulevard merchants decided yesterday to form an executive committee which in turn would name committees to work on highway problems, special promotions, lighting and transportation for the area.

The executive committee will meet Wednesday noon at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, 507 Francisco Boulevard. It will work along with the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce in promoting the area.

The group has named itself and the area, Francisco Boulevard — Gateway to San Rafael.

First Sewers Are Approved For 96 San Marin Homes

Plans for sewer connections for the first unit of 96 houses in San Marin, the 4,200-home development on the Freitas C ranch, were approved last night by the Novato Sanitary District board.

The sewers will be connected to the Trumbull Avenue line, said Albert H. Tresch, district manager.

The board called for bids for Nov. 14 on changing the sewers at Bolling Drive for the Highway 101 interchange. The engineer's estimate for the job is $4,100, Tresch said. The board approved an agreement with the state Division of Highways for repayment of the cost.

The Novato Sanitary District board also:

1. Approved annexation of two lots on Center Road near Dutch Court, belonging to Russell Sharp and James E. Meisch.

2. Set for Nov. 14 a hearing on annexation of property owned by Dora Young on Wilson Avenue.

3. Set Nov. 14 as the next meeting date because the regular meeting night (Nov. 12) is a holiday.

San Jose Schools Bond Sale Passes

Preliminary plans for a six-room addition to the San Jose intermediate school were reviewed last night by trustees of San Jose elementary district.

The board them authorized sale of $150,000 in bonds to cover the cost of the addition. However, it did not set a time for calling for the bids, awaiting the final plans.

The Marin County Planning Commission recommended a 32-acre site west of Highway 101 and south of Hamilton Air Force main gate for a high school. The commission wrote that the site would be good for the district if it stayed in the San Rafael High School District or if it unified with Novato.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. offered $3,600 for an easement over the northern end of the intermediate school site for a high-line from Bodega Bay. The board asked $4,000 for the easement.

The San Jose board also:

1. Accepted the drainage control job at the intermediate school as completed by the A. B. Siri, Inc.

2. Recommended copyrighting the phases of the Cuisenaire rod mathematic matter developed by the district.

3. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Helen Milstein as a third grade teacher and Mrs. Ann Avilla as a school lunch supervisor.

4. Hired Mrs. Victoria Larson and Mrs. Eilleen Johnston as third grade teachers for Meadow Park and Lynwood schools, respectively, and Alan Robinson as janitor.

5. Declared Friday as a holiday for school children, with teachers to attend a testing program.

6. Authorized Harold O. Bertram, teacher at Lynwood School, to apply to be an exchange teacher with England. If accepted, Bertram would teach one year in England with England sending a teacher to Lynwood.

ISLAND SONGSTRESS—Cora Beloy will sing with Walt Tolleson's orchestra Saturday night for the second annual Hawaiian Beaux Arts Ball at San Rafael's Bermuda Palms Motel. The 9 p.m. dance is sponsored by the Marin County Cosmetologists for the benefit of Guide Dogs for the Blind. It precedes the cosmetologists' hair styling show set for 11 a.m. Sunday, also at Bermuda Palms.

Sausalito Integration Is On Tap

The future of integration in the Sausalito School District is to be discussed by trustees at their Oct. 22 meeting.

Trustees John S. Wellington and Stanley Wolfe told the board last night that it must be aware of possible integration problems and the best way to do this is to discuss the subject. The board announced that all interested parties are invited to attend their meetings.

A delegation of six parents questioned the board as to why there are 30 pupils in one fourth grade class at Richardson Bay School and 36 in another, while fourth grade classes at Bayside School have class totals of 23, 24 and 17.

Supt. Marcus F. Davis said classes at Bayside are smaller because many families have moved from the South Marin forts.

"We're considering moving some of the pupils from Bayside to Richardson Bay, and perhaps also moving a teacher," he said.

The board gave permission for teachers to use the Richardson Bay School at 3:30 p.m. Nov. 7 for the organizational meeting of a Sausalito Chapter of the Marin County Federation of Teachers.

It agreed to enter into a screening program under the Children's Hospital of Los Angeles, designed to screen out potential mentally retarded children.

Davis requested to see a structural engineer to determine costs and the feasibility of having Manzanita School remodeled.

The board asked that a letter be written Mill Valley school district trustees advising them they are in agreement with the possibility of changing the Tennessee Valley boundary line.

CYCLIST SUCCUMBS IN ROAD ACCIDENT

Dale Marion Askim, 21-year-old Novato grocery clerk, died late yesterday in Marin General Hospital without regaining consciousness after a motorcycle-auto accident Sunday on Highway 101.

Askim succumbed to head injuries suffered when his southbound motorcycle struck the rear of a car driven by Michael McGovern of Daly City about two miles north of Novato at 4:30 p.m. Sunday. The impact almost overturned the automobile. Askim was thrown off his cycle.

His death was the 20th in Marin County traffic this year, compared to 11 at this time last year.

The California Highway Patrol said circumstances of the accident were still under investigation.

Askim was born in Hibbing, Minn., and the family moved to California when he was two years old. He attended schools in Lake County. For the past two years he was employed as a clark at Rayburn's Food Market in Novato. He was a member of the Retail Clerk's Union.

Surviving are his wife Barbara, whom he married in 1958; a year-old daughter Lynette, at the family home at 1080 Simmons Lane, Novato; his father, Almer O. Askim of Petaluma, three sisters, Mrs. T. H. Bergala of Novato, Mrs. Ray Pedroli of San Rafael and Mrs. Joseph Granger of Minnesota; and three brothers, Caryl Askim of Petaluma, and Charles and Bruce Askim of Novato.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday at the Redwood Funeral Home in Novato. Burial will be in Cypress Hill Cemetery in Petaluma.

Execution Stay Granted Slayer

Charley Luther Pike, 29, sentenced to die Oct. 24 in the gas chamber at San Quentin for killing a policeman in Los Angeles, was granted a two-month stay of execution yesterday by U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

The stay is good until Dec. 23 or until his appeal to the Supreme Court is denied. A petition for a writ of certiorari, or review, was filed by Pike's attorney, Thurman Arnold Jr.

Pike is in Los Angeles this week as a witness in the retrial of the penalty for David Charles Bickley, sentenced to die for a holdup slaying in Los Angeles.

3 Mill Valley Stores Looted During Night

Three Mill Valley stores, within a two-block area, were looted of $55 in bills and small change last night, police reported today.

Doors appeared to have been pried open with a pry bar—the same method used in a series of burglaries in September at business houses. Police Chief Dan Terzich today would not conjecture as to whether last night's break-ins were by the same thieves as those last month.

Ken Evans, owner of Marin Floor Covering at 19 Sunnyside Avenue, told officers that approximately $55 was taken from the cash register drawer and a petty cash drawer. He discovered the rear door of his store pried open at 8 p.m. About $15-to-$20 was in bills, Evans said, and the rest in change. One metal file had been ransacked in the office but nothing else in the store touched, he reported.

Sometime between 6:15 and 7:10 p.m., Fred W. Peters Jr. told police, someone forced the rear door of Bennett's at 19 Throckmorton Avenue. The store is back-to-back with Marin Floor Covering. Peters, a store partner, said there was evidence that someone had been in the shop but nothing was missing.

An inventory was being taken today at Montgomery Ward and Co. at Miller and Sunnyside avenues to determine whether anything was missing. Mrs. Harriet Bathgate, manager, told officers that sometime during the night someone had jimmied a side door.

Top U.S. Military Aide Says Tide Is Turning In Viet Nam

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — The top American military commander in Southeast Asia says that the tide is turning against Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, chief of the U.S. forces in Viet Nam, expressed this opinion in a report yesterday to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The two met in Pearl Harbor with Pacific military and diplomatic leaders to discuss America's growing involvement in Asia. Harkins said U.S. military assistance is beginning to pay off.

"The Communist Viet Cong has been slowed and there is growing effectiveness" against insurgents, he said.

This optimistic word was relayed by a source close to McNamara who attended the meeting which was held behind locked and guarded doors.

McNamara flew back to Washington at the end of the day-long conference after issuing a statement saying he shared Harkin's confidence and was "much encouraged."

Greenbrae Recreation Postponed

Kentfield School District trustees last night postponed decision on a request to include Greenbrae school in the Larkspur-Corte Madera recreation program.

Instead, trustees decided to consider organizing a recreation plan within the district for all four of its schools.

The proposal by Larkspur-Corte Madera Recreation Director William Gordon was backed by William G. Fleckles, president of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn.

Trustees suggested Gordon talk with his committee and learn whether funds appropriated for Greenbrae school recreation could be transferred to the school district.

The board approved hiring Roy Henry Swaney for part-time recreation duties at Greenbrae School and Kenneth Holyome and Jonathan M. Hole for recreation duties at Adaline E. Kent School, and discussed hiring a woman recreation instructor at Kent School.

The Kentfield School trustees also:

1. Approved hiring Mrs. Aida Louise Burke, former substitute teacher, as third grade teacher at Greenbrae School, succeeding Mrs. Kathryn Muggt, resigned, at $4,900 a year; Mrs. Betty Bowers, former San Francisco schools secretary-library clerk, to succeed Mrs. Helen Land, resigned, as secretary to the principal at Kent School, at $355 a month; Duane Valder as part-time night custodian at Greenbrae School.

2. Received copies of new studies on school district organization from the county committee on school district organization, and agreed to review them at a special meeting at 7:45 p.m. Monday in the Greenbrae School multi-use room.

Absentee Voting Instructions Told

Marin County voters who will be away from the county on Nov. 6 may take out absentee ballots or vote now by sealed ballot at the county clerk's office.

County Clerk George H. Gnoss announced that absentee voting booths opened up this week at his office in the county courthouse and will remain open until Oct. 30.

Absentee ballots mailed back to the county clerk must reach him by Nov. 3.

Exec Jailed For False Bomb Report

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Gerald R. Andlinger, 31, planning director for International Telephone and Telegraph Co., was free on $500 bail today after his arrest for jokingly mentioning a bomb at International Airport.

Andlinger, of Greenwith, Conn., appeared before U.S. Commissioner Donald Sonstine yesterday after spending the night in jail. The FBI said he was asked by a Trans World Airlines ticket agent if he would like his brief case carried to the plane.

"No, I'll carry it on. This one has a bomb in it," Andlinger replied, according to the ticket agent.

The businessman told the commissioner his statement "wasn't meant to be taken seriously," and he was freed on bail pending formal charges of making a false bomb report.

Man Is Injured In Crash, Girl Cited

A Tiburon Peninsula man was hurt and a San Francisco girl student was cited as result of a car crash during lane changes on Highway 101 last night.

Albert B. Henderson of W-118, Hilarita Housing Project, told the California Highway Patrol he was southbound in the center lane just south of the Corte Madera overpass at 6:10 p.m. when a station wagon in the right lane swerved and struck his small import. His car rolled over.

Henderson was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut right wrist and arm bruises. Lynne Marie Lanctot, 16-year-old student, driver of the wagon, was cited on a charge of causing an accident by unsafe lane change.

Burglar Breaks Into Market

A burglar broke into the Shoreline Market office in Tamalpais Valley and got away with more than $1,000 in cash, Manager William Ellis reported to the sheriff today.

Deputy Sheriff Boyd Burnham found no damage to the outer door, although a hole had been punched through the sheetrock wall of the inner office. The thief had apparently reached in through the hole to open the office door. The officer said the thief might have remained inside the store when the market closed yesterday.

Nova 4-Door Station Wagon

SPUNKY NEW WAGONS THAT LEAD LONGER, HAPPIER LIVES

What a new kick you'll get out of going places in this one! And what a solvent feeling you'll get as the savings on upkeep mount! There's a full line of models to pick from, including three wagons. Sure, we've kept Chevy II's basic simplicity. Kept its liveliness and roominess and easy loading ways. Kept its crisp looks, too (with a bit of freshening here and there). The changes we've made weren't for change's sake, you see—but for yours. Just for a sample: the brakes are self-adjusting. The new Delcotron generator gives you more electrical reserve power and helps your battery reach a vigorous old age. The Body by Fisher beauty lasts longer, too; air pushes rain and wash water down through the rocker panels (where most rust begins!) in a clever new flush-and-dry system. The ride is smoother and quieter because of a large number of small improvements we've made. And things are a lot plushier inside. Now you've read this far, haven't you? Isn't that pretty good evidence that Chevy II is made for you? The clincher will come when you take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. Drop in sometime soon and see if we haven't called the shot.

Clem Miller's Tragic Death Is Real Loss To All Of Us

The untimely death of Rep. Clem Miller comes as a blow to all of the people of Marin County, indeed to all in the First Congressional District.

Tragedy becomes personal to most Americans when the victim is a public official. They have campaigned for or against him; have voted for or against him for a variety of reasons. But even if he wasn't their candidate, he still was their representative.

In Clem Miller's case he was even more. He was a Marin resident and was raising his daughters here before the voters sent him to Washington. At first unsuccessful, on his second try he won a seat in the House of Representatives. He was re-elected and was campaigning for his third term when his plane went down in Sunday's storm.

Miller was an out-spoken and hard working proponent of the so-called "liberal" philosophy of government. He was sensitive to human problems and felt that federal government should do much to alleviate them.

He also was concerned with the situation in his district. Less than three weeks ago he happily accepted the designation "pork barrel liberalist" from Democratic leader Roger Kent in recognition of specific projects Miller had been able to bring to his district.

Without doubt the most impressive and important of these is the new Point Reyes Seashore, for which he worked hard and long. He lived long enough to see the park authorized, but not long enough to see the first federal appropriation or acquisition of the first piece of property to make the park a reality. But it will happen and will be a continuing memorial to his service to the public.

We of the Independent-Journal, who have not supported Clem Miller's candidacy and opposed some of his political positions, sincerely regret his tragic passing. He had become an articulate, effective advocate of his philosophy. His voice had become louder in Capitol halls. He represented the people of the district in the way he believed best for them and the way he believed they wanted to be represented.

It is particularly untimely that his death should occur at just this time, a time when the general election is too near at hand to place another name for his on the ballot. Ponderous democracy sometimes seems temporarily unfair.

And we sorrow with Clem Miller's gentle widow, Katharine, and with their five daughters. They have our deep sympathy and our most heart-felt thanks for all they have gone through in being a part of our great system of government. We hope they will return to live amongst us once more.

Golden-Crown Sparrow Returns

The shy, little golden crown sparrow has returned to Marin from his summer home in British Columbia. Our county's bird-lovers expect him the last week in September and he was right on schedule.

This little fellow with the big voice is Marin's favorite song bird. His three note, minor-key song is unforgettable, but he is a bit on the bashful side and more often heard than seen. His habit of singing in the rain causes many people to call him the rain bird.

These petite songsters can easily be recognized by their crowns of golden orange. They will be around until next April. If you don't know them, listen for them when it rains.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Tie Between Politician, Reporter Made Up Of Variety Of Things

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

A person in politics and one writing about it come together so often and in so many fields that they develop a tie which is unlike anything else I know. It is not friendship (although I have many, many friends in politics too). It is more of an understanding based on recognition of what each is attempting to do. When this tie is broken so tragically as it has just been with Rep. Clem Miller, it leaves a real sense of loss.

I've gone through three campaigns with Clem; this was the fourth. At first he was a gangling, nervous, bumbling type of speaker, unlikely material for a successful politician, but having an attraction of his own, particularly to women.

He learned a lot in that first unsuccessful congressional campaign in 1956. I recall a dinner party immediately after it. He was disheartened but not dejected. He would have changed his campaign were he given the chance to do it again, he said. But the changes he detailed were superficial, aimed at effect to gain votes.

That was a much different man than the Clem Miller who stood before a huge crowd less than three weeks ago in the Meadow Club and spoke right from the shoulder with force and authority, putting forward his point of view and letting the votes fall where they may.

I HAVE A telegram from him which starts, "Conferred with President at White House today" on plans for what eventually became the President's bill to establish the U. S. Disarmament Agency For Peace and Security. He became a co-sponsor.

A letter from him worries about the fate of redeveloping Marin City and urges local action to bring about a better situation.

I RECALL A TRIP we took together in 1958, driving to Napa to join Adlai Stevenson on a bus swing through Napa, Sonoma and Marin Counties in Stevenson's second try to defeat Dwight Eisenhower. Clem was silent that trip, unsure of the relationship between us and worried about his own campaign for Hubert Scudder's vacant seat.

But a year and a half later in Fresno at a California Democratic Council convention, we sat down together and had a heart-to-heart discussion in an effort to understand each other and to try to clarify for him "the difficulty (as he put it) which I experience as an amateur in distinguishing a newsworthy item." He never became expert, but he learned how to make news in his speeches.

HE "DEPLORED" the indifference of officials in Marin County to activities in Washington which had direct effect on the county. But he never perfected a way to keep them from being indifferent.

He faced an inner battle with himself on redistricting the First District, and I doubt he could have found a happy solution.

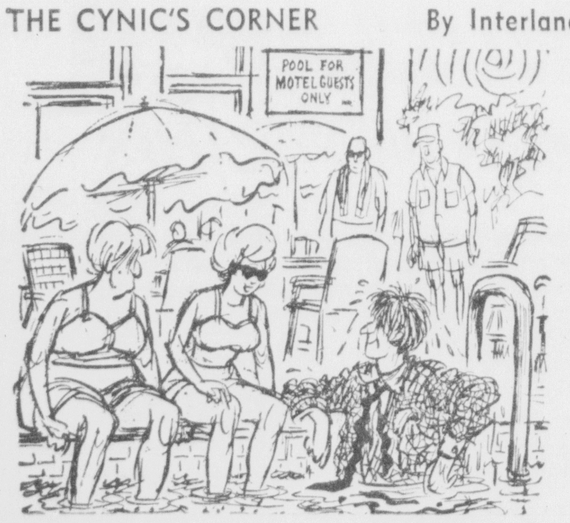

One nickname which irked him was "Spendin' Clem," but he faced it headon. It came about when the Congressional Quarterly summarized 29 so-called "economy" roll calls. Clem was found to be one of 24 congressmen who had voted 100 per cent opposed to limitation of federal spending, CQ said.

Clem answered: "I am prepared to defend every one of those measures and my vote thereon as a responsible act of the congressman from the First District." But it never ceased to irk him.

THERE ARE many other remembrances, some of them not happy ones.

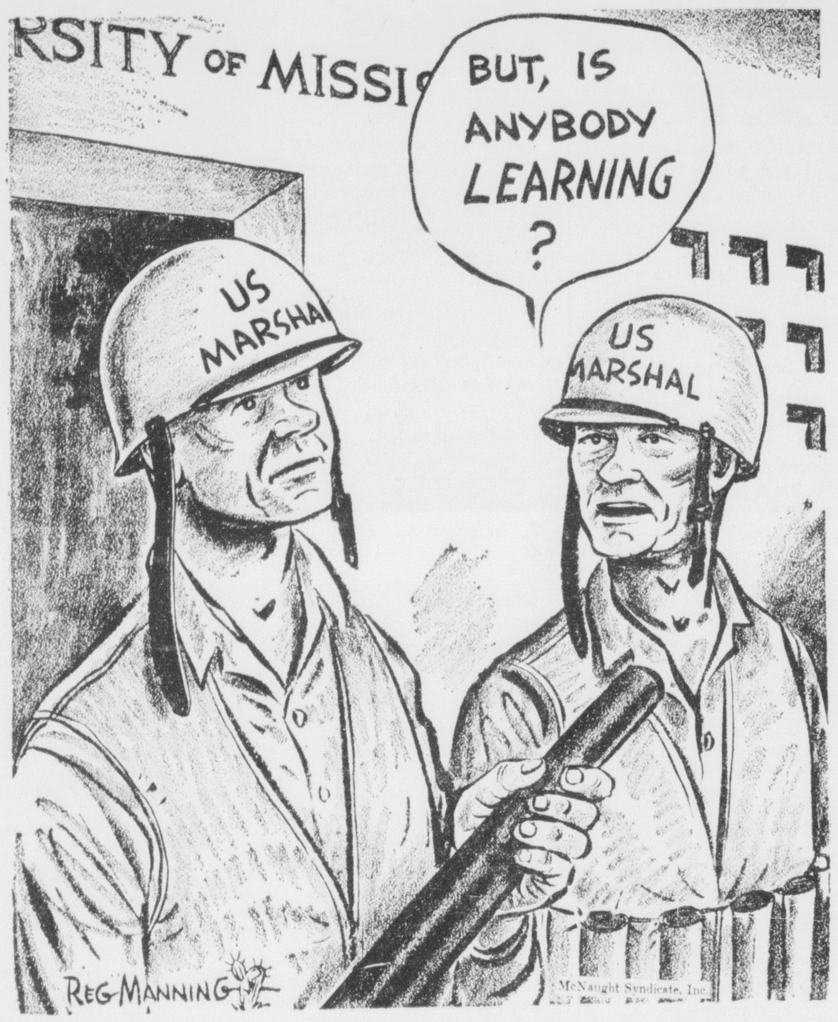

But somehow the unhappy ones are disintegrating already and where Clem stood is now only a feeling of loss.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The authority of law, backed by force, has made justice possible in Mississippi. The authority of law, backed by force, ought to make possible justice among nations.

As citizens of a city, a county, a state, and a federation of states, we could not go about our daily business as peacefully as we do unless we had courts to administer justice and officers of the law to enforce it. But we grant any nation the right to settle its disputes with aggression.

We must outlaw war. Nations must settle their disputes by negotiation or by submitting them to an international court, backed by an international police force. No nation, no matter how just it believes its cause, should have the right to snuff out thousands, perhaps millions, of lives. And that is what nuclear war can do—in less than 15 minutes.

When many more nations have nuclear striking power, will we be able to allow the law of the jungle to exist among nations? We must replace it, while we can, with the rule of law.

Perhaps both parties to the cold war might be willing to end the spiraling arms race if there was a third force in the world to fill the vacuum and grant them a greater measure of security.

Housing Criticism Two Years Late

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The opinions of Real Estate Board President Edwin C. Ward are some two years late and we certainly could have used his interest back in critical periods. His interest and support would have been invaluable during the numerous public hearings, if he had only attended. He could have helped us overcome the delays and demands of FHA and deal with politics at the highest level in Washington, D.C., that we had to battle with.

In view of his lack of interest during the past critical periods, his request for a Grand Jury probe is actually a petition for his own proper education. Many of us remember how real estate members and past presidents appeared before clubs and organizations to encourage the yes vote for the redevelopment of Marin City.

Remembering their support, I, a real estate broker and member of the Real Estate Board, accepted the appointment of the supervisors as commissioner of the Fifth District. I accepted in the interest of modernizing the Gateway to Marin and have fought strongly to keep the tremendous job of redevelopment always at the level of construction cost analysis.

President Ward's attack on the product of his organization's own creation, begins to open the record as to whether their primary interest in support of the "yes" vote was to prevent decentralization.

Grand Jury probes are always healthy for the people. I believe the jury will learn as I have, that Marin City provides natural platforms for the aspirations of Doodlers interested in personal fame at the expense of those forced to do a tremendous job within limitations and principles of redevelopmeht dictated from Washington, D.C., itself.

Redwoods Won't Grow By Creek

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Long and valiantly this writer has withstood the temptation to respond to the letters printed on your editorial page, but the idea of planting redwood trees along the Corte Madera Creek voiced by one John H. Geiger has uncorked me at last.

Like, does Mr. Geiger and his sponsor know that the Corte Madera Creek is a salt water canal with possible 5% of fresh water averaged between summer and winter? Will redwood trees tolerate a salt marsh soil? Acacia and eucalyptus trees can manage this environment, but I've never seen redwood anywhere near salt water. However, this is the least of the problems.

Most of the land along the Corte Madera Creek lies within recorded subdivisions whose lots are privately owned with some boundaries in conflict with state surveys. Mr. Geiger seems to think, if at all, that all he has to do to get this scheme on the road is to secure the support of some clubs and then go merrily about planting trees on various privately owned lands, presumably without consulting the owners thereof.

I suggest that if Mr. Geiger has a thing about planting trees and improving the appearance of Marin County in general, he begin by seeding the tops of various hills in the county which have been graded down to provide fill for more housing tracts. After getting the consent of the owners, that is.

Come to think of it, why not stop this grading and save the trees which are already there to say nothing of Mr. Geiger's 10 bucks which he has ready to donate.

After prolonged study, a bridge expert has come up with a brand new bid calculated to be "a solace to the uneasy bidder, a reviver of interest to the poor devil who is a consistent holder of miserable cards, and a deterrent to an overbearing opponent. The name of this revolutionary new bid is the "undouble."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By THERON NEWELL

Add To List Of Special Weeks: Newell's Baby Visitors Week

Last week when I wrote about various national weeks, there was one week that I had not figured on. That is Newell's Baby Week.

Our apartment, which usually knows only the company of adults and dogs, resounded to the coos and cries of tiny babies.

It all started off when friends of ours from Santa Rosa spent an afternoon with us, bringing with them their three-week-old daughter. She started life as a big baby and seemed to be getting bigger with each bottle of formula.

Then other friends stopped by for a few moments en route home from the hospital with their new infant daughter.

Throughout the first part of the week, the couple across the court were getting ready to move to their new home in Oregon. Their four-week-old son spent quite a few hours in our apartment where there was more quiet and less confusion.

The end of the week brought a two-day visit by a great-nephew from Minneapolis. He was just three months old, but already showing definite signs of becoming fullback material.

So, even after 20 years of marriage without any children, I can definitely state that babies come in a variety of sizes and personalities.

ALONG WITH missing the couple and their baby from across the court, we will also miss the friendly Boxer dog that called both apartments her home. After she became acquainted with us, she always paid us several visits daily, not only for handouts, which we usually provided, but also to entertain us by going through her bag of tricks on our living room floor.

NOVATO FIRE CHIEF George Cavallero has scheduled two public showings of the film on the tragic fire last year in Bel Air, in Los Angeles, during Fire Prevention Week this week.

Cavallero said there is a big lesson for North Marin in the film, because of the similarity of the terrain, vegetation and homes being built in both areas.

"It could happen here," Cavallero said.

"What we're trying to do is to prevent it," he added, as a kind of plea for everyone to come see this free show at the Novato Community Building Thursday night.

Along with this film, Cavallero has prepared a display of newspaper pictures of burned houses after fires. At first they look like the houses that one has just seen burned in the Bel Air fire.

JFK Has Less Chance Of Second Term Now

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy is not today the sure-bet for re-election to a second term that he appeared to be before the battle of Oxford, Miss.

The political impact of James H. Meredith's effort to register at the University of Mississippi is likely to be very great. First opportunity for angry Southerners to obtain revenge on their own Democratic Party will come in next month's congressional elections, a cut off your own nose proposition.

More Republicans are seeking state and national office this year in the one-time Solid South than in any previous election. Republican congressional candidates in the South may expect to benefit and perhaps they will.

BUT COOL-MINDED Southerners may hesitate before voting out of office a congressional Democrat, however much they may resent the use of federal force in Mississippi in support of integration of the university. Southern Democrats are orphans within their own party. Their only enforceable claim to influence in national politics is based on their congressional committee chairmanships.

These chairmanships are held by Southerners out of all proportion to the number of Southerners in Congress. That situation is created by the congressional seniority system and the Southern custom of putting their men in office and keeping them there.

THE CHAIRMANSHIPS are a bulwark against the two-party system in the South. If Southern voters began replacing congressional Democrats with Republicans, years would elapse before the newcomers would be eligible for chairmanships under the seniority system.

These chairmanships would be relatively secure, however, if Southerners passed the 1962 opportunity to vote revenge and conserved their anger for the 1964 presidential election.

Southern Democrats could support the Republican ticket in 1964 to punish the Kennedy brothers. More likely they will put up their own third party presidential nominee as a Jeffersonian Democrat or some such. The objective would be to throw the election to the U. S. House of Representatives.

IF THE REGULAR party tickets split the vote outside the South, no candidate would have a majority of the electoral college and the House would choose among the top three.

Then the South would be in the saddle again. When the House chooses a president, each state has one vote, only. The South might expect to hold a balance of power in such a choice—and to make a satisfactory deal with the winner.

Parking Ban To Start In Fairfax

Fairfax's all-night parking ban will go into effect tomorrow.

Until Nov. 11, police will issue only warning tickets to those violating the ban. But for the month following, enforcement will be without exceptions, according to decisions of the Fairfax City Council last night.

The council introduced an amendment to the ordinance providing for a $1-a-month fee for six-month permits in "hardship cases." Such permits can be granted by the police chief only on recommendation of the variance board, composed of three members of the town planning commission. However, the ordinance, without an urgency clause, would not be effective until Dec. 13 if passed on second reading Nov. 13.

The council approved a plan for revocable permits issued for two years for construction of carports which would encroach on city streets. The permits will be issued by the council on the variance board's recommendation.

Building Inspector Rolfe M. Ockenden, a member of the variance board, asked the council for a definition of a hardship. Mayor W. E. Radtke answered only, "We will have to work this ordinance out."

Fairfax Council Returns Plan On Redwoods To Park Group

The Fairfax City Council last night sent the plan to cut down four redwood trees in Bolinas Park back to the recreation and park commission for further study.

The council's action was taken after City Clerk Alice Leonesio said she had received a total of 593 signatures, contained in a petition circulated by the Ross Valley 4-H Club and in individual letters, opposing the plan. She said she had received one letter in favor of the plan.

However, about eight persons at the council meeting raised their hands when asked by the council if there was anyone in the audience in favor of Commissioner Frank Salvisberg's plan to beautify the park.

Salvisberg charged that "a considerable number of people signed the petition before knowing the facts." Councilman Freeman Blake pointed out that the petition did not state the number of redwoods to be cut down and could have been misleading under the heading "Save the redwoods."

Commissioner Helen Younclaus, who was one of two dissenters in the 3-2 vote of the recreation commission to cut the trees, said 4-H Club members had been thoroughly briefed on the precise plan before circulating the petition.

According to the plan, the trees would be cut down so that grass could be planted near Bolinas Avenue and Elsie Lane. A terrace, paths and benches would also be provided.

William Kapanos, who teaches landscape gardening at the College of Marin, said the removal of four trees would not allow enough sun to grow a lawn. He said, "I see no particular need to cut down the trees."

Kapanos, who had been asked by persons opposing the plan to attend the meeting, admitted, "I haven't carefully scrutinized the plan and the park."

Salvisberg told the council that his plan "was to get the dust bowl cleaned up for people's use, not the squirrels."

Baptist Seminary Students Work, Attend Classes

All but three of the 80 new students enrolled this fall at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary are working part or fulltime in addition to attending classes.

Jobs have been secured through Dr. J. B. Nichols, coordinator of student affairs, in cooperation with the State Department of Employment.

There are 244 students at the Strawberry Point School. Among the new 80 there are five from Hong Kong, three from China, two from Canada, and one each from Japan, Jordan, Korea, Mexico and the Philippines.

"Significant in the figures is a decline in the number of students seeking certificates offered to those lacking a four-year liberal arts degree," said Dr. Harold K. Graves, president.

Fairfax Acts To Legislate Against Odor

The Fairfax City Council will attempt to legislate against an odor.

Mayor W. E. Radtke last night directed City Atty. Wallace S. Myers to prepare an ordinance governing keeping of cats and dogs, after the council voted for some control of pets as result of a petition complaining of "malodorous condition" at the residence of E. A. Larock at 17 Fir Trail.

Larock allegedly has about 40 cats.

Councilman Freeman Blake said he had visited the property as a result of the petition and "words don't describe the smell."

Police Chief James Orr said he had gone twice to the house but had been denied entrance by Larock.

Councilmen did not specify what should be in the ordinance, other than that it should be for control of cats and dogs. Attorney Myers was asked to consult the county health department and study similar ordinances of other cities. He is to present a proposed ordinance on Nov. 13.

The Fairfax City Council also:

1. Decided to send a letter, after City Engineer Albert M. Siemer's inspection, to San Rafael Associates Inc. requesting improvements on the site of apartment construction above Park Road which will prevent silt running down onto residents back yards.

2. Authorized spending up to $675 for Christmas decorations to match contributions by the Lions Club and Fairfax merchants.

3. Requested Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to install a street light at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Olema Road and update the city's master lighting plan.

4. Gave the Fairfax Garbage Disposal Co. one month to improve its billing system before considering a new billing system for garbage service. City Attorney Myers was to continue preparing civil suits against residents with delinquent garbage collection bills.

5. Approved the proposal for a one-cent increase in the state gasoline tax for construction of county and city roads.

6. Instructed Myers and Street Supt. Charles M. Thornton to confer on how Williams Construction of San Rafael could be forced to adhere to an Oct. 1 completion date on installation of drainage facilities on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

7. Continued to the Nov. 13 meeting a decision on how to abate a nuisance, consisting of an old structure at 30 Taylor Drive which would cost $700 to demolish.

8. Appointed Peter Arrigoni Jr. of Oak Tree Lane to the park and recreation commission.

9. Adjourned to Nov. 13 at 8 p.m.

Ben Bella Pledges Anti-Colonialism Support In First Address To U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Algerian Premier Ahmed Ben Bella pledged unconditional support today to African nationalists in their struggles in Angola, Rhodesia, South Africa and South West Africa.

He made no mention of the situation between the United States and Cuba, which he is scheduled to visit after talks with President John F. Kennedy in Washington next week. But he did support the seating of Communist China in the United Nations.

The Algerian leader, whose country became the 109th U.N. member yesterday, told the General Assembly his government stood with the Arab League countries against Israel on the problem of more than a million Arab refugees of the 1948 Palestine War.

Except for that, Ben Bella restated the determination of the Algiers regime to remain non-aligned in world politics.

"The Algerian Republic arose from a liberation struggle that surpassed the national framework to be used, henceforth, as a reference by all peoples still under colonial domination," Ben Bella said.

"Our experience has made us understand the natural solidarity that binds together these peoples. The liquidation of colonialization in its classical form —or disguised — will be the credo of our political and diplomatic action.

"Be it Angola, Rhodesia, South Africa or South West Africa, Algeria shall bring them unconditional support in order to hasten their liberation—definitive and total.

Ben Bella signed an agreement yesterday with President Sekou Toure of Guinea in which both African leaders pledged full support to countries still under colonialism. Toure was scheduled to address the assembly this afternoon—the third chief of state to do so this year.

Newsmen Battle To Get In As Edith Piaf Wed

PARIS (UPI) — Torch singer Edith Piaf, France's "Sparrow of the Streets," married a former Greek barber behind closed doors in a local mayor's office today while a strong force of police battled outside with enraged cameramen.

The battle began when police pushed everyone out of the building. One newsreel cameraman said he was severely manhandled.

The photographers and newsmen then began arguing hotly with the police and at least one photographer who shot a picture of the incident had his film taken away by the police.

Many of the spectators immediately claimed that because the doors were closed, the marriage was not valid under French law.

Miss Piaf, 46, married her protege, Theo Lamboukas, only half her age, who is known on the stage as Theo Sarapo.

The civil ceremony was to be followed by a religious ceremony in the Greek Orthodox Church nearby.

Mayor's office sources said even if the marriage was technically invalid because it was held behind closed doors, another ceremony would be necessary only if a formal protest was filed.

Legion In Closest Campaign For Commander In 14 years

LAS VEGAS (AP) — The 44th Annual American Legion Convention settled down to some old-fashioned backroom politicking today in its closest national commander election in 14 years.

Two Southerners are scrapping for the top office — James Powers of Macon, Ga., and Joseph Matthews of Fort Worth, Tex.

Powers has been actively seeking the job for the past two or three years and preparing himself for the big run this year. He is the candidate of the informal but powerful selection committee within the Legion.

Not since 1948 has this committee's choice been seriously challenged. Matthews is doing it.

He, too, has been after the commander spot for more than a year, traveling the country widely.

Informed sources say he'll take large blocks of votes in Pennsylvania, Kansas, Texas and California. But in the final analysis, say the same sources, Powers will win by a 2-1 majority in the voting Thursday of the 3,015 delegates.

Teaching Rods To Be Discussed

Copyrighting several types of rods for teaching arithmetic will be discussed by the San Jose Elementary School District board at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the district office.

The district was instrumental in development of this type of instruction, according to Supt. Ralph Giovanniello.

Sale of bonds to finance an addition to the San Jose intermediate school and acceptance of the drainage project of that school will also be considered by the board.

Hiller 'n' Haller---Yanks Find 'em Tough To Swaller

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Poetry corner:

First it was Haller.
Then it was Hiller.
One started the pallor,
The last was the killer.

The jingle boys of the San Francisco Giants—catcher Tom Haller and second baseman Charles (Chuck) Hiller — often this season have been the object, source and sometime butt of the jinglers. Even Danny Kaye has a comic song about them.

But you can take it from the New York Yankees, there's very little humorous about the manner in which these two similarly named young gents flogged the Bronx Bombers with their own home run weapon yesterday to square the World Series.

Haller, not Hiller, smote a second inning home run with a man on which gave the Giants a 2-0 lead.

Hiller, not Haller, walloped the first National League grand slam in Series history — the Yankees owning six of the seven previously written into the record books—to stow away a 7-3 victory.

You might expect it from Haller, if not from Hiller. Haller is a six foot, four inch 195-pounder out of Lockport, Ill., who was a University of Illinois quarterback on the same grid team with the great Bobby Mitchell. He already had walloped 18 home runs this year so another wasn't to be considered too remote a possibility.

But while you could look for such heroics from Haller, it seemed unlikely from Hiller when he trudged to the plate with the sacks full of Giants in the seventh inning. For Hiller, not Haller, had massaged only three home runs during this entire wacky baseball season in which the Giants collared the Los Angeles Dodgers, beat them out of the National League gonfalon in a three-game playoff and as of today were no worse than in a flat-footed tie at two games each with the mighty Yankees.

Hiller and Haller both started as regulars with the Giants last year and it was Haller, not Hiller, who on his first time at bat in the major leagues struck a home run. But eventually both of them were sent down to the farm.

Hiller, not Haller, is built on a smaller scale than his teammate. The second baseman, who hails from Johnsburg, Ill., a town of about 1,000 people, is five feet, 10 inches tall and goes but 170 pounds. He studied business administration at St. Thomas, Minn., College and admits to arriving "very late" in the majors. Hiller was 26 when he stuck while Haller was 25.

"It's all very confusing," says Hiller of his relations with Haller. "We get mixed up a lot. People call me Tom Hiller and call him Chuck Haller when really it's Chuck Hiller and Tom Haller, as you probably know. Then I get mail addressed to Tom Haller and he gets mail addressed to Chuck Hiller, and it's really for one or the other of us, although sometimes we're not too sure, at that."

Hiller, not Haller, was obtained by the Giants from the Cleveland chain. The Indians had signed Hiller, not Haller, because Haller was signed by the Giants, for a "very small bonus."

"Actually nobody wanted me very much, said Hiller, and after his grand slam, that included the Yankees.

Whether it's Hiller
Or whether it's Haller,
Take it from the Yanks,
They're tough pills to swaller.

Parade Is Planned To Welcome Team

The San Francisco Giants will receive a hero's welcome when they return home to face the New York Yankees in Candlestick Park.

Acting Mayor Harold Dobbs has planned a parade in open cars up Market Street to city hall, where each Giant will be introduced from the balcony.

The parade is tentatively scheduled for 8:30 p.m. the day the team returns.

Dobbs urged that fans greet the Giants downtown rather than at International Airport, the scene of mass confusion last week when a mob of 50,000 greeted the Giants returning from playoffs in Los Angeles.

INJURY, SLUMP

Marichal, Cepeda Dejected Players

NEW YORK (AP)—Juan Marichal stood guardedly protecting his injured finger, his back jammed against a wall in the San Francisco dressing room. Orlando Cepeda dressed hurriedly and privately in his cubicle, and after straightening his tie once more, started to leave.

It was a victory celebration for the Giants after Monday's 7-3 triumph over the Yankees in the fourth game of the World Series, but you couldn't tell it by the two most dejected ball players on either team.

"I don't think I pitch again in the series," said Marichal, holding up the index finger on his pitching hand and showing a blue and purple finger nail where he had been hit while attempting a squeeze bunt.

Marichal, already battered about both legs from earlier injuries, got the squeeze sign with the Giants leading 2-0 in the fifth inning. There were men on first and third and two strikes on the Giants' hurler.

"Whitey Ford threw one bad, inside low," said Marichal, a 24-year-old right-hander from the Dominican Republic. "I could not let it go by because (Tom) Haller was coming from third. The ball hit my finger, not the bat. I knew I was out because I swung at third strike."

Marichal, who had been working on a shutout, had to leave the game.

"I'm very tired," said the hulking first baseman who has failed to get a hit in 12 tries. "I like to get some hits, but we win. That's the reason we here, so I not so unhappy."

"Swing the bat," he said, "keep swinging, keep swinging."

Prep Game Changed To Afternoon

Friday's Marin Athletic League football game between San Rafael and Novato high schools at San Rafael, originally scheduled to start at 8 p.m., has been moved up to a 4 p.m. starting time, it was announced today.

San Rafael Athletic Director Angelo Colombo explained, "The league tends to favor afternoon games instead of night and we thought we'd like to try it out."

He added, there are fewer problems for authorities at day games. "We've had our problems at nights, especially with over-enthusiastic alumni. And as a result we've had to hire extra police to patrol the stadium."

The varsity game Friday will start at 4 p.m. and the junior varsity at 6 o'clock.

Other games in the league this weekend are on Saturday, Tamalpais vs. Redwood, 2 o'clock, at Kentfield, and Drake at Terra Linda at 1:30.

Result Of Benefit Tournament

The foursome of Norm Wilson, Norm Marks, Don Burke and A. Ross McKay won the first Dick Stewart-Cystic Fibrosis Invitational Golf Tournament at the Marin Golf Club.

Among the personalities at the tournament were Dick Nolan; Don Sherwood; the Kingston Trio; the Peter, Paul and Mary Trio; Don Sherman; Don Burke; Leland Myers, assistant dean of San Francisco State College; Roy Panelli, proprietor of the Red Knight; and Sam Marconi, owner of San Francisco's Gold Street nightspot.

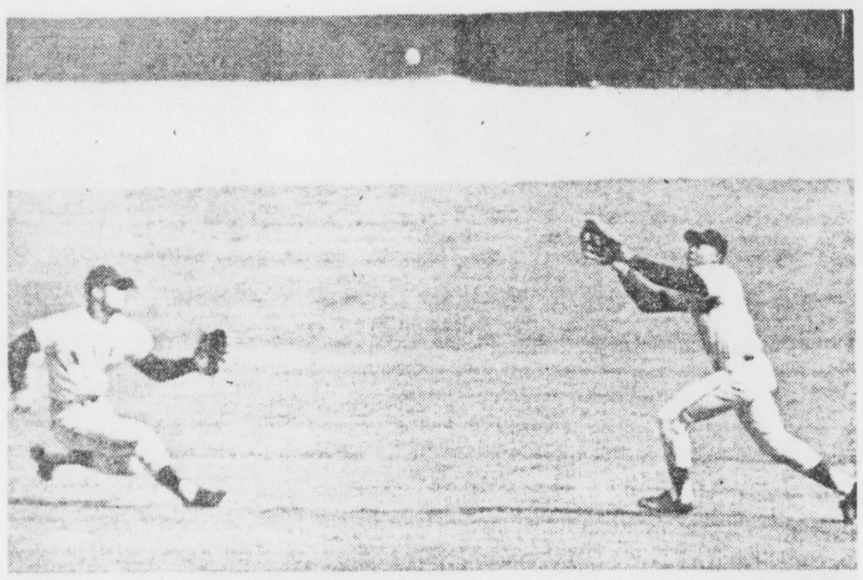

Other results were:

Col. Joe Worthington, Joe DeMaestri, Sil DeMaestri and Alex Kazakoff, 58. Bjarne Quale, R. Hardy, William Munson and W. Lanier, 58. John Weston, Dr. James Daly, Vic Bonfilio and B. Cuniberti, 59. Walter Corbin, Joe Davidar, Bob Steele and Dr. George Chichester, 60. Scott Graham, Richard Ferraris, James O'Donnell and Malcolm Kelso, 60. Mattie Matlock, Henry Torget, W. Reynold and George Connolly, 60. Anthony Weichers, Neils Bradsgar, Don May and Kai Thomsen, 60.

Hole-in-one — Bonfilio, 10 feet, three inches; John Mayer, 18 feet; Ed Wright, 18 feet, two inches.

Tam High Rally Set

Tamalpais High School students will hold a rally at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Mill Valley's Sequoia Theater in preparation for the school's football game with Redwood High School at 2 p.m. Saturday at College of Marin football field, Kentfield.

Series Sidelights

NEW YORK (AP)—Series sidelights:

Marshall Bridges of the Yanks, who served up the grand slam homer to Chuck Hiller, has only one decision against the Giants—a victory in relief on Sept. 10, 1960. Hiller wasn't with the San Francisco team at that time. Bridges' over-all National League mark with St. Louis and Cincinnati before he joined the Yankees was 12-6.

THE HOME RUN the left-handed Hiller hit was only the fifth off Bridges this year. During the regular campaign, the Yankee southpaw yielded homers to Dick McAuliffe of Detroit, Floyd Robinson of the Chicago White Sox and Albie Pearson — all left-handed hitters—and Ed Sadowski of the Los Angeles Angels.

AFTER 12 years in the major leagues, Bob Nieman finally got into his first World Series game and didn't even get an opportunity to swing a bat. He was walked intentionally batting for Ed Bailey in the seventh inning.

EACH SERIES team has struck out 23 times. Willie Mays of the Giants and Tom Tresh and Mickey Mantle of the Yanks have fanned the most times, four apiece.

THE SEVENTH inning has been the most productive one so far with nine runs scored in that frame—five by the Giants and four by the Yanks. The ninth inning is next with five runs.

Although Whitey Ford was not involved in yesterday's decision, the Yankee lefty extended four of his own pitching records. They were: most games pitched—18; most games started—18; innings pitched—124 and strikeouts—79.

YANK MANAGER Ralph Houk is becoming more and more impressed by the Giants, especially since they tied the series at two games each. "Our scouts felt the Giants would be tougher than the Dodgers," Houk said. "So far the Giants have done nothing to change the report."

BILL STAFFORD, who won Sunday's game for the Yanks, still is hobbling from the crack he got on the left shin by a batted ball in the eighth inning. He's in doubt if he'll be able to start again. "Hurts worse now than it did when I got hit," he said sadly. "The pain has gone up to the knee and down the side of the leg."

WHEN DON LARSEN pitched a perfect World Series game against the Brooklyn Dodgers just six years ago as a member of the Yanks, Yogi Berra, his catcher, raced out to the mound and jumped all over him at the end of the game. Monday, as a Giant, Larsen faced Berra when he came in to pitch in the sixth inning. "I kept remembering Yogi jumping on top of me six years ago," Larsen said, "the only other thing I could think of was trying to keep Yogi from hitting that short porch (the right field stands)."

P.S. Yogi walked.

Davidson May Be Okay For Action In Oakland Game

OAKLAND (AP)—Quarterback Cotton Davidson is expected to be ready for action when the winless Oakland Raiders host the Denver Broncos Sunday.

The signal caller suffered stretched ligaments in his right shoulder Friday night when his American Football League club dropped a 44-7 decision to Denver for its fourth consecutive loss.

"We need a victory because even our good football players are starting to wonder about the team," assistant coach Ollie Spencer said Monday.

"We've got fine players in most spots and we just have to overcome the costly mistakes that have been giving the other teams those big leads," he added.

World Series Boat Service Available

Round-trip water transportation to Candlestick Park from the south end of the Ferry Building, San Francisco, and from Oakland's Jack London Square for tomorrow's World Series game (and Friday's, too, if there is a game), was announced today by the Harbor Tug and Barge Co.

The red-and-white 400-passenger sightseeing boats Harbor King and Harbor Queen will leave both places at 10:15 a.m. for the trip to Candlestick Park, and will return one-half hour after the game. Cost is $3 round-trip, and reservations must be made in advance.

Good Turnout In Last Race Of Yacht Season

By ALFRED MATSON

Despite a couple of counter attractions of great portent, the World Series and 49er-Baltimore football game, a goodly fleet of yachts saw action in the final race of the season Sunday, the St. Francis Y.C.'s handicap division regatta.

Yet it may be assumed that few of the participants were not equipped with radios and the distracting news from New York might have dampened the ardor of many of the skippers and crews.

There is little question that, at least, one skipper wished he had stayed home, comfortably ensconced in front of his TV set. And that sailing buff is Dunlap Smith of Tiburon; his Thunderbird class sloop was dismasted, an unhappy circumstance that was doubly so as it was a repeat disaster of the last race, but two weeks prior.

The weather was clear and a brisk breeze prevailed within the bay but, for the boats in Cruising Club "A," "B" and "C," which had to beat out the Golden Gate to channel buoy No. 1, the wind lightened perceptibly and it proved slow work, rounding that weather mark. On the run in, those who chose the north shore benefited by stronger breezes and moved into commanding positions.

In Cruising Club "A," Tim Moseley's Orient emerged the victor but was hard pressed by Wally Nickell's Santana which finished, on corrected time, only one minute, 18 seconds astern. Baruna was third, followed by Athene. The other entry, Orion, did not finish.

In both "B" and "C" a couple cliff-hanging finishes developed. In "B," Dean Morrison's Chrysopyle eked out a three-second win over Bob White's Kandu with Chris Kiskaddon's Spirit in the third spot.

It was a battle down to the wire in "C" division with well nigh a blanket finish for the first four boats, Bill Trask's Hoyden, Bob Potter's Touche, Malcolm Deweese's Baby Grand and Ted Stephen's Debit, which finished in that order. In finishing third, it must have given Dewees complete satisfaction, as his season long nemesis, and builder of his Dasher class sloop, Hank Easom, wound up fifth in Serenade.

Hiller, Haller Prove Good Hitters Can Belt Any Kind Of Pitching

CONNOLLY

Tom Haller and Chuck Hiller, rookie lefthanded hitters, became World Series heroes because they were allowed to remain in the lineup, even against lefthanded pitching.

Now if the other half of the Giant experiment can resolve itself, Willie McCovey may be allowed to face southpaw pitching and prove, like Haller and Hiller, good hitters can hit any kind of pitching.

Haller's two-run homer in the second inning of the fourth game of the series not only sent the Giants into the lead but perhaps added $10,000 to his paycheck in 1963.

ONLY McCOVEY, who hit a tape measure homer in the second game, seems to have been shackled against southpaws. I'm sure Manager Alvin Dark will reinstate "Lovey Dovey" the first chance he gets and complete a cycle in the Giant youth movement that can carry on for years.

McCovey's worth, if he isn't allowed freedom against lefty pitching, is sliced in half. And so would the value of Haller and Hiller if they were benched every time a southpaw worked.

The Giant youth movement got its biggest lift yesterday when the rookies delivered, outshadowing the great Willie Mays, Felipe Alou and the fast fading Orlando Cepeda.

One lefthanded pitcher in the National League, Warren Spahn, marvels when he hears McCovey is weak against southpaws. Spahn will testify that McCovey, if given the opportunity, will clobber tape measure drives, as far and as long against the lefties, as he does against the righties.

There is one distressing feature of the rookie homers. It makes the 61 home run record of Roger Maris shrink to the size of a comma. When kids in their virgin years as regulars can pump line drives in there, what is so great about the Maris record? But they say a home run is what fans want to see, so as long as the paying customers like it, you can bet it will remain.

Coming from behind as the Giants did again yesterday pulls the shades down on the invincible Yankees. You have just to look at them in a slump to realize that good pitching can do a lot of things but without runs, good pitching is wasted.

To these old eyes the turning point against the Giants yesterday was when Moose Skowron, with a triple and a single to his credit and runners on, and a base open, was pitched to. If ever there was a time to fill 'em up and play back for the double play, it was in this particular instance. But the Giant skipper, playing long odds, took a chance and the Yanks evened it up.

The next chance came for Alvin, which he played perfectly, was in allowing Hiller to hit with the bags loaded. And for that kindly gesture we all can overlook the other questionable move.

The 16 survivors will meet next Monday and wind up Oct. 22.

THE TAMING OF A WILDCAT

Wally Lourdeaux (white jersey) of Marin Catholic Wildcats caught a pass good for a 20-yard gain in first quarter of Saturday night's game with the Tamalpais Indians but was finally brought to a screeching halt by Tam's Warren Domino with an assist by Don Johnston (42). Tamalpais, the Marin Athletic League favorite, won the opener 19-0. (Independent-Journal photo)

Cal Really Bad Off At QB Post

When the 1962 football season began, California's greatest strength appeared to be quarterback depth and quality.

But now two-thirds of this asset—Randy Gold and Craig Morton—are gone, and Coach Marv Levy has a problem.

Morton, a sophomore touted as an eventual all-everything, hasn't played because of a bad knee and is still limping around on crutches.

Gold, a senior plagued for three years by injuries, is out for the season because of torn knee ligaments received Saturday against Pittsburgh.

"That really hurts our defense," said Levy yesterday to Northern California football writers in San Francisco. "Now we'll have to have Larry Balliett (the remaining third of the quarterback strength) out a lot when we're on defense so he can run the offense. We'll go with a sophomore on defense."

The sophomore is Jim Walter, who, with little game experience, must also back up Balliett on offense. Gold normally ran the offense, with Balliett serving as an excellent pass defender.

Levy said Duke, with a devastating passing attack, would severely test his defenders this week. "Against Florida last week they completed 12 in a row at one-point-seven on the same pattern."

STANFORD PROBLEM

"No other human being can run as slow as Hugh Campbell," said Curtice. "My problem is this. Do I put two men on him and embarrass them both or just one and embarrass only one?"

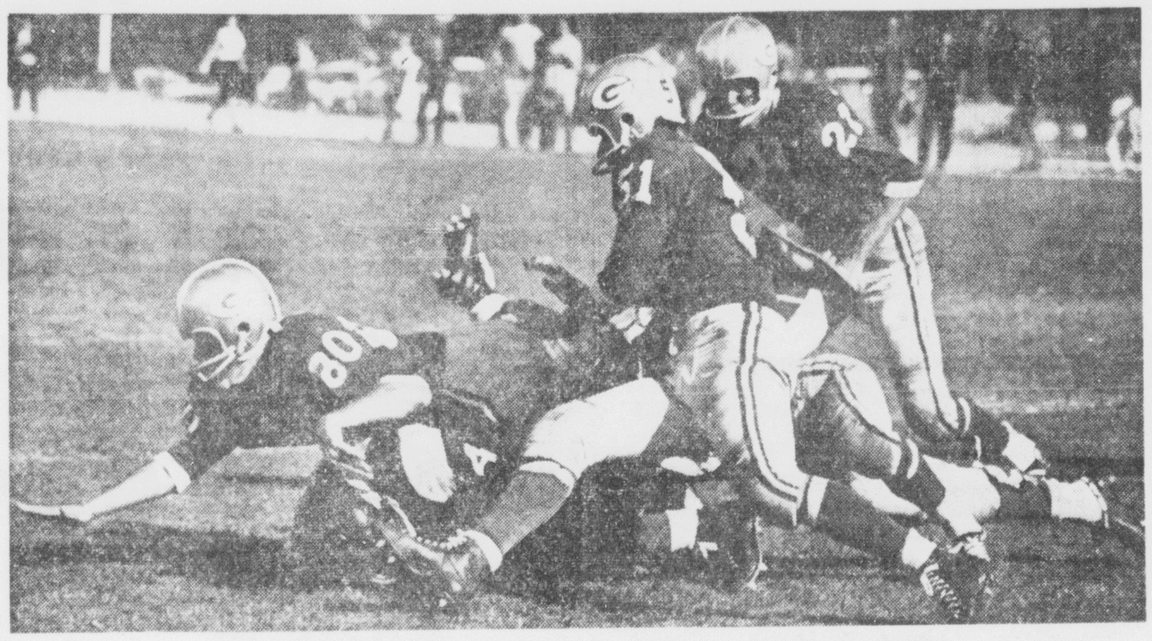

"I just don't know how that boy does it. That skalawag fascinates me." Campbell has led the nation in pass receiving for two seasons. Last week Stanford had its problems with Vern Burke of Oregon State, who is trying to unseat Campbell as the national leader, and lost 27-0.

Bob Titchenal, whose San Jose club lost 14-0 at Oregon, said the Ducks have a tremendous line—but he wasn't too impressed with highly-rated halfback Mel Renfro.

Johnny Johnson of San Jose and Frank Patitucci of Stanford, each outstanding in losing causes, were named Bay Area back and lineman of the week respectively.

GIANTS GANG UP ON A HORNET

Novato High School's John Miller was buried somewhere beneath that pile of Redwood tacklers during their Marin Athletic League opening game Saturday at Novato. Redwood tacklers did a great job on all the Hornet ball carriers as the Giants won 6-0 over the defending champs. Redwood players are Joel Tobiason (80), Phil Weil (51) and Dave Auerbach (21). Now Hickey Is Happy With 49ers

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers is slowly climbing back off that limb he found himself on two weeks ago.

The 49er mentor had repeatedly called the 1962 squad the best he has had in his tenure as head coach. The team then lost its first two games in ignominious fashion. But the Prospectors downed Minnesota Sept. 29, 21-7.

Today Hickey said that "this is the team I've been telling you about" after viewing films of the 49ers' 21-13 triumph of Baltimore Sunday. The score was misleading, for except for three costly fumbles, it could have been 42-13.

Hickey said "we just took the Colts head on and knocked them down."

The coach was also cheered by the injury report. Ed Pine, Ted Connolly, Clyde Conner and Jim Johnson were banged up in the Baltimore game, but all but Johnson are sure to be ready to go for Sunday's game at Chicago and Johnson probably will be in there too.

Bobby Gaiters missed the game with a charley horse, but was also expected to be ready for the Bears.

Hour Telecast Of Grand Prix Slated

A live and direct one-hour telecast of the 200-mile Riverside Grand Prix sports car races will be seen Sunday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. on KRON-TV, San Francisco, it was announced today.

RANDOL

Nobody knows just where the San Francisco 49ers are going, but at least they are heading in the right direction. Sunday's win over the Baltimore Colts 21 to 13 made it two in a row and evens the score for the season.

If you are looking for variety, the 49ers can give it to you. Every week it's a different team. In losing to Chicago, the Niners looked awful. In losing to Detroit they looked good. In beating the Minnesota Vikings there was little to brag about. And against the Colts the 49ers played their best game of the year.

WITH A COUPLE of exceptions, the humbling of the once mighty Baltimore club was a "picture book" win. Always at his best against the Colts, J. D. Smith exploited a weakness in the middle of the Colt line and ran like a souped up claimer in the third at Tanforan.

John Brodie, who couldn't hit for missing last week, riddled the Baltimore defense with 15 completions out of 19 attempts. Bernie Casey caught passes wherever they were thrown. The offensive line had charge, and the defense was rugged.

Wild Bill Kilmer had another great day, although his untimely fumble robbed the 49ers of a sure touchdown. Kilmer runs like a frightened antelope, and his arms have to balance the eccentric patterns of his feet. Result: fumbles.

PUTTING EVERYTHING together, give Coach Red Hickey and his assistants due credit for tying up the loose ends. It is not often that a coach can plan a game and see his plans executed the way he drew them on paper or the chalkboard.

And, as I keep yammering, consider the classic example of professional defense failing to adjust to surprise. On two separate occasions Kilmer was dropped into the quarterback spot with Brodie on the sidelines. Both times he rolled out for long gainers. Both times the Colt defense was caught looking.

Hickey still has not exploited the tremendous possibilities of Kilmer's talents, mostly because he has been too far ahead or too far behind. When the defense begin to look for the Kilmer rollout and begin to stack the ends, Bill will be able to pass over their heads to his choice of two or three receivers. Surprise again.

WITHOUT BOBBY Gaiters on offense and Jim Ridlon on defense, the 49ers filled the gaps. Brodie was on target because his protection was the best of the year. All signs point to a big revenge effort against the Chicago Bears next week, with all the stops pulled out. And don't pooh-pooh the idea.

The complete failure of ex-49er R. C. Owens to hurt his old club must have been real satisfaction to the front office. It is no secret that the brass felt that the Colts had let down the rest of the league when they signed the Ooper after he had played out his option in San Francisco.

You can not give the 49ers a rave notice as yet, but the improvement is noticeable. Everybody loves a winner.

'Bama No. 1 Grid Power

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Defending national champion Alabama shot back into the No. 1 position in the weekly Associated Press college football poll today while Ohio State tumbled all the way down to No. 10.

The Crimson Tide, replaced by Ohio State a week ago, compiled 445 points to outdistance Texas, in the No. 2 spot, and Penn State, which moved up to No. 3 Texas had 422 points and Penn State 321.

The points are compiled on a basis of 10 for a first place, 9 for a second and so on. A nation-wide panel of sports writers and sportscasters voted.

Texas, which crushed Tulane last week, 35-8, actually was the only club to give Alabama a run for its money. The Crimson Tide compiled 23 first-place votes to 20 for Texas. Alabama had a tough time beating Vanderbilt, 17-7, Penn State turned back Rice, 18-7.

Following the top three came Southern California, No. 4; Mississippi, No. 5; Louisiana State, No. 6; Washington, No. 7; Arkansas, No. 8; Purdue, No. 9 and Ohio State, No. 10.

The Buckeyes, beaten by UCLA, 9-7, dropped nine places.

Unbeaten Huskies Lead Statistics

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—University of Washington's unbeaten (but tied) Huskies lead the Big Six in three statistical departments, according to records released today.

The Huskies lead in total offense with 309 yards a game; in total defense, allowing 176 yards; and in rushing offense with 243 yards.

Southern California leads in rushing defense with 121 yards; Washington State tops the passing offense with 176 yards a game, and UCLA leads in passing defense, allowing only 47 yards in the one game it has played.

Warriors Beaten, But Chamberlain Hits 51

OLYMPIA, Wash. (UPI)—The Los Angeles Lakers scored a 129-111 exhibition game victory over the San Francisco Warriors last night despite 51 points by the losers' Wilt Chamberlain.

It was the first professional cage contest in the city's history.

Longden's Son Wins

Starlight Dancers Organized

Mrs. Bari Frohlich of San Rafael, director of the Junior Cotillion of Marin, announces the formation of a new dance group for high school students to be called the "Starlighters."

All students who have been members of the Junior Cotillion, the Dixie Junior Promenade or the St. Anselm's dance classes are eligible for membership in the Starlighters.

The 1962-63 series of dances will include four orchestra dances at the Masonic Hall in San Rafael and a dinner dance at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club. There will be no instruction given at these dances as all of the members will have had previous training in social dancing.

On Nov. 3, the "kick-off" dance will begin the series. The Christmas dance will feature a waltz contest and large trophies will be awarded to the winning couple.

The Starlighters are planning a Masquerade dance in February. Prizes will be given for the best costumes. A Coronation ball will be the theme of the April dance. Again prizes will be awarded to the boy and girl elected king and queen.

A dinner dance at the Peacock Gap Country Club will terminate the Starlighters' season.

Pa Not Free Agent In Food Selection

NEW YORK (UPI) — A survey by a baby food manufacturer shows that father may bring home the bacon but it's mother who tells him what and how much to buy.

The results of a survey on baby food buying were revealed at the 20th annual Newspaper Food Editors Conference.

Ninety-six per cent of the mothers questioned said that they alone decided what brands, varieties and quantities of baby food to buy, and did much of the shopping alone 88 per cent of the time. The study showed that 11 per cent of the fathers shopped alone but only one per cent of them were free agents in selecting brands, varieties and quantities.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

Guidance Counselor

Five Year Old Is Independent But He Admires His Parents

Do you have a five-year-old? I envy you. Five-year-olds are not placid, but they are fun.

Your boy is big stuff around the neighborhood. He's been there longer than the three and four-year-olds. He knows which folks can be depended upon for a cookie, and which neighbors are apt to scold him. He knows where the best throwing rocks are found, and which fences have holes in them. He isn't afraid to cook a meal, or do the laundry, or climb to the top of a shaky ladder. He understands about trees, swings, teeter-totters and slides. His confidence is sublime; his judgment is weak. No wonder five-year-olds are forever falling and getting hurt.

Probably your little boy is scrappy. He'll argue with his brother over anything, no matter how petty. He comes to blows with his buddies every now and then. Recently, I broke up a fist fight between two five-year-olds who were fighting over Santa Claus. Was Santa real or was he fake? The little guys were going at it hammer and tongs.

The other side of the picture is the way your five-year-old loves and admires you. Daddy is the greatest man ever born. His knowledge has no limits. He can do all things. Mama is the quintessence of perfection. She could even lick the other mamas on the block, if she wanted to.

School will help your five-year-old. In kindergarten he'll learn more about obedience. He'll develop surprising habits of generosity. He'll settle down. Suddenly a phase of his childhood will be over. When that time comes you'll miss your rambunctious young'n. Enjoy him while you can.

(A) Perhaps one in two hundred teaches herself to read at age four. Don't push your girl, but don't hold her back. Take her to the library. Have the woman in charge of the children's section help her get the right books.

Marin Women

Hose Hues Are Exotic

The oddest hosiery shades yet will be shimmering on the legs of women this winter, particularly women with heavy legs.

One new hue is an exotic blend of black and red. Another is a mixture of brown and green. And still another is a brown and black combination. The dark shades are slimming in appearance.

What kind of stockings do you wear under the new shoe boots?

For knee-high boots (lined with wool or orlon) wear bright-hued casual socks.

Copy Of Classics

Women who ride to the hounds are leaving their impression on any occasion sportswear. From hacking jacket to hunt coat to high boots and to frontier pants, the mark on fall sportswear is a copy of the classics. Other signs of the horsey-set's influence: stock shirts, rat catchers, ascot and scarf ties.

A Favorite For Suburban Living— The Beret Comes Cropping Up On Masculine Pates World Over

You see it on men in buses, on the street. Numerous sports car drivers are addicted to it. So are the country squire types and the dashing collegiate set. Even businessmen.

A number of stores which never stocked the Basque shepherd's standard headgear have added it to their cap departments. Other stores which have carried it for 25 years report a steady surge in its popularity.

Suburban living has created more freedom of dress. Sports car chauffeurs like the beret for its practicality, especially with the car top down. The increase in international travel has affected men's headwear styles. Men have had more "exposure" to the French beret through travel, although one well-traveled male said the only beret he saw in Paris on a recent trip "were on American tourists."

Research into origin of the beret indicates it may have been a part of masculine apparel of ancient Greece. Early Greek and Roman travelers are believed to have introduced the beret to the Basque country. Today, France is the principal source of the beret. The Scots have another variation called the tam o'shanter.

Who is the beret type?

One store buyer said: "We get a lot of middleaged men with receding hairlines and portly figures who consider the beret the most becoming thing for a round face."

But it's selling all ages, from campus to country club set. (UPI)

Pressure Gauge

No one can prophesy the future of fashion because "no one can prophesy the future of the world." So says James Laver, curator emeritus of the Victoria and Albert Museum, London. "I am one of those who believe that the two things cannot be separated," Laver continues.

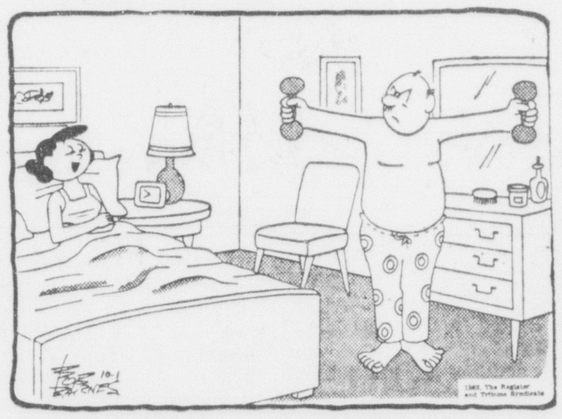

"Furthermore, I am unable to accept the 'hard-headed' opinion that fashions are dictated by half a dozen business men who sit in Paris and decide what women are going to do next," he said. "Fashion is much more profound than that—in fact, it is nothing less than the blood-pressure gauge of Western civilization."

Laver made his comments during a visit to the United States to receive an award from a Dallas store.

Salad Or Dessert

Spice a fruit gelatin mold with red cinnamon candies. Add ¼ cup candies to 1½ cups hot water and ¼ cup syrup from canned fruit cocktail. Add a package of lemon gelatin, stirring until dissolved. When partially set, stir in 1 cup drained canned fruit cocktail. Chill until firm and serve as dinner salad or refreshing dessert.

YOUR HOUSEHOLD

To Amuse A Sick Child Take Cap And Plant Seeds

To amuse a sick child, take a colorful cap from a shampoo or detergent container and plant a few seeds in regular soil. Enclose an eye dropper for watering the flower pot. Lentil seeds, used for soup, sprout quickly into vines.

To clean a driveway, sidewalk, patio or garage in a matter of minutes, scrub all surfaces with hot soap or detergent suds and a broom. Then use a garden hose to wash away loosened dirt, oil drip and leaves.

To show paintings to their best advantage, hang them on a wall painted white. In this ways the colors in the painting will not be affected by their background.

For easy to see earring boxes, save your plastic zipper containers and pill bottles. These are also handy containers to use in sewing boxes and bathroom medicine cabinets.

When cutting fabrics laminated to foam, place pattern on right side of fabric. When folded, with foam sides together, fabric is unlikely to slip, and requires relatively little pinning. No shrinking is needed.

Label raincoats, coats, hats and other gear Junior and Janie wear to school and parks. For small children especially, make the letters big enough to be seen from a distance. This method eases the "lost articles" problem for child, you and school hands.

Make a record of immunizations your kindergarten tot has had to date. Most schools expect this as a routine part of admission.

Geometric designs, fashioned of colored plastic tape, help a child to spot his boots when they're lined up with 25 other pairs in school. The toe or back of boot is a good place to stick the identifying design.

Include low-calorie snacks in the school lunch box if a youngster of yours has a weight problem. Celery, carrots, apples and such are better than candy and cakes for the youngster who wants to lose weight.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

Respond In Opponent's Suit To Show Game-Going Hand

Today we continue our discussion of bids in the enemy's suit. You make such a bid surprisingly often in response to your partner's takeout double.

Opening lead — ◇ 4

In today's hand North wants to get to game since he has 13 points in high cards opposite a takeout double.

Since North doesn't want to guess whether spades or hearts will make a better trump suit he bids the enemy's suit to thrust the choice back on South.

INTERFERENCE

Because of interference bidding the choice takes place at the level of game. North is quite satisfied with this because he has full values for game.

Occasionally a cue-bid of this kind is dropped below game. For example, if West had kept quiet North would have bid only two diamonds, and South would have bid only two spades.

North would bid four spades with the actual hand but would bid only three if his hand were slightly weaker. Then South, if his hand also were slightly weaker, might pass.

COURAGE NEEDED

Very seldom are both partners willing to stop at three of a major, and very seldom does the bidding give them this choice. As a practical matter, the cue-bid in response to a takeout double is almost invariably a force to game.

At four spades South will win ten or eleven tricks, declarer ruffs the second diamond, draws trumps and gives up dummy's queen of clubs to the king.

Dummy must ruff the diamond return, and declarer continues with the hearts.

MUST DECIDE

Eventually, declarer leads a low club from dummy and must decide whether to play the ace or finesse with the 10. At rubber bridge South should play the ace to make sure of his contract. At duplicate, South should finesse.

If North had to choose the game, he would probably bid hearts rather than spades.

Then he would be in an inferior contract, and the bad trump break might prove disastrous.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Drug reactions are so variable it is difficult to answer the question, "What symptoms occur when there is a reaction to aspirin?" Physicians make a distinction between side effects, intolerance, or sensitivity to drugs. All are reactions but the cause and manifestations vary.

The more serious reactions stem from allergy. The individual is sensitive to aspirin and develops a rash, hives, swelling of the face, or a severe asthmatic attack after taking one tablet. Occasionally a person is so highly sensitive, shock ensues within a few minutes and, unless treated promptly, death occurs.

IN OTHER INSTANCES, the allergic reactions are somewhat different. Some develop fever or arthritis, with swollen, painful joints. In others, the white blood cells are destroyed, leaving the individual with little or no defense against infection. Reactions of this type may persist despite withdrawal of the medicine — less so with aspirin than with penicillin. Prompt relief usually follows the use of ephedrine, an antihistaminic, or one of the corticosteroids such as cortisone.

Toxic reactions to aspirin usually stem from overdosage and include nausea, vomiting, flushing of the skin, ringing of the ears, deafness, and drowsiness. Mental disturbances have been noted and some bleed from the stomach or from other organs.

ASPIRIN ALSO is the most common cause of accidental poisoning in children. The youngsters develop a severe acidosis and the condition is suspected when they become drowsy and breathe rapidly after taking aspirin (often chocolate-covered and mistaken for candy). The stomach must be pumped out and fluids are given by vein to combat the overacidity.

A few persons are unusually sensitive to the normal action of a drug and develop all the signs of toxicity even though only a small amount is taken. One aspirin, for example, makes them nauseated or leads to ringing of the ears. This is drug intolerance, or an idiosyncrasy; the individual says "I just can't take aspirin because it makes me ill."

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

SWOLLEN ANKLES

Mrs. V. writes: I'm heavy and my ankles swell after being on my feet all day. I like to sleep with my legs elevated on a cushion. Is this a safe thing to do?

REPLY

Yes, but it may not prevent swelling during the day. This symptom deserves investigation, even though the cause may never be found. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on edema of the legs.

NICKEL ALLOY

Mrs. L. writes: I had my rings reset from yellow to white gold and whenever I wear them my ring finger enlarges. Do you think I'm allergic to white gold?

REPLY

No, but you may be allergic to nickel, which is a constituent of white gold.

BONE DEAFNESS

Mrs. J. S. writes: Since otosclerosis is a progressive loss of hearing, how long does it take to get completely deaf?

REPLY

It varies with the individual and with each ear. Deafness may progress slowly or rapidly or become inactive.

INHERITED BALDNESS

H. C. D. writes: Is male baldness inherited through the mother?

REPLY

Deflation Is Bugaboo To Some Investors

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Deflation is the new bugaboo of a small but growing group of stock market and business observers.

A few months back a more vocal group was worrying about prices of goods and marked cheapening of the dollar.

Some of them still are, mainly because the prospects of an increasing treasury deficit could pressure monetary inflation.

But more are now talking about the prospect of deflation. That is, a drop in commodity prices and those of basic industrial products, and still weaker stock prices that might forecast, and nurture, a recession that could become world wide.

Just as the inflationary scare has yet to show any signs of materializing, so deflationary fears here and abroad may be only borrowing of trouble.

Weakness of stock markets in the United States, followed by declining markets in many other financial centers, has set the stage for the deflation specter. A bear market brings all sorts of pessimists out of the wings under the gaze of a disillusioned public.

More factual is a long period in which most commodity prices have remained below their former highs. Some industrial prices are being cut. Example: weakness in some steel product prices.

Farther afield, those who talk of a chance of deflation ahead base it on fears a new recession may be in the making for the United States next year. And they think this might involve other nations. Already England has been slowing down. Japan has been showing some internal trouble spots. West Germany's postwar boom has lost some of its shine.

Both U. S. government and corporate economists have been stressing that the inflationary boom that followed World War II apparently has ended.

But this doesn't mean that deflation is inevitable.

While commodity and industrial material prices have been weak, most retail prices haven't —as you doubtless know. All of the manufacturing, distribution and servicing costs that come between the prime producer and the consumer have gone on rising. And so have the costs of the multiplying personal services that play an ever greater role in your life.

So deflation is unlikely to show any time soon at the consumer level. At present it is a worry for the prime producers and for manufacturers faced with competition that seems to grow on all sides, both at home and from abroad. And it will be a worry for stock traders, since many of the biggest corporations are in the producing or processing fields.

The problem is whether they can keep their prices high enough to assure healthy profit margins.

'Killer' Shark Taken In Canal

The boys were fishing in the canal when Blake felt a tug on his line and began reeling in. When they saw the shark, Beadling scooped it up with his fish net.

Blake, a seventh grade student at Kentfield School, Kentfield, said the shark had teeth, a dorsal fin and was identified as a killer shark by an adult fisherman in the area. The shark, which measured 20 inches, was put in a can of water and died later in the day.

Bank Bag Found, No Money In It

A bank bag stolen in burglary of the Alvarado Elementary School in Alameda County was found Saturday night in Corte Madera Creek, but with no money inside, Police Chief Howard Clark of Larkspur reported yesterday.

Chief Clark said John C. Thoelecke of 25 Alta Mira Court, Kentfield, found the bag in the creek behind Larkspur Firehouse 2 in Greenbrae. Inside were Bank of America savings books and envelopes for school lunchroom receipts.

The Alameda County sheriff's office reported the bag contained less than $10 in lunchroom receipts when it was stolen from the school in a burglary Oct. 1 or 2.

Larkspur Planners Due Apartment Plan

Architectural supervision for 10 apartments planned by the Jebb Development Co. in Assessment District 30 on Corte Madera Creek will be considered by the Larkspur Planning Commission meeting at 8 p.m. today in the city hall.

A condominium map for an apartment development by Heiman-McCall in Bon Air subdivision 4 will be reviewed. Commissioners will continue discussing a proposed new subdivision ordinance.

Your Independent-Journal is Your Market Place

In newspapers the news of better products and services is as important to today's modern family as that of current events or features concerning home and family, food and fashion, hobbies and health.

For newspapers are the medium by which most people shop. No other medium supplies the variety and detail of advertising by which one may compare prices and benefits and choose the comforts and conveniences that make for a full living standard.

There's much significance in this for local advertisers. For only in the newspaper can people of all age and income groups find the information and inspiration so necessary for good citizenship and for the enjoyment of a better way of life.

And because newspapers gain their friendship and regular readership, newspaper advertisers are provided the most productive medium of communication with customers.

United Crusade Luncheon Slated

For the first time, a Bay Area-wide United Crusade report luncheon will be held in Marin. It is scheduled for noon Thursday at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

A. L. Nieri will preside in the absence of Burton R. Kirchner, Marin campaign chairman, who is out of town.

The meeting will be the second of the current United Bay Area Crusade campaign. Progress reports will be made by campaign leaders from Marin and the other counties in the UBAC organization.
